Migration to Habsha (Ethiopia)

Exercise: Answer the following Questions

Question: 1. Describe the meaning and importance of migration.

Answer: According to the teachings of Islam, the literal meaning of 'Migration' (Hijrat) is leaving a place where one cannot follow the religion freely, and to leave for a peaceful land where the religion may be followed without any restriction. Islam is the most important element in the life of a Muslim; he always remains prepared to sacrifice even his dearest thing, and he remains ready to migrate from any place if he faces difficulty there in following the religion.

Question: 2. Where is Habsha located and what is it call nowadays?

Answer: Habsha is an African country, presently called 'Ethiopia'. Its king was called 'Negus' (Najashi) at that time, and he was a kind hearted and virtuous king.

Question: 3. Why did the Muslims migrate to Habsha?

Answer: When the persecution of the unbelievers increased on the Muslims in Makkah Mukarramah, Allah commanded Nabi Karim (PBUH) to say to the Muslims: "It is better for you to migrate towards Habsha, where the king is kind hearted and virtuous, and not cruel, therefore you should stay till Allah Almighty remove your trouble." So the Muslims migrated to Habsha to protect themselves from persecution and to follow their religion in peace.

Question: 4. Who represented the Muslims in Najashi's court?

Answer: Hazrat Ja'far Tayyaar (RA), the cousin of Nabi Karim (PBUH), represented the Muslims in Najashi's court. He delivered an impressive speech and, on the king's asking, recited few Ayat from Surah-e-Maryam, in which the detail of Hazrat Eisa (AS) and his respected mother is mentioned; by listening to Allah's Ayahs, Najashi became tearful.

Question: 5. What did delegations of Quraish say to Najashi?

Answer: The Quraish sent two wise men, Abdullah bin Rabeeaa and Amr bin Al-Aas, to Najashi along with precious gifts. They misleadingly said to Najashi: "O King! The heads of Makkah Mukarramah have sent us to you with the purpose that some of our slaves fled from Makkah Mukarramah and they living in your country, they have adopted a new religion, and they are also against our religion, so handover them to us." But Najashi was a just and wise king; he called the Muslims to hear their point of view and, in the end, reassured them that they can live in the country peacefully.

Besiegement in Shi'b Abi Talib and the Year of Sorrow

Exercise: Answer the following questions

Question: 1. What is the meaning of 'Shi'b Abi Talib' and why is it called 'Shi'b Abi Talib'?

Answer: 'Shi'b' means the 'narrow land' or 'valley' between two mountains. This valley belonged to the Banu Hashim family, which was headed by Hazrat Abu Talib, due to which the valley was called 'Shi'b Abi Talib'.

Question: 2. Which year is called 'the year of sorrow' and why? Write it.

Answer: The 10th year of Nabuwwat is called 'the year of sorrow', because in this year the uncle of Nabi Karim (PBUH), Hazrat Abu Talib, and his loyal wife Hazrat Khadija (RA) died. They both not only sacrificed their wealth to Nabi Karim (PBUH) but also put their lives in danger and kept on helping and supporting him; their deaths made him helpless apparently.

Question: 3. What difficulties did the family of Banu Hashim faced in Shi'b Abi Talib?

Answer: All the men, women and children of the Banu Hashim family went into the valley carrying eating items with them. When the eating items were finished off, they remained hungry for days, and they survived by eating tree leaves and leather pieces. Nabi Karim (PBUH) and his companions remained in this situation for three years.

Question: 4. What did the Quraish decided in the agreement?

Answer: In the agreement, the chiefs of Makkah Mukarramah pledged that: negotiation with Banu Hashim is no more; no one will make any business with them; no one will do marriage contracts with them; and they will be cut off until they handover Nabi Karim (PBUH) to them. They prepared this agreement jointly and hanged it on the wall of Khana-e-Ka'aba.

Question: 5. How the agreement was ended?

Answer: Allah Almighty helped the Muslims in the way that the agreement hanged on the wall of Ka'aba was eaten by termite. Besides, Hisham bin Amr also condemned the chiefs of Makkah Mukarramah that the agreement was a cruel act. So the agreement was broken off in the 10th year of Nabuwwat, and Nabi Karim (PBUH) and his associates came out of the besiege.

Exercise: Fill in the blanks

Question: 4. Narrate the journey from Makkah Mukarramah to Madinah Munawwarah.

Answer: In Makkah Mukarramah, the persecution of the unbelievers crossed the limits and they planned to murder Nabi Karim (PBUH); Abu Jahal suggested that one person from each tribe remain prepared to attack. Allah Almighty allowed Nabi Karim (PBUH) to migrate to Madinah Munawwarah. He decided to accompany Hazrat Abu Bakr (RA) with him, and before migration he handed over the trusts of the unbelievers to Hazrat Ali (RA) and ordered him to return the deposited things to their owners. The unbelievers besieged his house, but by Allah's help he came out safely, reached Hazrat Abu Bakr's (RA) house and departed. As a strategy, they remained in the cave 'Soar' (Thawr) for three days, where Hazrat Abu Bakr's (RA) slave Hazrat Amir bin Fuhaira (RA) and his daughter Hazrat Asma (RA) brought meal and goat's milk for them. After three days they departed for Madinah Munawwarah. The unbelievers announced the prize of 100 camels for arresting him; Suraqa bin Ju'shum searched and found them, but his horse stumbled again and again, so he became regretful, apologized, and he was forgiven. Nabi Karim (PBUH) reached safely to the town Quba, stayed for 14 days and founded Masjid-e-Quba. Then he reached Madinah Munawwarah, where he was welcomed warmly and little girls sang a song of praise in his honour.

Question: 5. What three important tasks were done by Nabi Karim (PBUH) after reaching Madinah Munawwarah?

Answer: The three important tasks were: (1) Nabi Karim (PBUH) founded a Masjid in Madinah Munawwarah, 'Masjid-e-Nabawi', and participated himself in the construction of this Masjid. (2) He associated the migrants of Makkah Mukarramah with the residents of Madinah Munawwarah as brothers; this relationship is called 'Muwaakhaat', and in this manner the people of Madinah Munawwarah (Ansaar) helped the empty hand Migrants (Muhajireen). (3) He made a written treaty with the Jews of Madinah Munawwarah, called 'Meesaq-e-Madinah Munawwarah', which was the first written constitution of the newly established Islamic state, so that all the residents of Madinah Munawwarah may live together with love, affection and peace.
