conquer, never fear, Try again. — 1. 9. You will conquer, never fear, Try again. — 1. 10. Time will bring you your reward, Try again; — 3. 11. If we strive, 'tis no disgrace — 2.

Question: Write a summary of the poem. You can use the explanations in the exercise above to write the summary. However, instead of 'you' write 'we' and instead of 'your' write 'our'.

Answer: We should pay attention to the lesson: try again. If we do not succeed at first, we should try again. If we fail once or twice, we should try again. If we strive, it is no disgrace though we do not win the race. If we find our task hard, we should try again. Time will bring us our reward. All that other folks can do, why, with patience, may not we? We should always keep this rule in view: try again.

Question: In groups of three, roleplay the following dialogue. Change roles, and practise the dialogue two more times so that each student gets to play all the three roles. Nadeem: Going to Murree in January is a stupid idea. Sameer: I don't agree with you, Nadeem. I think it's a great idea. Saleh: Why do you think it is a bad idea, Nadeem? Nadeem: I hate the cold weather. If we go there in the summer we can really enjoy ourselves. Sameer: You have a point. If you don't like the cold weather you will not be able to enjoy yourself. Saleh: Yes, but many of us want to see the snow. That's why we want to go in January. Nadeem: I think, playing with a cricket ball is much more fun than playing with snowballs. Sameer: I think different people like different things. We should accept their wishes also. Saleh: Tell you what, this year we can go in January and next year we can go in June.

Answer: Roleplay the dialogue in groups of three: each student plays all three roles — Nadeem, Sameer and Saleh. Then discuss your village/town/city: what is good or bad in it. Use phrases like 'I think', 'I agree/don't agree', 'You have a point', 'Yes, but', etc.
