English Grammar and Composition

Solved Exercises — Classes 9–10 combined

Classes 9–10 Combined — Solved Exercises — PCTB

Parts of Speech — Pronoun, Adjective and Articles

Exercise — Correct form of personal pronoun

Exercise 1. Naureen and _____ were present. (I, me)

I

Exercise 2. It was Salma _____ called on you. (who, whom) who

Exercise 3. It might have been _____. (he, him)

he

Exercise 4. You are taller than _____. (he, him) him

Exercise 5. He is a better batsman than _____. (we, us) us

Exercise 6. Is that Shilla? Yes, it is _____. (she, her) her

Exercise 7. Nobody but _____ was absent. (she, her) she

Exercise 8. She and _____ are good friends. (I, me)

I

Exercise 9. Your pen writes better than _____. (her, hers)

hers

Exercise 10. These books are not _____. (her, hers)

hers

Exercise 11. He lost his bat and we _____. (our, ours)

ours

Exercise 12. The bike which has been stolen is not _____. (his, him) his

Exercise — Correct form of adjective

Exercise 1. She is _____ than I. (pretty) prettier

Exercise 2. My father is _____ than Ali's father. (old) older

Exercise 3. My father is the _____ man in town. (rich) richest

Exercise 4. Your composition is the _____ of all. (bad) worst

Exercise 5. She is _____ than her sister. (beautiful) more beautiful

Exercise 6. This is the _____ tree in the garden. (tall)

tallest

Exercise 7. He was carrying the _____ load of all. (heavy) heaviest

Exercise 8. The water of this well is _____. (sweet) sweet

Exercise 9. She is a _____ woman. (wise)

wise

Exercise 10. This is the _____ question of all. (difficult)

most difficult

Exercise 11. Prevention is _____ than cure. (good) better

Exercise 12. She is _____ than her elder sister. (wise) wiser

Exercise 13. He is the _____ of all the brothers. (tall)

tallest

Exercise 14. She is the _____ girl I have ever seen. (sweet) sweetest

Exercise — Use a, an or the where necessary

Exercise 1. _____ cat is a loving animal.

The

Exercise 2. _____ table is made of wood.

The

Exercise 3. _____ child drinks milk.

A

Exercise 4. We eat rice with _____ spoon.

a

Exercise 5. _____ mango has _____ sweet taste.

A, a

Exercise 6. I want _____ cup of coffee.

a

Exercise 7. We write on _____ paper.

No article is used. We write on paper. Paper is an uncountable noun, so no article is needed.

Exercise 8. Please give me _____ piece of paper.

a

Exercise 9. _____ door of _____ room is broken.

The, the Exercise 10. There is _____ chair in _____ corner.

a, the Exercise 11. We write with _____ pen.

a

Exercise 12. We write _____ letter.

a

Exercise 13. I like _____ butter.

No article is used. I like butter. Butter is an uncountable noun, so no article is needed.

Exercise 14. I eat _____ bread.

No article is used. I eat bread. Bread is an uncountable noun, so no article is needed.

Exercise 15. I am eating _____ piece of bread.

a

Exercise — Supply suitable adjectives

Exercise 1. The _____ man does not have a place to live.

homeless

Exercise 2. He is a/an _____ child.

orphan

Exercise 3. This is a/an _____ book.

interesting

Exercise 4. Karachi is a/an _____ city.

big

Exercise 5. A hand has _____ fingers.

five

Exercise 6. _____ men must die.

All

Exercise 7. I have not eaten _____ meat.

any

Exercise 8. There are not _____ plates on the table.

many

Exercise 9. _____ mangoes are sour.

These

Exercise 10. I like _____ jerseys.

woollen

Tenses

Exercise — Present tense, indefinite or continuous

Exercise 1. She (love) her cat very much.

She loves her cat very much.

Exercise 2. He (go) to school everyday.

He goes to school everyday.

Exercise 3. It (rain) at present.

It is raining at present.

Exercise 4. They (take) tea every morning.

They take tea every morning.

Exercise 5. Good students always (work) hard.

Good students always work hard.

Exercise 6. The earth (revolve) around the sun.

The earth revolves around the sun.

Exercise 7. She (learn) French at present.

She is learning French at present.

Exercise 8. They (not do) their work regularly.

They do not do their work regularly.

Exercise 9. Shahida (sing) a sad song today.

Shahida is singing a sad song today.

Exercise 10. They always (come) back home late.

They always come back home late.

Exercise 11. She (speak) English now.

She is speaking English now.

Exercise 12. She (speak) English quite well.

She speaks English quite well.

Exercise 13. The baby (cry) for milk now.

The baby is crying for milk now.

Exercise 14. They (go) to sleep at ten.

They go to sleep at ten.

Exercise 15. He (not keep) me waiting.

He is not keeping me waiting.

Exercise — Present perfect or present perfect continuous Exercise 1. I already (take) three cups of coffee.

I have already taken three cups of coffee.

Exercise 2. I (not see) you since Monday.

I have not seen you since Monday.

Exercise 3. My brother (not write) to me for ten years.

My brother has not written to me for ten years.

Exercise 4. She (learn) French for over two years.

She has been learning French for over two years.

Exercise 5. The book (lie) on the table for weeks.

The book has been lying on the table for weeks.

Exercise 6. He (not speak) to me since March.

He has not spoken to me since March.

Exercise 7. She (sleep) since morning.

She has been sleeping since morning.

Exercise 8. How long you (wait) here?

How long have you been waiting here?

Exercise 9. He (stand) in the sun for an hour.

He has been standing in the sun for an hour.

Exercise 10. She (work) in this office for seven years.

She has been working in this office for seven years.

Exercise 11. They (not eat) anything since morning.

They have not eaten anything since morning.

Exercise 12. They already (do) their home task.

They have already done their home task.

Exercise 13. I already (post) the letter.

I have already posted the letter.

Exercise 14. The fire (burn) at night for two hours.

The fire has been burning at night for two hours.

Exercise 15. You (rest) since morning.

You have been resting since morning.

Exercise — Past tense, indefinite or continuous Exercise 1. It (begin) to rain an hour ago.

It began to rain an hour ago.

Exercise 2. How long ago you (come) here?

How long ago did you come here?

Exercise 3. She (not hear) any noise.

She did not hear any noise.

Exercise 4. He (ride) a bike when he (meet) an accident.

He was riding a bike when he met an accident.

Exercise 5. He (leave) twenty minutes ago.

He left twenty minutes ago.

Exercise 6. I (go) to airport when I (see) her.

I was going to airport when I saw her.

Exercise 7. The light (go out) when we (have) dinner.

The light went out when we were having dinner.

Exercise 8. She (sing) a song when I (enter) the room.

She was singing a song when I entered the room.

Exercise 9. I (meet) her in the plane.

I met her in the plane.

Exercise 10. I (make) tea when the door bell (ring).

I was making tea when the door bell rang.

Exercise 11. He (not reply) to my letter.

He did not reply to my letter.

Exercise 12. I (buy) this motor bike only a month ago.

I bought this motor bike only a month ago.

Exercise 13. I (not listen) when you (talk).

I was not listening when you were talking.

Exercise 14. The farmer (plough) the field when it (start) raining.

The farmer was ploughing the field when it started raining.

Exercise 15. The bus (move) while I (board) it.

The bus was moving while I boarded it.

Exercise — Past perfect or past perfect continuous

Exercise 1. After you (leave) I went to sleep.

After you had left, I went to sleep.

Exercise 2. They (take) their breakfast after they had washed their hands.

They had taken their breakfast after they had washed their hands.

Exercise 3. I (work) on this assignment for a month.

I had been working on this assignment for a month.

Exercise 4. Ali (prepare) for his examination since October.

Ali had been preparing for his examination since October.

Exercise 5. She (ask) why we had wanted to leave early.

She had asked why we had wanted to leave early.

Exercise 6. I asked her what places she (visit) in Europe.

I asked her what places she had visited in Europe.

Exercise 7. The sun (not rise) before we were ready to leave.

The sun had not risen before we were ready to leave.

Exercise 8. I had never seen snow before I (go) to Murree.

I had never seen snow before I went to Murree.

Exercise 9. Aslam (swim) for three hours.

Aslam had been swimming for three hours.

Exercise 10. The bus (stop) before we stepped out.

The bus had stopped before we stepped out.

Exercise — Future tense, indefinite or continuous Exercise 1. You (no understand) it.

You will not understand it.

Exercise 2. This watch (not cost) very much.

This watch will not cost very much.

Exercise 3. She (work) hard for the competition.

She will work hard for the competition.

Exercise 4. I (finish) this exercise in an hour's time.

I shall finish this exercise in an hour's time.

Exercise 5. I (not have) much money.

I shall not have much money.

Exercise 6. What you (do) at four?

What will you be doing at four?

Exercise 7. They (travel) all night.

They will be travelling all night.

Exercise 8. I (wait) for you at the usual time.

I shall be waiting for you at the usual time.

Exercise 9. She (learn) her lesson in French in the morning.

She will be learning her lesson in French in the morning.

Exercise — Future perfect or future perfect continuous Exercise 1. She (finish) her work before the guests arrive.

She will have finished her work before the guests arrive.

Exercise 2. They (write) their exercise by the time the teacher arrives.

They will have written their exercise by the time the teacher arrives.

Exercise 3. She (return) from the tour of Europe by the middle of December next.

She will have returned from the tour of Europe by the middle of December next.

Exercise 4. The farmers (reap) the harvest before the rains.

The farmers will have reaped the harvest before the rains.

Exercise 5. These mangoes (reach) the market by April.

These mangoes will have reached the market by April.

Exercise 6. I (read) all the novels of Golding by the end of summer vacation.

I shall have read all the novels of Golding by the end of summer vacation.

Exercise 7. The meeting (end) by the time we gather.

The meeting will have ended by the time we gather.

Exercise 8. I hope it (stop) raining by the evening.

I hope it will have stopped raining by the evening.

Exercise 9. She (take) her examination by the next fall.

She will have taken her examination by the next fall.

Exercise 10. They (complete) their work by tomorrow.

They will have completed their work by tomorrow.

Active and Passive Voice

Exercise — Change into passive voice

Exercise 1. She likes apples.

Apples are liked by her.

Exercise 2. The boy is climbing the wall.

The wall is being climbed by the boy.

Exercise 3. We did not hear a sound.

No sound was heard by us.

Exercise 4. They have bought a horse.

A horse has been bought by them.

Exercise 5. The Board has given me a gold medal.

I have been given a gold medal by the Board.

Exercise 6. He praised the boy for his courage.

The boy was praised by him for his courage.

Exercise 7. The teacher was helping the students.

The students were being helped by the teacher.

Exercise 8. Why were they beating the boy?

Why was the boy being beaten by them?

Exercise 9. They have not done their job.

Their job has not been done by them.

Exercise 10. A car ran over an old man.

An old man was run over by a car.

Exercise 11. He will give you a box of chocolates.

You will be given a box of chocolates by him.

Exercise 12. He had told me to do it.

I had been told by him to do it.

Exercise 13. They had not done their home task.

Their home task had not been done by them.

Exercise 14. We shall have finished our work by March next.

Our work will have been finished by us by March next.

Exercise 15. He took away my books.

My books were taken away by him.

Exercise 16. The sudden noise frightened the child.

The child was frightened by the sudden noise.

Exercise 17. We use milk for making cheese.

Milk is used for making cheese by us.

Exercise 18. Why is he mending the chair?

Why is the chair being mended by him?

Exercise 19. The doctor asked her to stay in bed.

She was asked by the doctor to stay in bed.

Exercise 20. They caught the thief.

The thief was caught by them.

Direct and Indirect Speech

Exercise — Indirect narration of statements

Exercise 1. She said, I like clouds in the sky.

She said that she liked clouds in the sky.

Exercise 2. He said, I am unwell.

He said that he was unwell.

Exercise 3. He said to her, I live in this building.

He told her that he lived in that building.

Exercise 4. They said, Our teacher is on leave.

They said that their teacher was on leave.

Exercise 5. Arif and Ayesha said to their mother, We like mangoes.

Arif and Ayesha told their mother that they liked mangoes.

Exercise 6. She said, I am helping my mother in the kitchen.

She said that she was helping her mother in the kitchen.

Exercise 7. He said, I am watering the plants in the garden.

He said that he was watering the plants in the garden.

Exercise 8. Afshan said, I am sewing mother's shirt.

Afshan said that she was sewing her mother's shirt.

Exercise 9. He said, They are not doing their duty well.

He said that they were not doing their duty well.

Exercise 10. He said to me, You are not running very fast.

He told me that I was not running very fast.

Exercise 11. They said, We have done our duty.

They said that they had done their duty.

Exercise 12. The teacher said to us, You have not completed your drawing.

The teacher told us that we had not completed our drawing.

Exercise 13. She said, They have not eaten their meals.

She said that they had not eaten their meals.

Exercise 14. The teacher said, I have often told you not to play with fire.

The teacher said that he had often told us not to play with fire.

Exercise 15. My brother said to me, You have missed the point completely.

My brother told me that I had missed the point completely.

Exercise 16. He said, I completed my drawing half an hour ago.

He said that he had completed his drawing half an hour before.

Exercise 17. She said, I did not go to school yesterday.

She said that she had not gone to school the day before.

Exercise 18. He said, She sang a beautiful ghazal at the concert last night.

He said that she had sung a beautiful ghazal at the concert the night before.

Exercise 19. She said, He rang me up at twelve midnight.

She said that he had rung her up at twelve midnight.

Exercise 20. He said, The boys did not put up a good show last night.

He said that the boys had not put up a good show the night before.

Exercise 21. She said, I shall never do such a thing.

She said that she would never do such a thing.

Exercise 22. Afshan said, They will wait for us for an hour only.

Afshan said that they would wait for them for an hour only.

Exercise 23. They said, We shall never make a promise, we cannot fulfil.

They said that they would never make a promise they could not fulfil.

Exercise 24. He said, I shall explain this to you only if you listen to me with patience.

He said that he would explain that to me only if I listened to him with patience.

Exercise 25. He said, I hope you will not repeat this mistake.

He said that he hoped I would not repeat that mistake.

Exercise — Indirect narration of questions

Exercise 1. She said, Is this your book?

She asked whether that was his book.

Exercise 2. He said, Do you have any share in this firm?

He asked whether he had any share in that firm.

Exercise 3. They said, Have you ever visited Murree Hills?

They asked whether he had ever visited Murree Hills.

Exercise 4. He said, Are not you ashamed of yourself?

He asked whether he was not ashamed of himself.

Exercise 5. The teacher said, Did you do your home task yesterday?

The teacher asked whether they had done their home task the day before.

Exercise 6. The mother said, Did not I ask you not to go there?

The mother asked whether she had not asked them not to go there.

Exercise 7. Rehana said, Will you stop interfering in my work?

Rehana asked whether he would stop interfering in her work.

Exercise 8. The mother said, Shall we invite the Qureshis also?

The mother asked whether they should invite the Qureshis also.

Exercise 9. Adnan said, Had you left Karachi before writing this letter?

Adnan asked whether he had left Karachi before writing that letter.

Exercise 10. The judge said, Have you anything more to say?

The judge asked whether he had anything more to say.

Exercise 11. He said, What do you want me to do?

He asked what he wanted him to do.

Exercise 12. The mother said, How did you fail in your examination?

The mother asked how he had failed in his examination.

Exercise 13. Raza said, Where are you going?

Raza asked where he was going.

Exercise 14. The teacher said, Whose book is it?

The teacher asked whose book it was.

Exercise 15. The teacher said, Who is the author of this book?

The teacher asked who the author of that book was.

Exercise 16. The stranger said, Which is the way to the Shalimar Garden?

The stranger asked which the way to the Shalimar Garden was.

Exercise 17. The manager said, How do you propose to solve this problem?

The manager asked how he proposed to solve that problem.

Exercise 18. The boy said, What do you want me to do?

The boy asked what he wanted him to do.

Exercise 19. The pupil said, Where have I eased?

The pupil asked where he had eased.

Exercise 20. The teacher said, Who is next on the list?

The teacher asked who was next on the list.

Exercise — Indirect narration of imperatives

Exercise 1. He said to his sister, Please say something.

He requested his sister to say something.

Exercise 2. She said to her friends, Please have dinner with me tomorrow at eight.

She requested her friends to have dinner with her the next day at eight.

Exercise 3. The judge said, Call the next witness.

The judge ordered to call the next witness.

Exercise 4. Farhan said to his uncle, Please help me in getting some job.

Farhan requested his uncle to help him in getting some job.

Exercise 5. The doctor said to the patient, Take complete rest and follow my directions.

The doctor advised the patient to take complete rest and follow his directions.

Exercise 6. The teacher said to the pupil, Read the paragraph and explain it in simple English.

The teacher asked the pupil to read the paragraph and explain it in simple English.

Exercise 7. The mother said to her daughter, Please tidy up your room.

The mother requested her daughter to tidy up her room.

Exercise 8. She said to me, Do not waste your time in idle talk.

She advised me not to waste my time in idle talk.

Exercise 9. The father said to his son, Get up early in the morning and go for a walk.

The father advised his son to get up early in the morning and go for a walk.

Exercise 10. Afshan said, Let us go for a picnic on Friday.

Afshan proposed that they should go for a picnic on Friday.

Exercise 11. He said to his friend, Please lend me your bike for a day.

He requested his friend to lend him his bike for a day.

Exercise 12. He said to her, Please fetch me a glass of water.

He requested her to fetch him a glass of water.

Exercise 13. The master said to the servant, Go and fetch me a glass of milk.

The master ordered the servant to go and fetch him a glass of milk.

Exercise 14. The father said to his son, Do not leave this room without my permission.

The father ordered his son not to leave that room without his permission.

Exercise 15. She said to them, Let us not deceive ourselves.

She proposed that they should not deceive themselves.

Exercise — Indirect narration of exclamations and wishes

Exercise 1. She said to her father, May you live long!

She prayed that her father might live long.

Exercise 2. She said, May you prosper!

She prayed that he might prosper.

Exercise 3. The mother said to her daughter, May Allah bless you with a son!

The mother prayed that Allah might bless her daughter with a son.

Exercise 4. She said, Would that my father were alive!

She wished that her father had been alive.

Exercise 5. The mother said to her son, May you return successful!

The mother prayed that her son might return successful.

Exercise 6. She said, What a beautiful piece of art!

She exclaimed with wonder that it was a very beautiful piece of art.

Exercise 7. He said, How well she sings!

He exclaimed with wonder that she sang very well.

Exercise 8. He said, Alas! We cannot defeat our enemies.

He exclaimed sadly that they could not defeat their enemies.

Exercise 9. She said, What a pity you missed that function!

She exclaimed with regret that he had missed that function.

Exercise 10. He said, Hurrah! I have won the medal.

He exclaimed with joy that he had won the medal.

Exercise — Indirect narration with present or future reporting verb

Exercise 1. They say, We have done our duty.

They say that they have done their duty.

Exercise 2. She says, We have shifted to another house.

She says that they have shifted to another house.

Exercise 3. The teacher will say, You have done your work very well.

The teacher will say that you have done your work very well.

Exercise 4. He says, She has written me a very encouraging letter.

He says that she has written him a very encouraging letter.

Exercise 5. She says, We love and respect our neighbours very much.

She says that they love and respect their neighbours very much.

Exercise 6. She has said, She is ready to accompany us to Karachi.

She has said that she is ready to accompany them to Karachi.

Exercise 7. He says, I have not heard the latest news about her.

He says that he has not heard the latest news about her.

Exercise 8. The doctor says, The patient is still in a state of coma.

The doctor says that the patient is still in a state of coma.

Exercise 9. The teacher says, She has always been a good student.

The teacher says that she has always been a good student.

Exercise 10. She will say, He did not come up to my expectations.

She will say that he did not come up to her expectations.

Story Writing

Exercise — Develop stories from the given outlines

Outline 1. A dog steals a piece of meat, runs away, comes to a bridge, sees his reflection in the calm water, thinks it is another dog with a bigger piece, barks at it, and loses his own piece as well. Develop the story.

A greedy dog once stole a piece of meat from a butcher's shop and ran away with it. On his way home he came to a bridge over a stream. The water under the bridge was calm and clear, and in it the dog saw his own reflection. He thought it was another dog with a bigger piece of meat. Greedy for more, he barked at the reflection to snatch it. As he opened his mouth, his own piece of meat fell into the water and was lost. Moral: Greed loses all.

Outline 2. A hungry fox reaches a garden, sees bunches of ripe grapes hanging down a high wall, tries again and again but cannot reach them, and goes away disappointed. Develop the story.

A hungry fox went about in search of food and reached a garden. There he saw bunches of ripe grapes hanging down from a high wall. He jumped again and again to reach them, but the grapes were too high and he could not get at them. At last, tired and disappointed, he went away saying, The grapes are sour. Moral: People often blame what they cannot get.

Outline 3. A merchant earns a large sum of money, has to go a long way, a nail falls from his horse's shoe, the inn boy warns him, he does not care, the horse becomes lame, and robbers kill him and take the money. Develop the story.

A merchant earned a large sum of money by selling his goods and had to travel a long way home. As it was already getting dark, a nail fell from his horse's shoe. The inn boy warned him to get it fixed, but the merchant did not care and hurried away. Soon the horse became lame, and robbers appeared, killed him and made away with the money. Moral: A stitch in time saves nine.

Outline 4. A tiger kills a woman with a gold bangle and keeps it. One day a man comes to a stream, the tiger pretends to be pious and offers the bangle, and the greedy man falls prey to the tiger. Develop the story.

A tiger once killed a woman and kept her gold bangle. One day a man came to the bank of a stream and was getting ready to cross it when the tiger appeared. The man was afraid, but the tiger told him that it had become pious and spent its time in prayer, and offered him the bangle. The greedy man went near to take it and fell prey to the tiger. Moral: Greed leads to ruin; never trust a wicked person.

Outline 5. A flock of pigeons sees food grain in the fields, lands against their chief's warning, is caught in a net, and escapes by pulling the net up together. Develop the story.

A flock of pigeons was flying over vast green fields when they looked down and saw plenty of food grain. They asked their chief to alight, but he did not agree, fearing that a hunter might have set a net there. The pigeons said his fear was imaginary, landed, and were caught in the net. They cried, O chief, what shall we do now? He said, Dear friends, now exert together; pull the net up and fly away with it. They followed his advice and were saved. Moral: Union is strength.

Outline 6. A kind man frees a tiger caught in a trap, the tiger attacks him, and a clever jackal gets the tiger back into the cage. Develop the story.

A kind-hearted man was passing through a forest when he found a tiger caught in a trap. The tiger begged for help, and though the man was afraid of the beast, at last he set it free. At once the tiger knocked him down. The man called the tiger ungrateful, and both went to a pipal tree for its opinion. The tree said man was ungrateful. They went to a bullock, which upheld the tree's decision. Next they asked a jackal. The jackal said it could not believe that so big a beast could be contained in so small a cage. The tiger jumped into the cage to prove it, the jackal shut the cage, and the man went away thanking the jackal. Moral: Wisdom is better than strength.

Outline 7. A farmer has four lazy sons, tells them of a treasure buried in the fields, and after his death they dig the field and get a bumper crop. Develop the story.

A farmer had four lazy sons who did nothing. He advised them to work, but they did not follow his advice. When the farmer fell seriously ill, he called all his sons and told them of a treasure lying buried somewhere in the fields, and then passed away. His sons dug the whole field deep, and though they found no treasure, they got a bumper crop. Then they realised the wisdom of their father and became rich. Moral: Hard work is the real treasure.

Outline 8. A young cricket sings all spring and summer, starves in winter, begs food from an ant, and is refused. Develop the story.

A young cricket sang merrily throughout spring and summer. When winter came, snow covered everything and there was no food. The cricket began to starve and went to an ant living close by to beg for food. The ant said, We ants neither lend nor borrow. It asked the cricket why it had not stored food for winter in summer. The cricket replied, I sang away the summer. The ant said, Now dance away the winter. No work, no food. Moral: Work today for tomorrow.

Outline 9. A rich man in a carriage is attacked by wolves in a forest, and his faithful servant fights them off while the family escapes. Develop the story.

A rich man was riding in a four-horse carriage with his family and a servant when he passed through a forest. Hungry wolves attacked them. The man let loose two horses one by one, but the wolves came up again. Then the faithful servant drew his sword, jumped down and fought with the wolves. The rich man and his family gained time and escaped. Moral: Faithfulness is a great virtue.

Outline 10. A lion terrorises the animals, a hare tricks him by showing him his own reflection in a well, and the lion is drowned. Develop the story.

A lion killed many animals, and all the animals were terrified. A hare offered to save them. He reached the lion's den late, and the lion asked in rage why he was so late. The hare told the lion of another lion who had stopped him. The lion asked the hare to take him to the other lion. The hare took him to a well, the lion saw his reflection, jumped down to fight it, and was drowned. Moral: Wisdom wins over strength.

Paragraph Writing

Exercises with Hints — Develop paragraphs from the outlines Outline 1. A Fortune-teller. Develop a paragraph.

A footpath fortune-teller sits with his books and cards in a basket and a pencil tucked on his ear, and a parrot in a cage beside him. In fact, the parrot is the real fortune-teller. The fortune-teller is a big fraud who cleverly manipulates simple people, village men and women, who are his clients. He poses as a serious, knowledgeable man and pretends to know the movement of the stars, like an astrologer. The illiterate people feel satisfied when he tells them that they will have a job, a wife, a son, a cart, a seven marla house, a twelve acre farm or a tractor.

Outline 2. A Picnic. Develop a paragraph.

The rainy season had set in and all around it was lush green when we went out for a picnic at Jallo Park. It was a family affair. We cooked our meals out there in the sprawling park, with trees and bushes all around and lakes nearby. The drive along the Canal Bank was fascinating, with flowering trees all along the canal and unpolluted air. We played badminton, ran around, inhaled fresh air, and had sizzling snacks with tea in the afternoon. We enjoyed the return drive along the clean and green Canal Bank.

Outline 3. A Street Quarrel. Develop a paragraph.

I was having my evening meal in the main street of Gowalmandi when I heard a terrible noise out in the street. I got up and looked out. About fifty persons were standing in front of a big shop, and four or five persons ran out of the shop and exchanged violent blows. The cause was an old enmity. It was a sad spectacle to see neighbours fighting in the street instead of living in peace.

Outline 4. A Visit to a Historical Place. Develop a paragraph.

We visited the Shalimar Garden, whose main entrance was closed to traffic. After buying entry tickets we entered the first terrace, vast and lush green. A brief description of the garden was given at the entry door. There were small brick paths with a long row of fountains in the middle and ornamental lights in the flower beds, with old mango trees on both sides. The massive boundary wall, the royal enclosure and the marble throne on the second terrace, a big pool of water with sidewalks and a middle path connecting the two royal enclosures, and the third terrace with bushes and trees all around, made it a rare specimen of Mughal architecture.

Outline 5. A Visit to a Zoo. Develop a paragraph.

We visited the Lahore Zoo, where huge models of an elephant and three other animals are mounted at the main entry on Shahrah-e-Quaid-e-Azam. There was a beautiful waterfall at the side of the animals' cages and a renovated booking office with rock walls. In the monkey cages with swings, visitors were feeding the monkeys grams. We enjoyed the elephant ride, saw the monster-like hippopotamus in a huge pond which raised its large head and muzzled so that children ran helter-skelter, the fearful rhinoceros with two upright horns above its nose, the lion and the lioness, the king of the zoo as well, in big and strong cages, and peacocks, the graceful zebra with black and white stripes, parrots, ducks and flamingos, and the wonderful giraffe with a long neck.

Outline 6. Allama Iqbal. Develop a paragraph.

Allama Iqbal was an eminent philosopher and poet, born in 1877 at Sialkot. He received his school and early college education at Murray College, where Syed Mir Hassan was his inspiring teacher of Persian and Urdu. He took his Master's degree from Government College Lahore and went to England and Germany for higher studies. On his return he gave a new direction to Muslim thought and wrote poems in praise of Muslim culture. He awakened the Muslims and gave the idea of a separate Muslim state in the sub-continent. His books like Bang-e-Dra, Bal-e-Jibril, Asrar-e-Khudi and Payam-e-Mashriq inspired the Muslims' imagination. The nation pays glorious tribute to him every year, and he is buried beside the Badshahi Masjid in Lahore.

Outline 7. The Teacher I Like the Best. Develop a paragraph.

It is but natural to have a strong liking for somebody. I have respect and reverence for all teachers, but Mr Mazhar-ul-Haq is the teacher I like the best. He has a charming personality, is elegantly dressed, and holds M.A. and B.Ed. degrees. He is punctual and diligent and teaches English with confidence and correct pronunciation. He is well-read, a patriot and public-spirited, maintains perfect discipline during lessons, encourages students to ask questions, does not lose his temper, praises hard-working students, and makes lessons interesting with anecdotes. He is broad-minded and dignified, a beloved teacher indeed.

Outline 8. A House on Fire. Develop a paragraph.

It was a perfectly peaceful night and winter had set in, with only the occasional bark of a street dog, when there was an abrupt commotion out in the street, echoing steps and cries of fire, fire. I leapt out and saw that about a hundred steps ahead, the upper storey of a house was on fire. Some women were wailing outside, billows of smoke were dense and choking, and neighbours with pails of water were eager to lend a helping hand. The inmates were safely brought down. Then the fire brigade arrived with a ladder and water hose, and the leaping flames subsided. Curtains, furniture, carpets and wooden almirahs were completely burnt. There was loss of property but no loss of life.

Comprehension Passages

Exercise 1 — Choice of a profession

Exercise 1, Q1. What were the conditions about the choice of a profession sixty years ago?

About sixty years ago, the choice of a profession was not taken up seriously, and a son generally followed the trade of his father.

Exercise 1, Q2. Why did the people not choose the profession seriously?

Because sons generally followed their fathers' trades, and there was no thought of choosing a profession by one's own liking and aptitude.

Exercise 1, Q3. Can a student of the present times choose his profession freely?

Yes, nowadays one can take up a trade that one likes.

Exercise 1, Q4. What is the advantage of a right choice of a profession?

The students who make the right choice of profession are always successful.

Exercise 1, Q5. How can a student choose his profession rightly?

He should have some definite aim, and take guidance from his teacher and parents, who study his habits and guide him to the right path of life.

Exercise 1, Q6. What will be the difficulty of a student who is reading without a definite aim?

He suffers a lot in the end, as he has difficulty in finding employment.

Exercise 1, Q7. How can a teacher help his pupils in making a choice of profession?

The teacher keeps an eye on his pupils and studies their habits, so he can guide his pupils to the right path of life.

Exercise 2 — Making pottery

Exercise 2, Q1. What is throwing?

Making pottery on the potter's wheel is called throwing.

Exercise 2, Q2. What is the other method of shaping articles?

Moulding: a plaster mould is made and the clay is pressed into it.

Exercise 2, Q3. What is the advantage of moulding?

It is a quicker and less difficult way to make things like handles.

Exercise 2, Q4. How does the potter make designs on the pieces of pottery?

When a piece of pottery is taken off the wheel, it is put aside to dry, after which a design is painted on it with special colours that will stand great heat.

Exercise 2, Q5. How are the pieces of pottery baked in fire?

The pieces are placed in earthenware tubs called saggers, so that the flames cannot touch the pots, and then fired in a large oven or kiln.

Exercise 3 — The Sultan's library

Exercise 3, Q1. Why did the Sultan send his agents to all parts of the East?

To buy rare manuscripts and bring them back to Cordova for his library.

Exercise 3, Q2. Where and why did they search the booksellers' shops?

At Cairo, Damascus and Baghdad, searching the booksellers' shops for rare volumes for his library.

Exercise 3, Q3. What would he do when any book could not be bought at any price?

He would have it copied.

Exercise 3, Q4. What would he do when the author had not yet written the book?

He would send the author a handsome present and beg him to send the first copy to Cordova.

Exercise 3, Q5. How many books had he gathered?

No fewer than four hundred thousand books.

Exercise 3, Q6. Why was it difficult to collect so many books in those days?

Printing was unknown at that time, and every copy had to be painfully copied in the fine clear hand of the professional copyist.

Exercise 4 — Musa, commander-in-chief

Exercise 4, Q1. Who was the chief commander and what was in his charge?

Musa was the chief commander, and the gates were in his charge.

Exercise 4, Q2. When were the gates barred?

When the Christians came in view.

Exercise 4, Q3. Who threw them open?

Musa threw them open.

Exercise 4, Q4. What did Musa say?

Our bodies will bar the gates. He also said: We have nothing to fight for but the ground we stand on, and without that we are without a home or a country.

Exercise 4, Q5. What effect had his words on the young men?

The young men were kindled by his words and were ready to die with him, performing feats of bravery.

Exercise 5 — Early rising

Exercise 5, Q1. What kind of habit is early rising?

Early rising is a good habit.

Exercise 5, Q2. Why can an early riser do more work than the late riser?

Because he gains time while the late risers are asleep, and has plenty of time to do his work carefully, steadily and completely.

Exercise 5, Q3. What kind of health do early risers have?

Good and sound health.

Exercise 5, Q4. Why does a late riser find his work dull and dry?

Because he gets up late and does his duty unwillingly, finding it dull and dry.

Exercise 5, Q5. What is the key to success in life?

Early rising is the key to success in life.

Exercise 6 — Social ants

Exercise 6, Q1. What do we mean by social insects?

Social insects are insects that live in societies, cooperate with one another and do only the work assigned to them.

Exercise 6, Q2. Why are some ants called social insects?

Because they live in societies and cooperate with one another.

Exercise 6, Q3. How do the ants cooperate with one another?

They go out in search of food in an orderly fashion, marching in lines and columns like soldiers.

Exercise 6, Q4. What principle do they follow while doing their work?

They manage their affairs through division of labour.

Exercise 6, Q5. Why are the members of a certain group called soldier ants?

Because they guard and protect their community and fight with other insects who attack them or raid their colony.

Exercise 6, Q6. How have the ants learnt the principle of division of labour?

They have not learnt it; they have inherited it.

Exercise 7 — Allama Muhammad Iqbal

Exercise 7, Q1. Why is Allama Muhammad Iqbal considered to be one of the greatest poets of all times?

Because he wrote as many great poems as very few poets did, and he was much more than a poet: a learned man, a great scholar and philosopher, and a political leader of great importance.

Exercise 7, Q2. Did he write poetry for poetry's sake?

No, he did not write poetry for poetry's sake.

Exercise 7, Q3. How can you say that Allama Muhammad Iqbal was much more than a mere poet?

He was a learned man, a great scholar and philosopher, and a political leader of great importance, besides being a poet.

Exercise 7, Q4. What kind of Muslim was Allama Muhammad Iqbal?

He was a Muslim who had a great love for Allah and His Rasool.

Exercise 7, Q5. With what aim did he write poetry?

He wrote poetry to express the great and everlasting truths of philosophy, history and Islam.

Exercise 7, Q6. What was Allama Muhammad Iqbal's call to the Muslims of the whole world?

To awake the Muslims of the whole world from their deep sleep and to unite.

Exercise 8 — The girl and the coin

Exercise 8, Q1. What did the girl find?

A coin.

Exercise 8, Q2. When did she find it?

When she was sweeping the yard; it rolled away before her broom and fell with a little clatter against the wall.

Exercise 8, Q3. How had the coin been dropped there?

Someone had dropped it while crossing the yard and perhaps had not even troubled to look for it.

Exercise 8, Q4. What was the worth of the coin?

It was worth little.

Exercise 8, Q5. Why was it a whole fortune for her?

Because she never had anything of her own before, so it seemed a whole fortune to her.

Exercise 8, Q6. How did she clean it?

She rubbed it clean on the sleeve of her blue cotton jacket.

Exercise 8, Q7. What did she do after cleaning it?

She put it into her pocket.

Exercise 9 — Iqbal's Allahabad address

Exercise 9, Q1. Where was the annual meeting of All India Muslim League held in 1930?

At Allahabad.

Exercise 9, Q2. Who was invited to preside over the session?

Dr Muhammad Iqbal was invited to preside over the session.

Exercise 9, Q3. What idea did Allama Iqbal oppose?

He openly opposed the idea of power-sharing between Hindus and Muslims as one nation.

Exercise 9, Q4. Which provinces did he want to be included in the Muslim state?

The Punjab, Sindh, Baluchistan and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa.

Exercise 9, Q5. On what grounds did he demand a separate state for the Muslims of India?

So that the Muslims should live according to the teachings of Islam; applying one constitution to both Hindus and Muslims would result in a civil war.

Exercise 9, Q6. When was the Pakistan Resolution adopted?

In 1940, when the Pakistan Resolution was adopted.

Exercise 10 — The Indian National Congress

Exercise 10, Q1. Who founded the Indian National Congress?

Mr A.O. Hume, a liberal Englishman.

Exercise 10, Q2. Who was Mr A.O. Hume?

He had joined the Indian Civil Service in 1849 and retired after shouldering different responsibilities.

Exercise 10, Q3. When was the Indian National Congress founded?

In 1885.

Exercise 10, Q4. Why did Hume think of founding this political organisation?

He had been watching the ugly law and order situation and believed the high-handed rule of the Britishers was paving the way for an unexpected outburst of violence. His plan was a safety valve to minimise the mounting sentiments against British rule and to ventilate the revolutionary spirit.

Exercise 10, Q5. With whom did he discuss his plan?

He put his plan before Lord Dufferin.

Exercise 11 — The dose of ink

Exercise 11, Q1. What was the colour of the medicine?

Black.

Exercise 11, Q2. What did the servant give his master?

A dose of ink in place of the drug, because both were equally black.

Exercise 11, Q3. When did the servant come to know of his mistake?

After the patient had taken the dose of ink.

Exercise 11, Q4. What did the servant do?

He ran back to his master, told him of the mistake, and asked what should be done now.

Exercise 11, Q5. What did the master say to his servant?

Now give me a piece of blotting paper to swallow.

Exercise 12 — The greedy monkey

Exercise 12, Q1. Where did the monkey live?

In a forest.

Exercise 12, Q2. Why did he enter the house of a farmer?

He was going about in search of food as he was very hungry.

Exercise 12, Q3. What did he find there?

A hard vessel with a narrow opening.

Exercise 12, Q4. What was in the vessel?

Grains.

Exercise 12, Q5. What did the monkey do?

He put his hand into the vessel, took a handful of grains, and tried to pull his hand out.

Exercise 12, Q6. Why could he not pull his hand out of the vessel?

Because his fist was closed with grains and could not pass through the narrow opening.

Exercise 12, Q7. How did the monkey meet his fate?

The owner came up with his dog, the dog fell upon the monkey and tore him to pieces. Thus the monkey met his fate due to his greed.

Exercise 13 — The tailor and the elephant

Exercise 13, Q1. Where did the elephant go everyday?

To the river through the bazaar.

Exercise 13, Q2. What did the tailor give him?

A bun everyday.

Exercise 13, Q3. What mistake did the tailor make one day?

He pricked a needle into the trunk of the elephant.

Exercise 13, Q4. What did the elephant do after drinking water?

He filled his trunk with muddy water.

Exercise 13, Q5. How did the elephant punish the tailor for his mistake?

On reaching the tailor's shop, he put his trunk into it and squirted the dirty water into the shop, spoiling all the fine and new dresses of his customers.

Exercise 13, Q6. What is the moral of the story?

Tit for tat: as you sow, so shall you reap. Do not annoy others, for kindness is repaid with kindness and mischief with mischief.

Exercise 14 — Professional and amateur players

Exercise 14, Q1. What is meant by professional player?

A professional player is one whose main aim is to make money; he plays the game to earn money or win a name.

Exercise 14, Q2. With what aim does he play games?

To earn money or win a name.

Exercise 14, Q3. What makes an amateur player a responsible citizen?

He plays honestly, observes all the rules and regulations of games, and accepts defeat without cheating or unfair means, so he becomes a disciplined gentleman and a responsible citizen.

Exercise 14, Q4. What qualities of true sportsmanship does a professional player lack?

True sportsmanship: playing for pleasure, honesty, observing the rules, and accepting defeat gracefully.

Exercise 14, Q5. How does an amateur player differ from a professional player?

The amateur plays because he gets pleasure in playing, and games give him recreation and physical exercise; the professional plays to earn money or win a name.

Exercise 14, Q6. How does an amateur player take his defeat?

He accepts defeat but is not sad at losing one, and never resorts to cheating or unfair means to win.

Exercise 14, Q7. Who plays a game for the sake of the game?

The amateur player.

Exercise 15 — The camel

Exercise 15, Q1. Why is the camel called the ship of the desert?

Because it is the best means of transport in deserts, going on walking for hours on the burning sand and in the blazing sun.

Exercise 15, Q2. Is it for its speed that it is called the ship of the desert?

No, camels go slow; it is called so for its endurance, not for its speed.

Exercise 15, Q3. What difficulty do the other beasts of burden have to face while walking on the sand?

Their feet sink into the sand.

Exercise 15, Q4. Why does a camel walk easily on the loose sand of the desert?

Nature has made the feet of the camel such that it is not at all difficult for it to walk on the sand.

Exercise 15, Q5. What special quality makes the camel superior to other animals used for transport?

It can go without food and water for days and weeks.

Exercise 15, Q6. How does the camel go without food and water for days and weeks?

It can store food and water; its hump is also a store of food, which the camel uses when it gets nothing to eat and drink for many days.

Exercise 15, Q7. What does the camel generally live on?

Bushes that grow here and there in deserts.

Pair of Words

Pair of words 1-39

Pair 1. affect / effect affect: This incident did not affect his health. effect: It did not have any effect on him.

Pair 2. advice / advise advice: He gave me a good piece of advice. advise: He advised me not to miss my classes.

Pair 3. alter / altar alter: We cannot force her to alter her mind. altar: People brought the animals to the altar for sacrifice.

Pair 4. altogether / all together altogether: It is altogether wrong to say that she came here yesterday. all together: They went to watch the movie all together.

Pair 5. angel / angle angel: Allah sent His message through angels. angle: A triangle has three angles.

Pair 6. bale / bail bale: There were a large number of bales of cotton in the room. bail: His application for bail was not accepted by the magistrate.

Pair 7. bare / bear bare: Do not walk barefooted on the ground. bear: I saw a bear in the zoo.

Pair 8. berth / birth berth: I reserved a berth in the Shalimar train. birth: What is your date of birth?

Pair 9. beside / besides beside: Adnan is sitting beside Asif. besides: Besides writing, I have to learn it by heart.

Pair 10. brake / break brake: The brakes of the cycle failed on the way. break: Handle it carefully otherwise it may break.

Pair 11. cool / cold cool: Cool breeze is blowing. cold: It is cold outside.

Pair 12. cloth / clothes cloth: Samina bought some cloth from the market. clothes: Saira is wearing colourful clothes.

Pair 13. cell / sell cell: The prisoner was brought out of the cell. sell: They sell school books.

Pair 14. compare / contrast compare: Can he compare himself with Faiz? contrast: There is a contrast in what he says and what he does.

Pair 15. device / devise device: Zakat is a good device to help the poor. devise: We must devise ways and means to help the needy.

Pair 16. denied / refused denied: He denied having told a lie. refused: Naila refused to help Najma in the hour of need.

Pair 17. diary / dairy diary: What are you writing in your diary? dairy: Hanif brought milk from the dairy.

Pair 18. dew / due dew: Dew drops fell at night. due: He could not come to school due to illness.

Pair 19. die / dye die: Heroes never die. dye: Please dye my shirt.

Pair 20. dose / doze dose: Have you taken a dose of this medicine? doze: It is not right to say that I doze in class.

Pair 21. droop / drop droop: Branches of the plants droop in summer. drop: Give me a drop of water.

Pair 22. elder / older elder: Arif is my elder brother. older: Lahore is an older city than Islamabad.

Pair 23. eligible / illegible eligible: He is eligible for the post of a clerk. illegible: Farah's hand writing is illegible.

Pair 24. except / accept except: Everybody was present except Tahir. accept: Accept my congratulations on your success.

Pair 25. expect / hope expect: I expect to get good marks in the coming examination. hope: We should never lose hope.

Pair 26. feet / feat feet: A cat has four feet. feat: We saw feats of animals in the circus.

Pair 27. flour / floor

flour: We make bread from flour. floor: The floor of this room is very dirty.

Pair 28. fair / fare fair: Her complexion is fair. OR We must play fair. fare: Sometimes passengers do not pay fare to the conductor.

Pair 29. foul / fowl foul: We should not use foul language. fowl: Fowls are kept in cages.

Pair 30. gate / gait gate: Children were standing at the gate of their school. gait: She walks with a different gait.

Pair 31. gaol / goal gaol: The prisoner was sent to the gaol. goal: He is advancing towards his goal steadily.

Pair 32. heel / heal heel: The heel of this shoe is too high for me. heal: The wound will heal soon.

Pair 33. healthy / healthful healthy: A healthy man can enjoy life. healthful: Milk is healthful for our body.

Pair 34. idle / idol idle: Do not waste your time by sitting idle. idol: The Hindus worship idols.

Pair 35. invent / discover invent: Marconi invented radio. discover: Columbus discovered America.

Pair 36. ice / snow ice: People use ice in summer. snow: Snow is falling on the mountains.

Pair 37. loose / lose loose: It is a fashion to wear loose shirts. lose: Do not lose courage.

Pair 38. lesson / lessen lesson: The first lesson of our book is easy. lessen: Please lessen the speed of the car.

Pair 39. letter / latter letter: I have written a letter to my friend. latter: Of wealth and health, the latter is the more important.

Pair of words 40-78

Pair 40. liar / lawyer liar: Akbar is a liar. He always tells lies. lawyer: I want to become a lawyer.

Pair 41. lovely / lovable lovely: The rose is a lovely flower. lovable: She is nice and lovable.

Pair 42. medal / meddle medal: Atif has won a silver medal. meddle: Do not meddle in other people's affairs.

Pair 43. meet / meat meet: My friend came to meet me at the airport. meat: I like to eat meat.

Pair 44. metal / mettle metal: Gold is an expensive metal. mettle: The Pakistanis have yet to show their mettle.

Pair 45. marry / merry marry: Kamal is going to marry Najma. merry: They are making merry.

Pair 46. miner / minor miner: He is a miner. minor: The problem is a minor one. We can solve it easily.

Pair 47. necessity / necessary necessity: Bread is the basic necessity of our lives. necessary: It is necessary for the students to do their homework.

Pair 48. observation / observance observation: Uzma has quick observation. observance: Observance of laws is necessary for every citizen.

Pair 49. pear / peer pear: The pear trees are blossoming out early this year. peer: He is respected and admired by his peers.

Pair 50. populous / popular populous: China is a populous country. popular: Yasmin is very popular among her friends.

Pair 51. principal / principle principal: The principal of our college is very kind. principle: Quaid-e-Azam was a man of principles.

Pair 52. piece / peace piece: Give me a piece of chalk. peace: Let me do my work in peace.

Pair 53. prey / pray prey: The hunter ran after his prey. pray: I shall pray to Allah for your success.

Pair 54. people / peoples people: People of Pakistan love their country. peoples: Representatives of different peoples were present in the meeting.

Pair 55. pore / pour pore: There are many pores in our body. pour: Pour some tea into this cup.

Pair 56. quiet / quite quiet: Can't you keep quiet? quite: Your answer is quite right.

Pair 57. respectable / respectful respectable: Nayab belongs to a respectable family. respectful: Ahmad is respectful to his elders.

Pair 58. rein / rain rein: The horse man pulled the reins of the horse. rain: It has been raining since morning.

Pair 59. rob / steal

rob: The robbers threatened the woman and robbed her money. steal: Sajida's jewellery was stolen by the thief.

Pair 60. role / roll role: His role in the play was quite difficult. roll: His name was at the top in the roll call.

Pair 61. root / route root: This plant has delicate roots. route: This is the shortest route to our school.

Pair 62. story / storey story: It is not a true story. storey: We live on the first storey of this house.

Pair 63. sail / sale sail: They opened the sails of the boat. sale: This car is for sale.

Pair 64. sink / drown sink: The ship is sinking. drown: The man is being drowned.

Pair 65. stationary / stationery stationary: The earth is not stationary. stationery: Farid brought some exercise books from the stationery shop.

Pair 66. sole / soul sole: The sole of this shoe is very hard. soul: Fifty souls were lost in a road accident. OR May his soul rest in peace.

Pair 67. scene / seen scene: She has painted beautiful scenes of rural life. seen: I have seen her after a long time.

Pair 68. teach / learn teach: Mr Junaid teaches us English. learn: We learn English from Mr Junaid.

Pair 69. team / teem team: Our cricket team won the match. teem: This well teems with insects.

Pair 70. urbane / urban urbane: Her manners are fine and urbane. urban: They do not have any urban property.

Pair 71. vain / vein vain: The thirsty crow searched for water everywhere but all in vain. vein: Our body has countless veins.

Pair 72. vale / veil vale: The vale of Kashmir is famous for its beauty. veil: She covered her face with a veil.

Pair 73. wine / vine wine: The Muslims are not allowed to drink wine. vine: They went to a vineyard to eat grapes.

Pair 74. waste / waist waste: Do not waste your money on idle pursuits. waist: His waist disappeared in the water while crossing the stream.

Pair 75. write / right write: Can you write a letter in English? right: It is not right to call others names.

Pair 76. wave / waive wave: The waves of the sea followed one another silently. waive: The age limit was waived in favour of the candidates.

Pair 77. way / weigh way: Can you tell me the way to the Allama Iqbal's tomb? weigh: She weighs only a hundred pounds.

Pair 78. weak / week weak: He is very weak in mathematics. week: Seven days make a week.

Story Writing — Model Specimens

Specimen Stories (from the book)

Story Specimen (i.) — A Farmer and His Sons. Read the story.

Once a farmer had three grown-up sons. They always quarrelled among themselves. Their father advised them to live in peace but it had no effect on them. He was worried about their future. One day the farmer fell seriously ill. He sent for his sons. He asked them to collect a handful of sticks which they did at once. He tied the sticks into a bundle. Now, he asked them to break the bundle one by one. They tried hard to break it but none could. At last, the farmer untied the bundle and asked each of them to break each stick. They did so quite easily. Their father said, “My dear sons, you could not break the sticks as long as they remained tied together but you broke each single stick quite easily. They were strong in bundle but became weak when separated from one another. Never forget that united we stand and divided we fall.” This had a deep effect on the farmer's sons. They gave up quarrelling and began to live in peace.

Story Specimen (ii.) — The Kindness of Rasoolullah. Read the story.

Once the Rasoolullah ( ) went out on a journey along with some of his companions. Birds were singing and chirping joyfully. One of the companions of the Rasoolullah ( ) saw a nest in a bush. It was the nest of sparrows and there were two sparrow chicks in it. He picked up the young sparrow. All at once the sparrows came crying and began to fly over his head. The Rasoolullah ( ) asked his companion why the sparrows were circling over his head. He told the Rasoolullah( ) that he had removed their young ones from their nest. The Rasoolullah( ) was greatly moved. He ( ) felt sorry for the poor little birds and advised his companion to put back the sparrow's chick in its nest at once, which he did. The sparrows felt happy and cried no more. The Rasoolullah ( ) was kind and affectionate not only to human beings but also to all creatures of the universe. For this very reason Allah Almighty was pleased to bestow upon him ( ) the title of 'Benefactor of all the worlds.' The Rasoolullah (kind to others.") also said, "Allah will not be kind to him who is not Story Specimen (iii.) — Robbers Turn into Good Citizens. Read the story.

Hazrat Sheikh Abdul Qadir Gillani (ر(had to undertake a journey, when he was yet a young boy. His pious mother stitched up forty gold coins in his shirt. She advised her son to always speak the truth. He joined a caravan and set off on his journey. When the caravan entered a forest, a gang of robbers fell on the travellers and deprived them of all their valuables. While they were busy robbing everyone, a robber happened to pass by the young boy. He said, "Do you have anything on you?" "Yes," came the prompt reply, "I have forty gold coins." The robber asked the young boy to show the money, which he readily did. The robber took the boy to the leader of the gang. Like all other robbers, the leader was also surprised. He said, "Why did you not deny having money?" Hazrat Sheikh Abdul Qadir Gillani (ر(told the robbers' Chief that his mother had advised him to speak the truth always. This had a deep effect on the Chief. He said, "Alas! I do not obey the commands of Allah while this little boy so faithfully follows the advice of his mother." Remorse became a guideline to show him the right path. He made up his mind to give up his bad ways of earning livelihood. He disbanded the gang and advised all the members to live an honest life. Thus, the example set by Hazrat Sheikh Abdul Qadir Gillani (ر(reformed all the robbers. He grew up to be a great religious leader and a pious saint. He is held in great esteem by millions of his followers and devotees. He is popularly known as Ghaus-ul-Azam Gillani. Moral: Speak the truth always.

Story Specimen (iv.) — The Muslim Brotherhood. Read the story.

Hazrat Muhammad ( ) united the Muslims into a wonderful brotherhood. They were sincerely devoted to one another and made every sacrifice for other Muslims whoever and wherever they might be. They laid down their lives for their Muslim brethren. Abu Jahan Bin Huzefa (ا ر(told us a wonderful story. It is a true story, related to the battle of Yarmook, which showed their great love and sense of sacrifice for one another. He said, “I set out in search of my cousin who was fighting on the battle front. I carried a water-skin to offer water to the thirsty soldiers. I found him lying seriously injured. He was about to die. I asked him if he wanted water. My cousin nodded. I offered him a cup of water. Just then there came a cry for water from Hisham ibn al-A’as (ا ر(who was about to die. My cousin asked me to give the cup to him. When I came to Hisham (ا ر(, another cry was heard from a mujahid, not far from the former two. Hisham (ر(lasked me to take the cup to him. I, therefore, went to the third one but he had breathed his last before he could drink. I hurried back to Hisham (ا ر(. He (ا ر(had also lost his life. Then I rushed back to my cousin but he too had left for his heavenly home.” How great those good Muslims were indeed! In true spirit of Islam, Muslims worry about their brothers selflessly.

Story Specimen (v.) — A Foolish Stag. Read the story.

One hot summer day, a stag went to a pool to drink water. The pool water was clear. It could see its reflection in the water. It felt proud of its beautiful horns. But when it saw the shadow of its thin legs, it felt sad and hated them. While it was still thinking of its ugly legs, it heard the sound of the horse's hoofs of a huntsman and the barking of hounds. It ran for its life as fast as its legs could carry it. In no time it left the hounds far behind. Now it happened to pass through a thick forest. As it rushed through, its horns got caught in the branches of a tree. It struggled hard to free itself but all in vain. Meanwhile, the hunter and his hounds came close. The hounds were about to catch it, the stag struggled and managed to escape. The legs it hated had carried it away from the hounds. One of the horns broke but it managed to dodge the hunter. After loosing the hunter, the stag was grateful of having thin legs and did not repent the appearance again.. Moral: Be grateful of what you have Story Specimen (vi.) — The Donkey Trapped in His Own Trick. Read the story.

A villager had a donkey. He earned his living by transporting goods from place to place on that donkey. One early morning, he loaded the donkey with salt and set off to the town. A stream ran across his way to the market. As the donkey walked through the stream it slipped and fell down. A good deal of salt was washed away and the donkey felt light. The donkey thought it was quite a good trick to make the load light. Next morning, the man again loaded it with salt. The donkey played the same trick and got light. The master saw through the game and made up his mind to teach the donkey a good lesson. Now, on the third day he put a bale of cotton on the donkey. The silly animal tried the same trick once more. Soaked with water, the cotton load became much heavier than when it was dry. Moral: The foolish donkey was punished for his bad intention..

Story Specimen (vii.) — A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed. Read the story.

Once upon a time two very close friends lived in a village. As time passed their friendship grew stronger. Now they were grown up men. One day they decided to go and find work. They set off. Before leaving their village, they promised to stand by each other through thick and thin. They took oath of sincerity and assured each other of help in the hour of need. They had to pass through a jungle. They had not gone far into the thick forest when they found themselves face to face with a big bear. The beast began to move towards them. They felt helpless and terrified. One of them knew how to climb a tree. He at once caught hold of a strong branch and swung up the tree. The other could not climb. He had heard that the bear does not eat the dead. So he lay down on the ground and held his breath pretending to be dead. Meanwhile, the bear came to him and sniffed him. The beast left him. When the bear had gone out of sight, the friend on the tree came down. He asked his friend, “Dear friend, what did the bear whisper in your ear?” The other replied quickly, “The bear advised me not to trust a selfish friend.” Saying this he left him and went away.

Story Specimen (viii.) — A Faithful Friend. Read the story.

A hunter had a beautiful hound that always went hunting with him. The faithful dog was a fast friend of the hunter's only son who loved to play with the dog. The master also loved the hound for its friendship with his young son who was only ten years old. The master of the house had no one else in the house. One day, the hunter went out hunting but forgot to take the hound with him. His son was still asleep in his bed. As he reached the edge of the forest he found that he had forgotten to bring the hound with him. He decided to go back and bring the hound. He came home but was afraid to see his hound all bloodstained standing at the gate. The hunter thought that the hound had harmed his son. He got very upset and tensed and chained it.. He quickly walked into the house and looked high and low for his son. Just then, he saw his son coming out of his room. The boy told his father that a wolf had come into the house and was about to kill him when the hound pounced upon it and tore it to pieces. The hunter began to cry and rushed back to the gate and took the hound to a vet. The hunter loved the hound as his most loyal friend.

Story Specimen (ix.) — A Big Reward. Read the story.

Once a hungry wolf was devouring his prey. In a bid to finish it quickly, he swallowed a big bite of the flesh but a bone also went in and got stuck in his throat. It hurt him very much. So he decided to go to a crane to get help from him. He said, “Well dear friend, I am in a great trouble. Please pick out the bone in my throat.” The crane was afraid lest the wolf should bite off his head. But the wolf assured him of safety and a big reward besides, for the service. At last, the crane agreed to do the needful. It put its long beak into the throat of the wolf and pulled out the bone. The wolf was very happy now. The crane demanded the promised reward for his service. The wolf, at once, said, “Isn't it a big reward that I have not bitten off your head when it could not have escaped my teeth.”The crane hopped away disappointedly.

Story Specimen (x.) — The Tailor and the Elephant. Read the story.

A tailor ran a shop in a town. He was a good natured jolly fellow. A man in the town had a pet elephant. The elephant went drinking at a pool out of the town daily. It passed by the tailor's shop. The tailor gave him a bun every day. In course of time, they became good friends and were well pleased to meet each other. The tailor always waited for the elephant to come to him and the elephant was also there at the usual time. One day, the tailor had a dispute with one of his customers. He was feeling unhappy and cross. Meanwhile, the elephant arrived and put his trunk into his shop through the window to receive the friendly bun as usual. The tailor instead of giving a bun, pricked its trunk with a needle. The elephant felt hurt at this but silently went his way to drink. The elephant quenched his thirst and then filled his trunk with dirty, muddy water. It came back quickly, put its trunk in, and emptied it. The whole shop looked as if it was plastered with mud. All the fancy dresses and rich wedding robes were mud-stained and badly spoiled. The tailor was sad but it was too late. Moral: It is well said, “Look before you leap.”

Story Specimen (xi.) — The Boy Who Cried “Wolf ”. Read the story.

There lived a shepherd boy in a village near a pasture. He collected sheep and goats belonging to the villagers and took them to the pasture to graze. This went on for quite a long time. All the villagers were well satisfied with the boy as he tended the flock carefully. Now everyone trusted the boy. By now he had grown up into a fine lad. One fine morning, when he was busy looking after animals, it came to his mind to make fun of the villagers. So, he climbed upto the top of the hill and cried aloud, "Wolf! Wolf!" the villagers rushed to the pasture to save the boy and the flock. They came armed with sticks. When they saw the boy, they inquired about the wolf. The naughty boy began to laugh. Everyone was angry with the silly boy and went back grumbling. After few days, the boy repeated his trick. The worried villagers rushed for his help and found the boy laughing on the villagers. This time the villagers were highly displeased by him and decided again. One day the boy took sheep and goats to the pasture as per the routine. This time the wolf did come and he cried, 'Wolf' at top of his voice. The villagers could hear his cries but they thought he was joking again. No one came to his help. The wolf not only killed some sheep and goats, but had injured the boy. He learnt his lesson and never tricked anyone again. Moral: No one trusts a liar.

Story Specimen (xii.) — The Jester and the King. Read the story.

Once upon a time a king had a jester in his court. The king was so fond of him that the jester enjoyed every kind of liberty of speech. He did not even spare the lords and ministers. So much so that he began to ridicule even the king but no one could dare to complain against him. This made the jester bold and proud. He cared for none. One day while the king was holding a court and was busy in serious state affairs, the jester made fun of the king. Dead silence fell on the court. The king got highly offended and sentenced the jester to treason. The jester bent down over his knees and begged for mercy but the king was so angry that he turned down his request. At last, when the jester pleaded for mercy again and again, the king said, “Die you must but I grant you the freedom to choose the kind of death you like.” The clever jester at once used his ready wit and took good advantage of the concession saying, “Your Majesty! I choose to die of old age.” The king was impressed and forgave the jester with a warning for future. Moral: It never pays to overreach yourself.

Letters, Applications and Invitations — Model Specimens

Informal and Formal Letters (from the book)

Write a letter to your mother who is worried about your health.

2, Old Hostel, Lahore. March 23, 2017 Dear Mother, I received your letter yesterday. I am glad to know that you are fine. I was running a fever due to bad throat. But it was a temporary ailment. I have recovered now. You need not worry about my health. I am perfectly all right. I am taking good care of my diet and exercise regularly. I hope that after these assurances you will stop worrying about me. Pay my regards to all at home. Yours affectionately, Naveed Ahmad ii.

Write a letter to your father asking him about the health of your mother.

2, Old Hostel, Lahore. January 25, 2017 Dear Father, From Ali's letter I have come to know that mother is suffering from high blood pressure. I am really worried about her. I hope that she is taking precautionary measures to bring it to normal. Please ask her to take her medicine regularly and also inform me about her present condition as early as possible. Anxiously waiting for your reply, Yours affectionately, Nadeem iii.

Write a letter to your sister congratulating her on her success in the exams.

15 – C Wahdat Colony, Lahore. March 28, 2017 Dear Najma, Your letter brought the happy news of your excellent result in the final examination of class 9. I am very happy to learn that you have gottem an outstanding result. I am very proud of you. You have always been a hard working student and I hope you will work even harder next year to maintain a high standard. Accept my heartiest congratulations on your success. Pay my compliments to Naila and other friends. Yours affectionately, Afshan iv.

Write a letter to your mother about the test you have just taken.

92, Boys' Hostel, Gulberg, Lahore. February 06, 2017 Dear Mother, I am sorry, I did not write you earlier as I was busy preparing for my test of physics. It was held yesterday. My performance in the test is satisfactory. I hope to get full marks in it. I attempted eleven questions. The answer to one question was wrong. But it was an extra question. I hope that you are satisfied with my explanation now. Pay my regards to everyone at home. Yours affectionately, Khalid Ahmad v.

Write a letter to your father requesting him to send you some extra funds for the payment of hostel dues.

16, Crescent Hostel, Gulberg, Lahore. March 15, 2017 Dear Father, I have been planning to write you for many days but could not find time to do so. My exams are drawing near and I am busy preparing for them. I have already revised my course. You need not worry about my studies. The only problem that I face these days is that I have run short of money as I bought some books which has upset my budget. I shall be very grateful if you send me at least ten thousand rupees to pay my hostel dues and to meet my other needs. Yours affectionately, Anas Ali vi.

Write a letter to your brother about the importance of the study of science subjects.

10 - Jail Road, Lahore. March 01, 2017 Dear Asif, I hope this letter finds you in the best of health and spirits. You have now been promoted to class nine. It is time for you to decide whether you would like to study humanities or science subjects. The world has progressed very much in the field of science. If we want to keep pace with it, we must keep our knowledge of science up-to-date. Everyone should know the basics of science so I would advise you to study science at least up to matriculation level.It will broaden the horizon of choice that you can make for higher studies Also, there are many new fields in science that might catch your interest. Please think carefully before making a final decision. Convey my salaam to your friends. Yours affectionately, Adnan Bashir vii.

Write a letter to your friend congratulating her on her birthday.

18-Tariq Block, Garden Town, Lahore. January 29, 2017 Dear Iram, I am specially writing this letter to congratulate you on your birthday. I owe you a gift and you will get it when you come to Lahore. I was going to send it to you by post but then I was informed that you plan to come to Lahore. So I decided to give it to you personally. I am waiting for you. Convey my respects to aunt and uncle. Wishing you the best, Yours sincerely, Samina

Write a letter to your friend requesting her to spend her spring holidays with you.

13 - C, GOR-III, Lahore. February 6, 2017 Dear Sadia, You know that our spring holidays are approaching. I would like you to spend these holidays with me. In your last letter you promised to come to me during these holidays. Now it is time to fulfill your promise. We shall visit our common friends and do some shopping. Inform me as early as possible about the exact date of your arrival so that I may make further arrangements accordingly. With love, Yours sincerely, Shazia ix.

Write a letter to your friend congratulating him on the marriage of his sister.

24 - Usman Block, Garden Town, Lahore. March 06, 2017 Dear Rizwan, I am very pleased to learn about the marriage ceremony of your sister. Accept my heartiest congratulation on this occasion. I have received your invitation card but I do not think I will be able to attend the ceremony as I will be busy in my exams. I really feel sorry for that. Convey my congratulations and best wishes to all the members of your family. Yours sincerely, Adnan x.

Write a letter to your friend requesting him to lend you some books.

4, Sanda Road, Lahore. April 2, 2017 Dear Tahir, My examination is over and I haven't much to do these days. I am thinking of improving my English. You talked once about your fine collection of English novels and plays. I want to borrow a few novels from you. I hope that you will not refuse. I assure you that I shall take care of your books. I shall try to return these books as early as possible. Pay my compliments to your parents. Yours sincerely, Arif Munir xi.

Write a letter to your friend thanking her for the hospitality during your visit to her house.

793, Raza Block, Iqbal Town, Lahore. April 15, 2017 Dear Saba, I reached home last Sunday. I had a comfortable journey and reached home safe. I spent very good time with you. I enjoyed your company. I shall never forget the taste of delicious food that you cooked for me. I must thank you for the trip to Murree that you specially arranged for me. I will miss you very much. Convey my thanks to aunt and uncle for their kindness and love. They really made me feel at home.I will never forget this trip. With love, Yours sincerely, Afshan xii.

Write a letter to your friend condoling the death of his mother.

4/5 - II - E, Nazimabad, Karachi. March 21, 2017 Dear Aamer, I have just received the news of your mother's death. I am really shocked to hear it. She was a very noble lady. I had special attachment to her. She loved me as her own son. But the laws of nature are absolute. We have to bow before them. All my sympathies are with you. I hope that you will bear this loss with patience and courage. May her soul rest in heaven! Yours truly, Toor xiii.

Write a letter to your brother advising him to take steps to improve his health.

B - 22, GOR - I, Lahore. March 20, 2017 Dear Hamid, I met Munir last night and he informed me that you were over worked in your studies. You stay awake till late night and have become very weak. I appreciate your love for knowledge but it must not be allowed to damage your health. First, take care of your health, then of your studies. Try to sleep early and develop a habit of taking morning walk. I suggest you have a light exercise in the morning also. I hope that you will give attention to my advice. Yours affectionately, Umar xiv.

Write a letter to your sister thanking her for a gift.

Shaheen Academy, Lahore. January 2, 2017 Dear Rukhsana, I hope that you are in good health. I received your gift of a wrist watch on my birthday two days ago. It is a beautiful watch. I needed it badly too as I happened to lose my watch in a mishap a few days ago. I promise that I shall take care of it. It will also help to make me punctual. I thank you again for this precious gift. Yours affectionately, Nazir Ahmad xv.

Write a letter to your friend thanking him for the books he lent you.

4 - Sanda Road, Lahore. March 27, 2017 Dear Tahir, I received the books you lent me the day before yesterday. I am really grateful to you for this. I have already started reading these and hope to return them very soon. Thanking you again, Yours truly, Arif Munir xvi.

Write a letter to a book seller requesting him to send you some books per V.P.P.

85 - Qasim Street Gujranwala. November 26, 2017 The Manager, United Publishers, The Mall, Lahore. Dear Sir, I shall be glad if you may provide me with the following books as early as possible: Civics for class - X 1 copy Economics for class - X 1 copy Zindan Nama by Faiz Ahmad Faiz 1 copy I hope you will allow me the special concession for students. Please send these books to me by V.P.P. Yours faithfully, Atif Hafeez

Formal Invitations and Replies (from the book)

Formal Invitation 1 (from the book).

Mr. and Mrs. S. Sukhera request the pleasure of the company of Mr. and Mrs. B.A. Chaudhry to dinner / lunch / tea nd on Sunday, the 2 October, 2017 at 8.00 p.m. / 1.00 p.m. / 5.00 p.m. Venue: 4-Sanda Road, Lahore. R.S.V.P Tel: 38412352

Reply to Formal Invitation 1 — accepting (from the book).

Reply (accepting) Mr. and Mrs. B.A. Chaudhry thank Mr. and Mrs. S. Sukhera for their kind invitation to dinner / lunch / tea on October 2, 2017 and accept it with pleasure. 7 – B, GOR-II, Lahore.

Reply to Formal Invitation 1 — declining (from the book).

Reply (declining) Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Chaudhry thank Mr. and Mrs. S. Sukhera for their kind invitation to dinner / lunch / tea on October 2, 2017, but regret that they would not be able to attend it, owing to a previous engagement. 7 - B, GOR - II, Lahore.

Formal Invitation 2 (from the book).

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Khan request the pleasure of the company of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Awan at a reception on the occasion of the wedding of their beloved son / daughter at Cosmopolitan Club nd on Sunday, the 2 October, 2017 at 8.00 p.m. R.S.V.P Tel:-38272227

Reply to Formal Invitation 2 — accepting (from the book).

Reply (accepting) Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Awan thank Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Khan for their kind invitation to the reception on October 2, 2017, and accept it with great pleasure. 19-E, Model Town, Lahore.

Reply to Formal Invitation 2 — declining (from the book).

Reply (declining) Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Awan thank Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Khan for their kind invitation to the reception on October 2, 2017, but regret that they would not be able to attend it owing to a previous engagement. 19 - E, Model Town, Lahore.

Applications (from the book)

Write an application for leave (specimen from the book).

The Headmaster / Principal, Government High School, Narang. Sir, This is inform you that I am suffering from diarrhyea after eating fast food from a local restaurant. Kindly grant me leave for two days with effect from December 2 to 4 , 2017. Thanking you, Yours obediently, Arsalan Bashir Roll No. 212 Class - X December 02, 2017 ii.

Write an application for fee-concession/stipend (specimen from the book).

The Headmistress/ Principal, Government Girls' High School, Mian Chanuu. Madam, Respectfully, it is submitted that my father is working as a restorer in the Municipal Committee library. His salary is not enough to meet the family needs and cannot pay for our education. He supports a large family consisting of five daughters and three sons. In fact, the household worries have caused a deterioration in his health, and has been on medical leave on and off. In the light of the facts stated above, it is requested that I may kindly be granted full fee concession and a stipend. I am in dire need of this financial relief, otherwise I will have to discontinue my studies. My father's income certificate is attached for your kind perusal. Thanking you, Yours obediently, Haseena Moeen Roll No. 112 Class - IX September 7, 2017 iii.

Write an application for a character certificate (specimen from the book).

The Headmaster, Garrison High School, Rawalpindi. Sir, Respectfully, it is submitted that I have been a bonafide student of the Garrison High School during the session 2016-17. I secured second position in the school in the examination conducted by the Lahore Board of Secondary Education. I am at Salalah (OMAN) these days and plan to study further at the Intermediate College being run by our embassy here. I am enclosing a reply-paid envelope, and it is requested that a character certificate may kindly be issued to enable me to seek admission for further studies. Thanking you, Yours obediently, Ammar Aslam Moghul P.O. Box No. 18026 SALALAH (Sultanate of Oman). December 9, 2017 iv.

Write an application for a job (specimen from the book).

The Manager, Sunshine Biscuit Factory, G. T. Road, Lahore. st

Respeted Sir, I found out through the advertisement columns of the Daily “Jang” Lahore about the job vacancy of a clerk available in your factory. I offer myself as a candidate for this position. My particulars are: rst Age: 18 years Qualification: Matriculate 1 Division, Diploma holder in type and short-hand Marital Status: Unmarried I reside at Baghbanpura and the factory is not far from my house. I assure you that I will serve the organisation devotedly and diligently. Attested photocopies of the required documents are attached. Thanking you, Yours obediently, Farooq Abdullah 310 - Shalimar Road, Baghbanpura, Lahore. March 10, 2017

Dialogue Writing — Model Specimens

Specimen Dialogues (from the book)

Dialogue Specimen — Dialogue between a teacher and a student.

Teacher : Hello Fauzia! You are a bit late today. Fauzia : Yes, Madam, I am sorry. Teacher : Well. What happened? Fauzia : The school bus was right on schedule. It was about to cross the canal bridge when it came to a halt with a jerk. The tyre had gone flat. Teacher : I see. It is not your fault. Fauzia : One thing more, Madam. The driver had no jack with him. He waved to other vehicles but they would not stop. Nobody seemed willing to oblige at this rush hour. Teacher : Well. What did you do then? You came by another bus. Didn't you? Fauzia : No, Madam, we left the bus where it was and walked up to school all the way. Teacher : Well done! You are a brave girl indeed But remember, always be careful while crossing roads. Now, girls let us get going with our lesson.

Dialogue Specimen — Dialogue between two students regarding Salat.

Osama : Well, now I'd like to take rest for a while. I've had my meal, you know. Salman : Ok. You take rest while I fix this picture of a landscape on the wall. Where is the sticky tape? Osama : Out there in the drawer. Salman : Well, I think this picture needs to be a bit higher up. How do you like it Osama? Osama : Lovely! Good, well done. It looks nice up there. Now let us go for namaz to the masjid. Salman : I am going to the market. I shall not be long. Osama : No, namaz first.

Have you heard the moezzin's call for salat? Haven't you? Salman : Sure, I have but I am going out. It's very urgent. My motor bike is out at the gate. Osama: There is nothing in the world that ought to be more urgent than a namaz. Salman : I don't really understand it. Art is long and life is short. There is so much to do in the world. There is so much fun-games, sports, T. V., cricket, world cups, videos, feature films, fun-fairs, shopping, loitering and break and break and break. Sorry, I am going. Osama : Dear me! Who am I to hold you back? Dear as you are to me, I sincerely wish that you offer namaz. Namaz gives us peace, freshness, balance, courage, hope, goodness in our short life here on the earth, and eternal goodness in the life hereafter. Salman : Oh, I am sick of your sermons, Osama! Osama : See, Allah has given us eyes, ears, heart, hands, legs and brain. Salman, you see such a lovely world is there around us. Great gifts are they! Aren't they? We must thank Allah - the Merciful, the Sustainer. As Muslims we offer namaz and this is how we thank Allah. Salman: All right. I must thank Allah for the blessings that He has bestowed upon me.I love Him, too. I'll go with you.

Dialogue Specimen — Dialogue asking one's way.

A: Excuse me for troubling you sir, but can you tell me the way to the museum? B: Certainly. Keep straight on along this road, take the first turn to the right, and that will take you to a green square with flagpoles. That is Istanbul Square; cross it, and you'll see a corner of a red-brick building with a couple of domes. That is the museum. A: Thanks very much indeed. B: My pleasure. (A goes on walking and takes the wrong turn. He wanders around a good deal. Tired and upset, he talks to a passer-by.) A: Pardon me, sir, does this road lead to the museum? B: I am sorry, sir. I don't know. I am a complete stranger here myself. (Another gentleman C on hearing this, stops.) Yes. Keep straight this way for over a mile and a half until you come to C: Chowk Azadi, then turn to the left. But it is a good way. A: How far, do you think? C: Over two miles, I should say. I'd take a bus, if I were you. A: What number or route please? C: Take number 117 when you come to Chowk Azadi. That will take you to the museum. A: Thanks.

Dialogue Specimen — Dialogue between a brother and a sister concerning time.

What is the time? Ali: Fatimah: It is nearly five minutes to eight by my watch. Upon my word, we must hurry up, if you are to catch that train to Rawalpindi. Ali: Fatimah: Why, when is it due out? At quarter past nine exactly. Ali: Fatimah: Oh, never mind. We have plenty of time. I am not so sure of that. What on earth have you been doing? What time did you get up? Ali: Fatimah: I woke up before half-past five. Then I performed ablution and offered my morning salat. Now breakfast is ready. Don't look at me like that. For Heaven's sake, get ready! We have not a minute to lose. Time flies, you know. Ali:

Dialogue Specimen — Dialogue between a tailor and a customer.

(Father is about to set up the tape-recorder, he calls aloud Yasser, Anne). Come over here. Hurry up! (They show up in a minute.) Father: You are going to hear a dialogue on the tape now. Yasser: Father! What is it about? Father: Well, see this picture. (There is a picture of a tailor and a customer. Father switches on the tape-recorder. They listen with attention.) Tailor: Good morning, Sir, what can I do for you? Customer: I should like to be measured for a suit. Tailor: With pleasure, Sir, kindly step this way. What style and shade would you prefer? Customer: I want an ordinary lounge suit made of brown tweed. How much would the stitching cost? Tailor: I could make you a suit for Rs. 2000/-. It is quite reasonable, sir. Customer: That's right. Tailor: Could you manage to call in sometime next week for the try? Customer: Yes, just give me a ring. Here is my card. Tailor: Very good, sir. Good morning. (Father takes out the plug and talks to his kids.) Father: What do you say to that, kids? Yasser: Very interesting, Dad. Anne: Father I'll hear it again and then we will practise it. Yasser will act out as the tailor, and I shall be the customer.

Paragraph Writing — Model Specimens

Specimen Paragraphs (from the book)

Paragraph Specimen — My School.

My school is a place of great charm for me. Although its building is pretty old, it seems to cast a spell on us. Some of the walls are massive and ceilings are very high. Even the cruel summer fails to make our classrooms hot and humid. The location of my school is just by the side of the historic fort. The high walls of the fort, scarred with signs of wind and weather, look wonderful. They have a mystery of their own. We understand our history lesson very well because of the nearness to the famous fort. The teaching staff at my school is kind and devoted. A large playground with a row of evergreen tall trees faces the school building. What is more, it is away from all the hustle and bustle of the main road. I am glad that my school is far ahead of others in good results, sports, debates, library and scouting.

Paragraph Specimen — Girl Guides.

Girl Guides is a British organisation of girls. It was founded by Baden Powell and his sister Lady Agnes in 1910. The main objective of this movement is to make teenage girls conscious of their responsibilities. A member, a girl guide, is given a variety of programmes that shape her character. She learns, in association with other girl guides, how to keep herself clean and healthy. She is instructed how to build her moral and social character. She learns the basic facts about courtesy and etiquette. Furthermore, a girl guide is taught how to develop home making abilities. She learns household skills like cooking, knitting, stitching, planning and maintenance.

Paragraph Specimen — A Visit to a Museum.

The Lahore Museum is an important place where works of art and other objects of historical value are kept and displayed. It is an old imposing building with a high ceiling. The incharge of the museum is called the Curator. Our well-informed teacher took us to different sections of the beautiful museum. There were neatly arranged glass-cases which displayed ancient swords, daggers, garments, ornaments, coins, bows and arrows. The items on display had tags with brief descriptions. Paintings, pictures and clay models were exhibiting ancient craftsmanship. The huge statue of Queen Victoria was laid in one room of the museum. There were old manuscripts of the Holy Quran in another room. Full-size doors and frames with primitive fittings were specimens of rare woodwork craftsmanship. The impressive display in the museum gave us a wealth of information and insight into our past. It was a rewarding visit indeed.

Paragraph Specimen — A River in Flood.

Last summer, I was in my village, about twenty miles south of Jhang. For over a week, the wet spell had been a delightful experience. The rain was driven in sharp bursts by the rushing wind. One morning, in the early hours there went up a cry “water! water!”. The Chenab was in flood. There was water in our big courtyard. The low-lying part of the village was under three feet of water. Panic gripped the whole village. There were bushels on almost every head. Most of the folks started moving through the flooded fields towards the nearby high mound. It was a scene of great misery. From the corner of the high mound, I had the first glimpse of the river in flood. The entire area upto the far-off road bridge and even beyond was just one sheet of muddy water. Logs were seen floating fast. The trees all around, with half of their trunks in water, stood firm like unfolded umbrellas. Far below, we saw the floating horses and cows. The water all around and the floating objects in it filled our heart with dread.

Paragraph Specimen — A Pleasant Dream.

Last night, I went to sleep a little early than my habitual time. I was exhausted so I fell slumbering immediately. In no time, I was in the land of dreams. I dreamt that I have been selected for a scuba diving adventure with navy personnel. It was so exciting that I could feel butterflies in my stomach. Next, I found myself in the designated area where all the preparations took place. I was given my body suit along with a mask, an oxygen tank and flippers. We all went to the boat. I was one of the trainees with navy officers. They were pleasant but firm. The instructions were to be followed promptly. The boat took us to the middle of the ocean where the water was on a deeper side. In reality, I did not know how to swim well, but in my dream, I could swim like a fish. On a count of three, we all dived in. To my surprise, I could see the underwater world really close.There were beautiful fish, corals and other sea creatures. I was swimming between them effortlessly. The sun could be seen through the water, shining brightly in the sky. The leading officer soon instructed me to come out. I followed the lead and got back to the boat. The head personnel was happy to see my stamina underwater. When he was about to shake hands with me, the alarm rang and I woke up for my morning prayers. The feeling of freshness was so real that I could experience it even after waking up. It was a pleasant dream that made my day.

Paragraph Specimen — How to Keep Our Town Clean?.

Cleanliness is next to godliness. We must give a serious thought to this golden truth. Neat and clean environment has a cheerful effect. It is a sure sign of civilization. Knowledge is a great blessing of Allah. We are fortunate to have the opportunity to receive education. As school going boys and girls, it is our responsibility to keep our town clean. We ought to develop civic sense. We should not throw fruit and vegetable peels all over the street. A banana or melon peel thrown carelessly on the road may cause a fracture or even death. Plastic, polythene and wooden items should not be thrown into manholes. A choked gutter spreads filth and stench all over the street. Life becomes miserable. Spitting is another problem as it causes disease and insanitation. We can politely prevent one another from spitting on floors. We should not throw hard things or stones into toilets. We should not be shy of taking a broom and sweeping the littered portion of the street in front of our door. We should take care of trees, plants and flower-beds in parks. If we happen to pass by an unattended running water tap, we should stop and close it. As citizens, we should be vigilant and should report to the municipality if its staff neglects its duty. We can also add to cleanliness if we sprinkle water on our portion of the road. Dust and pollution can be effectively controlled if everyone lends a helping hand. Allah loves people who practise purity and cleanliness.

Paragraph Specimen — An Industrial Exhibition.

An industrial exhibition was arranged in Islamabad in March last year. The intention of the organisers was to exhibit industrial products at one place. The trading community and the general public showed keen interest in the products. Accompanied by my elder brother and sisters, I went around the elegant and brightly lit stalls. Exhibits included textiles and garments, electrical goods, household items, handicrafts, glass wares, furniture, sewing machines and stainless steel. The Pakistan Railways and WAPDA had put up informatory stalls. Heavy industrial goods, rollers, water pumps, tube-well equipment, motors, fertilizers and machinery were also on display. Prices of consumer goods were quite reasonable. Manufacturers were selling their products at reduced rates. Besides, there were food and entertainment stalls which attracted the cheerful crowd.

Paragraph Specimen — My Neighbour.

Mr. Ashraf Minhas is my next door neighbour. He is a handsome, middle aged scholar with a vigorous zest for life. He is a real gentleman with a lot of goodwill. You could not wish to meet a better natured and hospitable man. He likes gardening. His garden is full of flowers in spring. He invites his neighbours and entertains them warmly. He delights everybody with fond details of lovely flowers and their blooming patterns. Mr. Minhas is an optimist by nature, that is why he never worries himself over trifles. He has a remarkable sense of humour, which helps him in getting along well with his neighbours. He has a son and a daughter. They are known for their fine tastes and good manners.

Paragraph Specimen — Kitchen Gardening, A Hobby.

People have different types of hobbies that they like to pursue in their leisure time. A healthy hobby keeps a person busy in a productive way. Also, it gives them pleasure and keeps them mentally healthy too. Some of the hobbies include sewing, trekking, photography, painting, etc. My hobby is kitchen gardening. It keeps me in harmony with nature, plants, and other flora. I enjoy cultivating such fruits, vegetables. and herbs in my kitchen garden which I need everyday. Kitchen gardening is not just gardening, it cultivates a lot of good habits in me such as eating healthy home grown fruits and vegetables, It also develops a great deal of patience in me, watching my plants every day, caring them for a long period, watering and pruning them. Kitchen gardening is a healthy hobby which keeps me active and give a sense of accomplishment when my family enjoy fresh organic vegetables, fruits and herbs.

Paragraph Specimen — Pakistani Women.

Women in Pakistan have begun to take an active part in different spheres of life. Job opportunities for them in the past were few. By and large, women worked as lady doctors, nurses, health visitors and teachers during the first ten years of Pakistan. But spheres for women now are greater than ever before. They seem well on the way to become even more active in the near future. They compete successfully in the Central Superior Services examinations. They are holding responsible positions in administration, customs, income tax, railways, foreign services, police and postal departments. Some of them are in the assemblies as MNAs. Quite a number of educated women are in banks and businesses. Pakistan had its first-ever woman Prime Minister in 1988 - 90 and again in 1994 - 1996. The women of Pakistan are now more conscious of their social and political status in the twenty-first century

Paragraph Specimen — Computers.

Computers are a vital part of our daily lives. Let's look at how computers are used in numerous fields and why they are so essential. As a result of the computer's increasing importance and necessity in modern life, performing numerous tasks and activities has gotten simpler for us. Computers can be used for a variety of tasks, such as swiftly and precisely solving mathematical equations, handling and processing data,storingn formation, and researching virtually any subject online. This remarkable invention was created in the second half of the twelfth century, and now it is essential to life. Calculators were invented in 1642 to make simple arithmetic operations like addition and subtraction easier. With every good, there comes evil. People misuse computers and create trouble for other people and organisations. Such as; it is easy to invade someone's personal space. Known people are easily distraught as their videos or information go viral on the internet. Without any investigation, people start spreading information which has a negative impact on that particular person's life. With great power comes great responsibility. As much as computers liberate everyone and give access to the entire world, one has to be responsible. Students can easily use computers to conduct research, make an assignment, and take online classes and exams. Whereas, at offices, all of the data is stored in computers which saves paperwork and the environment s eco-friendly. There is no doubt that computers are essential but we should be careful and use them to make our life better and easier not to overrun someone's privacy or spread rumours.

Essay Writing — Model Specimens

Specimen Essays (from the book)

Essay Specimen — My Last Day at School.

The first and the last day at school are of unique significance for students. While the first day at school may cause anxiety, fear and nervousness, the last day is surely a day of hope, confidence and preparedness. My last day at school is still fresh in my memory. I felt much relaxed because there was no teaching work that day. My heavy satchel was off my back at last. It was a big relief. I took the bus quite leisurely and got off at the school bus stop. I made my way through small groups of school fellows, talking noisily and a good many embracing one another. Our juniors of the ninth class hosted a farewell party and entertained us with a variety of sweetmeat and tea. Our worthy headmaster and kind teachers also participated. Formal farewell speeches were made on the occasion. A boy sang a ghazal and delighted the audience with his melodious voice. Finally, the headmaster addressed the gathering and advised the students to work with devotion and be well-mannered to get success and prosperity in life. Before dispersing, we thanked our juniors for their nice farewell.

Essay Specimen — Sports and Games.

Sports and games play an important role in the development of human personality. They are no less important than food and fresh water. The developed countries like England, Germany, France and the USA have made games an essential part of education at the school level. It is interesting to note that there are many nurseries and training centers for games in these countries. They admit boys and girls for necessary training to become future athletes, gymnasts and sportsmen. No doubt, games and sports are becoming popular in Pakistani schools as well. The facilities, of course, are not adequate at present. This situation is expected to improve in the near future. The Pakistani schoolboys and schoolgirls know fully well the meaning of the proverb: “All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.” They know that their growing bodies need regular physical exercise to keep themselves healthy and fit. General sports include hunting, fishing (angling), riding, cycling, mountaineering (mountain climbing), etc. Mountaineering is becoming a favourite sport of Pakistani schoolboys in summer time among the mountains of Muree, Nathiagalli, Swat, Chitral, Kaghan and the Karakoram Highway. A number of school clubs and societies hold athletic contests. These contests include walking, jogging, jumping, swimming, rowing, wrestling, boxing, hammer / discthrowing, lightweight lifting and gymnastics. An athlete is trained to be perfectly fit to engage in such contests. Moreover, football, hockey, cricket, tennis, badminton and table tennis are among the favourite organized games in schools. All such sports and games certainly benefit both mind and body. They create cheerfulness, discipline, fellowship, confidence and physical fitness.

Essay Specimen — My House.

A house, you know, is an important necessity. The quality of life improves when you have a house of your own. It gives you an opportunity to turn some of your dreams into reality. You decorate your rooms according to your own taste. You look after your plants and flowers with a loving care. I live in a small house not far from my school. The house is almost new. It is a little way back from the road, and in front of it there is a small garden. A path leads from the gate to the porch. A corner of the porch is evergreen with a lovely creeper that remains in brilliant bloom round the year. Downstairs there is a lounge, which is a general living room with television. This room is used as a reception room for guests. There is a dining room and a kitchen. The drawing room with a large window faces the front lawn. Upstairs are the bedrooms and the children's rooms. The rooms of my house are not large. The largest room is the lounge. It has windows on both ends for proper light and ventilation. My father and I love to work in the garden. We prune the bushes once a year and in summer we get our fruit-trees sprayed every month. My mother loves roses and spring flowers and looks after flower beds herself from time to time. I take care to keep the front lawn tidy enough by using a lawnmower. One's own house is a blessing indeed.

Essay Specimen — Courtesy.

Courtesy means excellence of manners or polite behaviour. It, of course, springs from good breeding and kindness of heart. A courteous man is pleasant and polite to everybody. He observes good manner on all occasions and always respects the feelings of others. When people meet, they greet one another saying 'Good morning' or 'Good evening' according to the time of the day. Muslims greet one another, saying 'Asslam-o-Alaikum', and they often ask about one another's health and well being. A Muslim greeting is a kind of wish, a prayer for mutual happiness, peace and security. The Holy Quran lays much stress on this form of greeting in sura Al-Noor verse 61. If you know two persons who happen to be strangers, it is your duty to introduce them to each other. If both are men, you introduce the younger to the older: “Please meet my elder brother ….” If both are women, but one married and the other single. You introduce the latter to the former. If one is a man and the other a woman, it goes without saying that you introduce the man to the woman, and not the other way round. You pronounce both names clearly if they are males and the two persons shake hands, saying “How do you do?” Good manners demand that you make no attempt to jump the queue. In a crowded bus, if you are physically fit, you give up your seat to an elderly person or to someone who is blind, disabled or sick. You have to say ‘Thank you’ to those who are good to you. Courtesy really makes everyday life more pleasant, more friendly and more meaningful.

Essay Specimen — Libraries.

With the spread of literacy, libraries have become essential tools for learning. Public instruction is making rapid progress everywhere in Pakistan. It is no more the privilege of the well-to-do only to acquire knowledge as it was not so very long ago. There are schools and colleges in almost every part of the country. The twenty-first century dawns with a sure promise to be a century of peace and educational explosion. Naturally, when there is thirst for knowledge, there is also an ever increasing demand for books and magazines. Everybody does not have the means to buy books of all sorts. Mass education programme is bound to suffer adversely if there are no free libraries for students. Our school libraries are not functioning properly. There are practically no reading or borrowing facilities. There is no whole time staff for libraries. Above all, there is no incentive to read general books or fiction. The few books that may be there in the dusty old almirahs stink awfully. This is mainly so for want of fresh air in the stuffy, locked cupboards. More often the books are just old titles, moth-eaten and worn out. Libraries obviously play an important role in creating a genuine love of books and interest in current affairs. Their reading rooms promote a spirit of discipline, research, enquiry and fellowship. Libraries with a variety of attractive titles have a healthy and beneficial effect on the eager minds of students.

Essay Specimen — Health.

“Health is Wealth” is a well known proverb often quoted by our parents and teachers. When people meet, they usually ask one another “How are you?”, “How are you getting along?” Health is precious and certainly a great blessing of Allah Almighty. Hygienic environment, personal cleanliness, wholesome food and a regular way of life are conducive to health. Early to bed and early to rise, meals at regular times, recreation and rest are sure to make a man healthy, wealthy and wise. Young people, who have plenty of energy, need to take vigorous athletic exercises in the fresh open air. In case we are run down, overworked or dreadfully sick we consult a good doctor. He gives us a tonic or prescribes a special diet. “You are working too hard”, he may say, “that's what the trouble is. You cannot go on burning the candle at both ends.” Sometimes staying at one place, year in and year out, tends to make us weary and stale. It is a signal that what we need is a complete change in our environment. If we go to some other place on the hills or in the countryside, it does us a world of good. Change and fresh air are better than all the tonics in the world. Eating out is generally avoided by health conscious men and women. Home-made meals are the safest and the best in the world.

Essay Specimen — The Monsoon / A Rainy Day.

In the first week of July, the sky was heavily overcast and rain clouds swept across the sky. Strong south-westerly winds that blew over the Indian Ocean, brought the monsoon clouds which caused a lot of rain. South-westerly monsoon is refreshingly cool and it brings relief to the gasping, heat stricken people. So it did in July when the temperature rose alarmingly high. Newspapers carried reports of deaths by heatstroke or exhaustion and the death toll was mounting everyday. A night before, it had been oppressively hot and humid. It was a dazzling sunrise and the moist dew on the grass glittered in the sunshine. Surprisingly, the wind rustled through the swaying tops of trees that was splendid. The humid heat was gone in no time. We saw the rolling mass of black clouds across the sky. There was a flash of lightning, quickly followed by a clap of thunder. Large rain drops began to fall. The moment they fell, the dry earth sucked them. It was followed by a heavy shower. In the soothing shadows of dark clouds the streets were turned into streams. The high walls were drenched, the leaves of trees sparkled in glee. Low-lying areas were flooded. The young and the old alike ran up and down the flooded streets. There were scenes of jubilation all around. It rained for about an hour. Light vehicles broke down on the flooded roads. Motorcyclists slipped and fell in pools of water. Nobody felt sorry. You know, it does not rain everyday. Does it?

Essay Specimen — A Scene at a Railway Station.

The British invented the railway and the locomotive. The rail-track was laid for the trains to connect different towns and villages on the route. The train, drawn by heavy engine, would stop briefly for the passengers at places called railway stations. There are obviously typical scenes at a railway station. The smart, uniformed stationmaster and his staff hurriedly move about when some train arrives or is about to leave. The platform is thronged with passengers: men, women and children. Some stay close to their piles of luggage; others just walk about looking at colourful ads. The vendors do a roaring trade. Their brightly lit stalls or carts at different points attract passengers. There is noise and clamour all around. Meals, fruits, books and magazines sell like hot cakes. The prospect of long, arduous and tiring journey ahead worries the passengers. In summer, pitchers and fans are in great demand. Water coolers and taps are the busiest spots. Such a bustle follows when the train pulls in at the platform. Some people pick their way politely along the crowded platform, while others bump into one another as they go hurriedly from one compartment to another. The porters in their red shirts are seen bustling about. A hawker hurries from door to door, crying, “The Jang”, “The News”, “The Nation” and “The Nawa-i-Waqt.” Such are some of the scenes at the railway station.

Essay Specimen — A Hockey Match.

I was delighted to witness a hockey match between Pakistan and Germany at Pakistan stadium recently. The players of both the teams showed qualities of strength, speed, stamina, agility and mobility until the final whistle. The Germans dominated in the beginning but the Pakistani players fought back and coordinated remarkably. The Germans made strong attempts but our goalkeeper made spectacular saves. The match was suspended briefly when the home crowd fired crackers which caused a dense smoke all around. The Pakistani forwards kept the ball in their possession and played like a team. The only weakness, however, was in the striking of penalty corners. The team played with full devotion. Pakistan opened its attack mostly from the flanks but speed and timely interception of the Germans saved them. Our left half took the ball from the German attackers and after running up a few paces, sent in a through pass to the inside left. He dispatched the ball towards the goal with a flick. Another Pakistani player who was closely following him, tapped the ball to score the goal. The crowd went wild with joy at the victory of Pakistan.

Essay Specimen — A Cricket Match.

A cricket match between the two leading teams is an event of great charm. It was quite interesting to watch a match between two teams in the President's Gold Cup cricket tournament. The Rawalpindi Greens took a brilliant start after wining the toss. Openers Masood and Tariq together laid a solid foundation of 121 before being parted. Masood was in top form and he hammered the D.I. Khan bowlers all around the vast field. He scored a dashing 75 in only 81 deliveries which included eight sizzling fours and two towering sixes. He was finally caught by Jahandad at long mid on off Sahir when attempting another big hit. The D.I Khan fielders were not active enough and they dropped even easy catches quite often. The Greens scored magnificent 381 runs and Javed impressed the spectators with his strokes. He shattered the rival bowlers and hit his first century in the tournament. D. I. Khan in reply were dismissed for 195. Some of their players cut a sorry figure. Only Jamshed and Shakir played brilliantly and delighted the people with their strokes and a couple of towering sixes.

Essay Specimen — A True Muslim.

To be a Muslim is a great blessing of Allah. It is indeed His mercy to make us believe in Allah and His Ambiya (م ّ ا (; the final one being the Rasool Hazrat Muhammad). The hallmark of a true Muslim is the magnanimity of heart. A true Muslim believes that Allah is the Light of the heavens and the earth. He remains conscious that Allah knows all the facts - even the innermost secrets of hearts. He believes that man can grasp only that part of His knowledge which Allah wills. He spends good, worthy things in the name of Allah. He knows that if he gives alms to the poor secretly, it will be hopefully enough atonement for some of his sins. A good Muslim is ever eager to seek knowledge. He is clean, brave and pure. He does his duty well. He tries to attain excellence in every field of life. He offers namaz punctually five times a day. A true Muslim believes that good deeds bear rich rewards in the hereafter. It is indeed a great privilege to be a Muslim.

Essay Specimen — Life in a Big City.

Daily life in a big city like Lahore is ever so busy and exciting. The busiest parts of the day are called peak hours. The rush of traffic in the morning, at midday and in the early evening is at its peak. The big urban transport, buses, wagons, cars, coaches, private transport vehicles, taxi cabs, motorcycles, tongas and carts pass up and down from morning till late at night. At peak hours, the noise of the passing traffic is so high that two persons cannot hear each other. The busiest and terribly noisy spots in Lahore are the Minar-e-Pakistan, Badamibagh, Bhati Gate, Mochi Gate, Railway Station, Regal Crossing, Laxmi Chowk, Ichra and Multan Road. Important buildings of Lahore like Lahore High Court, G.P.O, Museum, Jinnah Hall, Punjab University (old campus), Masjid Shuhada, the Assembly Chambers, WAPDA House, Zoo, Al-Hamra, Quaid-e-Azam Library, Governor House, Aitchison College, shopping centers and foreign banks are situated on the Shahra-e-Quaid-e-Azam (The Mall). This main avenue is remarkably clean and green. There is practically no dust and its pavements are crowded with people hurrying to and fro. Traffic policemen are always on duty here and they regulate the heavy traffic efficiently. Well over a hundred thousand vehicles and half a million people pass up and down this busy thorough-fare in a single day. Local and foreign tourists' traffic to ancient sites like Badshahi Masjid, Lahore Fort, the Jehangir and Noor Jehan Mausoleums and the Shalimar Garden is also quite heavy. Life in a big city like Lahore is a whirl of activities. On the other hand, broken streets, stray dogs, ill-smelling slums, stagnation, sloppy administration, soaring crimes and sickening pollution are the sore signs of city life as well.

Essay Specimen — Village Life.

Village life is most of the time remarkably quiet. A village is made up of farmhouses, mud houses, uneven dirt lanes and ponds. There are dunghills, heaps of rubbish and rows of dung-cakes. Inside the village there is practically no vehicular traffic. Occasionally, there is a whirring tractor or squeaking bullock cart in some of the outer lanes. In some of the big courtyards there are clusters of shady trees. Outside the village, there is usually a big Bunyan tree along the pond. Village folks and some of their cattle take rest in its ample shade in summer. The minarets of the village masjid rise high above the low skyline of a village. There are cattle and cart-sheds, dark and ill-smelling, where cows and buffaloes are kept. There are a couple of stables for horses and a few poultry houses. The chickens, ducks and geese are free to run about in the open spaces as they please. When all the birds and animals make their cries, the village becomes a noisy place for a while. The donkeys bray, the cocks crow, the hens cackle and cluck. The ducks in dirty drains quack, the horses neigh, the bulls bellow, the cows moo. The dogs bark and growl, the cats mew and the owls screech at night. The farmer ploughs his fields in the morning. The harvest time is very busy. Men, women and children work together at this time. A hard life indeed! The village folks are really the backbone of our country. They are stout of hearts and strong of limbs. They face harsh conditions in villages and around, but they seldom complain. As compared to big cities, they seem to have stepped back into another century.

Essay Specimen — Television.

Television is one of the marvelous inventions of science. Indeed it is a magic box; pictures and images flick across the screen and delight the viewers. The world of news and entertainment is moving very fast. Television and radio have come to stay in our lives. Television programmes in general and drama in particular have always fascinated me a lot. I should frankly admit that upto class VIII, I spent much of my time watching different programmes. But now I am selective and see only what suits my taste. I know that watching television for long is harmful for the eyesight. Too much exposure to the flickering light damages the sight. Sitting before the set in an awkward position also causes pain in limbs. Neck-bone and shoulders are also badly affected. What I like most on TV is “The World of Nature”. No other programme can be that wonderful. Each programme on nature, animals and landscape gives me a glimpse of the beautiful world. I feel like discovering the world in which I live. I feel I know very little of the vast and wonderful world of wonderful forms. “The World of Nature” programme gives me a lot of information and understanding. Creation of so many moving creatures is one of the sure signs of Allah Almighty. One of the divine names of Allah is “Al-Musawwir”. He is the Creator, the Painter, the Originator of so many forms of beauty and their perfect proportions. “The National Geographic” programmes on TV always bring to me a new glimpse of natural beauty. I love it. It is amazing indeed.

Essay Specimen — A Visit to a Hill Station.

My love of adventure comes naturally to me. The degree of love varies from person to person. My adventuresome spirit prompted me, and a friend of mine suggested to visit Naran in Kaghan Valley. One July morning, we left for Abbotabad by bus and reached there in the afternoon. The journey was tiring and we slept soundly for the night. Next morning, we left for Balakot. On the way, we passed by Jangal Mangal and Jabba, over 20 kilometers from Mansehra. Around Jabba, there was a thick forest and the beauty of the landscape was simply breathtaking. There were very sharp, hairpin turns on the road near Batrasi. We saw the conjunction point where the river Kunhar meets two other streams near Garhi Habibullah. The hills around looked beautiful with clouds clung round their tops. There was a rope bridge over the Kunhar near Shohan. It was a strange experience to hear the noise of the rushing river water at Balakot. The noise was all around. Everywhere, inside shops, houses, masajid and out on the roads, open spaces and slopes, the noise dominated. At night when I woke up, I could hear this noise in the hotel room also. In the evening, we visited Shah Ismail Shaheed's grave in the outskirts of Balakot. Balakot was devastated by the severe earthquake on October 8, 2005. The site-plan will give a new look to Balakot. The road to Kaghan was in a bad shape. It was high in upper half of the high mountain slope and the River Kunhar looked like a ribbon far below. There were many dangerous turns. Our jeep crossed about eight glaciers from Kaghan to Naran. Naran is 7890 feet above the sea level. It was very still in the woods around Naran. There were logs in the river. There was a fast flowing ice-cold stream from Saiful-Maluk Lake to the Kunhar at Naran. The sight was really breathtaking. All around, there were summits and slopes and the noise of the rushing stream. The Saiful-Maluk Lake is 10537 feet above sea level and over 12 km from Naran. There was a huge glacier on the way up from Naran. It was an extremely enjoyable and unforgettable trip. We were thoroughly refreshed when we came back from Naran.

Essay Specimen — Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah.

The bright star of the history of Pakistan is Muhammad Ali Jinnah. It was the will of Allah that the physically weakling son of Poonjah Jinnah would one day be the founder of Pakistan. He was born in Karachi on December 25, 1876. After his matriculation, he was sent to England for higher studies. He distinguished himself over there as a keen and upright student. He qualified from the Lincoln's Inn as a brilliant Barrister. On his return to India he joined the Indian National Congress. He was an ardent supporter of the Hindu-Muslim unity. But the narrow vision of certain communal leaders disappointed him. He decided to join the Muslim League. He inspired the Muslims of India with his glorious vision. He worked hard for a separate homeland for the Muslims. The odds were against him. The Hindus, the British and a section of the Muslims were hostile to him. But he grappled with every problem. His aim was high. He soared like an eagle. He organized Muslim League as a political party. The Muslims rallied round him; the hostile forces had to retreat. August 14, 1947 was the day of his triumph. Pakistan appeared on the map of the world. He took an oath of office as the first Governor General of the new country. Muhammad Ali Jinnah was the Quaid-e-Azam in the true sense of the word. His health had been breaking down under a heavy pressure of work. He died in Karachi on September 11, 1948. But founders and heroes like him never die. Do they?

Essay Specimen — Tolerance.

The aptitude for tolerance is the recognition that some things in life are beyond your control. It is the capacity to shrug off challenges and press on. It means not what you want other people to be or do, but who you are , matters. Giving everyone the same chance you would give yourself is what tolerance is. Although you are free to think for yourself and form your own opinions, you must respect those of others. Acceptance and understanding are key components of tolerance in schooling. If you acknowledge and comprehend that not everyone thinks and perceives things the same way as you do, learning will be pleasurable. Understanding that everyone has their own beliefs and methods of thinking is what is taught to us in our religion. Accepting many points of view is what tolerance all about; it has nothing to do with being right or wrong. Tolerance will give you the ability to show empathy for others, it teaches you patience and help you to recognise that things happen for a purpose. Your ability to be tolerant will help you recognise that life is too short to waste time being nasty or unkind. You will be able to let go of your anger and fully experience life when you are tolerant. Understanding that you cannot change another person but may alter your response to them is what tolerance is all about. You will be able to form your own opinions on people without external pressure if you are open-minded. Tolerance will offer your life meaning and the chance to teach others , giving you a lifetime skill. The ability to accept and see individuals for who they are is what tolerance is all about. Our religion also teaches us to be tolerant towards others under all circumstances.

Essay Specimen — Boy Scouts.

The Scouts Association was founded by Badan Powell, a Britisher, in 1910. The movement spread very fast because its objectives were simple and noble. A boy, wishing to become a scout is required to take an oath. He holds fast to his noble promise under all circumstances. He fulfills his duty to Allah Almighty, to his country and to the people in distress. Besides, he has a keen sense of loyalty to human and moral values. A boy scout is expected to be a well-balanced person. His morals are without a blemish. He enjoys a very sound physical and mental health. He is eager to help the injured, the needy and the handicapped. He refrains from hurting the feelings of others. Moreover, a boy scout has the qualities of leadership. He is firm and noble in command. He is humble and willing in obedience. He learns useful crafts and skills. He is efficient in using a knife and an axe, in trying to tie up various knots, in cooking food and in pitching a tent. In peace and emergencies, a boy scout shows courage, responsibility and selfconfidence. ESSAYS IN OUTLINE 1. My Favourite Book Books are so many and so very charming…. I like to read again and again “Tales of the Punjab” edited by Flora Annie … a collection of about 40 stories …very absorbing indeed…. Even in English translation the tales retain their rough, ready wit…. There is drama and humanity in all of them … the tales are old yet ever new … “Raja Risalu”, “The Wrestlers”, “The Barber's Clever Wife”, I like best … There are tales of wizards, princes, serpents and talking beasts…. In these tales we recognize the universal evils and timeless golden values of mankind …. Beauty, truth and honour conquer evil in the long run. 2. My Ambition Progress, peace and prosperity are the outcomes of human ambitions …. My ambition is to compete for a superior post in the C.S.S examination … not for vanity but for setting a new trend of serving fellow citizens … we hear a lot about corruption … misuse of powers… foul play … rudeness … red tapism … I pray to Allah Almighty for moral courage … to serve in the best interest of my country … to create a personal example of fair play and efficiency … to refrain himself from evil temptations … to live within my fair means … to hate ostentation… to decide cases on merit… to implement schemes for general uplift… 3. My Hobby A hobby is an activity pursued for pleasure or relaxation but not as a main occupation …. Kitchen work is my hobby where I make tea, wash up cups, saucers and the kettle …. If the sink is greasy or dirty with bits of bones or crumbs … I clean it, wash it with soap or surf … begins to sparkle… I prepare potato chips in the frying pan … I share them with others over a cup of tea … shami kabab, pakora, pulao and steamed rice, I cook better than anybody else in the house … the gas flame, the boiling oil, the sizzling pakora or chips relieve me of my strain of study … at leisure to do anything in the kitchen … feel well and fit again. 4. Our School Canteen Canteen … a place of rest and refreshments. Our canteen manager is a retired clerk of the school … tea, biscuits, bun and butter-some times Nan and Kababs also … utensils are substandard … edges of cups and saucers broken …

quality of tea-leaves inferior ... flies everywhere ... wooden chairs and benches ... kerosene oil stove ... it affects the taste of tea ... canteen crowded during the recess... 5. My Best Friend Devotion and sincerity are the true marks of lasting friendship. ... Adeel is my bosom friend ... soft spoken, energetic, studious ... a good player of badminton and table tennis... has a gentlemanly disposition .... His English vocabulary is astonishing ... reads fiction and magazines ... polite and well mannered, fairly tall... his hand-writing is superb .... There is dignity about him ... coming events cast their shadows before ... his teachers expect him to bring distinction to his school .... His ambition ... to go abroad for higher studies.

Vocabulary — Reference Word Lists

Vocabulary (from the book)

Vocabulary — Section A: Animals, Beasts, Birds, Reptiles, etc. (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

ant, ape, bat, bear, buffalo, bug, bull, calf, camel, chicken, cobra, cock, colt, crab, cricket, crocodile, cuckoo, deer, dove, duck, eagle, goose, grasshopper, kid, kitten, leach, leopard, lizard, locust, louse, mosquito, moth, mule, nightingale, partridge, peacock, pigeon, quail, scorpion, sparrow.

Vocabulary — Section A: Animals, Beasts, Birds, Reptiles, etc. (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

spider, squirrel, stag, swallow, tortoise, vulture, wasp, Buildings, airport, asylum, auditorium, barrack, bathroom, bedroom, bridge, castle, church, cinema, clinic, cloakroom, convent, court, factory, fort, godown, guesthouse, hospital, hostel, hotel, inn, jail, kitchen, laboratory, library, mint, monastery, museum, nursery, observatory, orphanage.

Vocabulary — Section A: Animals, Beasts, Birds, Reptiles, etc. (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

palace, playground, policestation, port, prison, resthouse, restaurant, sanatorium, shrine, stadium, temple, theatre, university, zoo.

Vocabulary — Section C: Kitchen Utensils and Household Articles (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

blanket, cupboard, wardrobe, cooker, fork, fryingpan, grate, jar, kettle, ladle, lid, stove, refrigerator, saucer, sponge, spoon, strainer, bedsheet, mirror, nailcutter, teapot, ashtray, basket, broom, bucket, carpet, cosmetics, couch, cradle, curtain, cushion, doormat, dressingtable, lantern, mattress, arrow, axe, bellows, bow, cartridge.

Vocabulary — Section C: Kitchen Utensils and Household Articles (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

chisel, compass, pillow, pillowcase, quilt, razor, rosary, rug, scissors, tap, television, tongs, towel, tweezers, vase, washbasin, dagger, hatchet, hoe, needle, peg.

Vocabulary — Section D: Tools (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

lathe, mill, pickaxe, plane, plough, saw, scalesbalance, screwdriver, shield, sickle, solder, spud, thimble, whetstone.

Vocabulary — Section E: Fruits, Vegetables and Spices (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

almond, aniseed, arum, apricot, banana, beans, beetroot, brinjal, cabbage, chillies, cinnamon, citron, clove, coriander, cucumber, cumin, cardamom, carrot, garlic, ginger, guava, melon, mint, mulberry, mustard, olive, onion, peach, pear, peas, pepper, pineapple, pistachio, plum, pomegranate, poppyseed, pumpkin, radish, raisin, raspberry.

Vocabulary — Section E: Fruits, Vegetables and Spices (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

spinach, tamarind, turmeric, turnip, vinegar, walnut, watermelon.

Vocabulary — Section F: Diseases (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

bruise, cancer, cholera, cold, constipation, cough, cramp, diabetes, dysentry, gout, headache, jaundice, malaria, measles, palpitation, paralysis, plague, pneumonia, smallpox, toothache, typhoid.

Vocabulary — Section G: Parts of Human Body (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

ankle, armpit, backbone, bowels, calf, collarbone, elbow, eyebrows, eyelashes, eyelids, gallbladder, gums, hip, kidney, mole, sole, spleen, temple, thigh, vein, waist, wrist, nail, liver, lung, navel, nerve, nostril, palate, palm, pupil.

Vocabulary — Section H: Geographical Terms (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

Autumn, breeze, canal, cave, climate, cloud, comet, continent, crescent, dew, drizzle, earthquake, peninsula, plain, season, Spring, universe, valley, volcano.

Vocabulary — Section I: Geographical Names (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

Abyssinia, Arabia, Arabian Sea, Atlantic, Britain, China, Cyprus, Egypt, equator, FarEast, Greece, India, Indian Ocean, Jordan, Mars, Middle East, Morocco, NorthPole, PoleStar, poles, Portugal, Spain, Constantinople, Syria, Damascus.

Vocabulary — Section J: Trades and Professions (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

actor, agent, astrologer, athlete, blacksmith, bookbinder, broker, butcher, butler, cobbler, darner, draper, pharmacist, dyer, electrician, goldsmith, greengrocer, mechanic, stationer, sweeper, teacher, midwife, pilot, porter, potter, sailor, seamstress, Some Expressive Words and Phrases, Idiomatic Comparisons, bitter, black, blind, bold, bright, brittle, busy, clear, cold, dry, green.

Vocabulary — Section J: Trades and Professions (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

hard, heavy, hot, loud, pale, quick, red, smooth, soft, still, stupid, sure, sweet, ugly, warm, white, as, gall, bar, lion, day, glass, bee, crystal, ice, rock, grass, lead, thunder, ghost, lightning, velvet, donkey, death, honey, toad, wool, snow, assembly, brood.

Vocabulary — Section J: Trades and Professions (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

board, bunch, bundle, choir, clump, cluster, crew, gallery, gang, herd, hive, hoard, horde, host, litter, pack, pair, quiver, range, sheaf, shoal, shower, stack, string, stud, suit, suite, team, troupe, yoke, of, people, directors, singers, trees, sailors, ships, pictures, bees, gold.

Vocabulary — Section J: Trades and Professions (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

savages, men, puppies, arrows, rain, camels, horses, clothes, rooms, actors, oxen, bark, bellow, bleat, blow, bray, buzz, cackle, caw, chatter, clang, cluck, coo, croak, crow, gibber, growl, grunt, hiss, hoot, howl, hum, jingle, lispcoobabble, moobellow, mew, neigh, quack, ring, roar.

Vocabulary — Section J: Trades and Professions (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

scream, screech, sing, squeak, talk, trumpet, twitter, yelp, dogs, bulls, donkeys, geese, arms, hens, cocks, apes, camel, owls, humming bird, babies, cattle, cats, ducks, bells, mice, parrots, elephants.

Vocabulary — Section L: Words often Mis-spelled (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

absence, occasion, acknowledge, parallel, across, foreign, privilege, address, forty, prove, already, fourth, quiet, altogether, goddess, quite, amongst, government, receive, article, grammar, seize, beginning, guard, separate, believe, height, success, interest, surprise, breathe, knowledge, thorough, business, laboratory, trouble, conquer, length, truly, certain.

Vocabulary — Section L: Words often Mis-spelled (words from the book; see the printed book for Urdu meanings).

library, until, coarse, marriage, usually, coming, minute, Wednesday, describe, necessary, whether, divine, neither, writing, either, niece, written, excellent, ninety, February, ninth.

Forms of Verbs — Reference Tables

Forms of Verbs (from the book)

Table of Question Words (from the book).

What, Which, Who, Whose, Whom, Where, When, Why, How, How much, How many, How long, How often.

Three Forms of Verbs — first table (Present — Past — Past Participle, from the book).

awake — awoke/awake — awoken/awaken; beat — beat — beaten; become — became — become; begin — began — begun; bend — bent — bent; bind — bound — bound; bite — bit — bitten; bleed — bled — bled; blow — blew — blown; break — broke — broken; bring — brought — brought; burn — burnt — burnt; buy — bought — bought; catch — caught — caught.

Some More Weak Verbs — Present — Past — Past Participle (from the book).

bend — bent — bent; bite — bit — bitten; bleed — bled — bled; breed — bred — bred; bring — brought — brought; build — built — built; buy — bought — bought; burn — burnt/burned — burnt/burned; catch — caught — caught; clothe — clothed — clothed; creep — crept — crept; cure — cured — cured; dare — dared — dared; deal — dealt — dealt; dream — dreamt — dreamt; dip — dipped — dipped; feed — fed — fed; feel — felt — felt; fall — fell — fallen; gird — girded / girt — girded / girt; has / have — had — had; hear — heard — heard; keep — kept — kept; kneel — knelt — knelt; lay — laid — laid; lead — led — led; leap — leapt — leapt; learn — learnt — learnt; leave — left — left; lick — licked — licked.

Verbs whose three forms are alike (from the book).

bet, burst, cast, cost, cut, hit, hurt, let, put, set, shed, shut, spread, sweat, thrust.

Essay Writing — Final EXERCISE (Model Essays)

EXERCISE — Write an essay on each of the following topics (model essays)

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: A Cricket Match. Model essay.

A cricket match is one of the most exciting events in our country. Last Sunday, I watched a match between our school team and a neighbouring school team at the district ground. A large crowd had gathered, and the atmosphere was full of cheers and excitement. Our team won the toss and decided to bat first. The openers played carefully and scored steadily. In the middle overs, our captain played some beautiful strokes and the score rose quickly. The rival team chased the target bravely, but our bowlers kept their nerve in the final overs and we won by twelve runs. The match taught me that teamwork, patience and discipline win games. It was a day I shall never forget.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: A Rain Storm. Model essay.

Last month, a heavy rain storm visited our town in the afternoon. Dark clouds covered the sky and a strong wind began to blow. Soon, rain fell in torrents and lightning flashed across the sky. The streets turned into streams of water and children ran home laughing and drenched. Farmers were happy because their crops badly needed water. After an hour, the rain stopped and the air became cool and fresh. Birds came out and sang again, and a rainbow appeared in the sky. The storm reminded me of the power of nature and the mercy of Allah, who sends rain to give life to the earth.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: My School. Model essay.

My school is a place I love. It stands near the main road of our town and has a large building with airy classrooms, a library, a science laboratory and a wide playground. Our teachers are kind and hardworking; they teach us with love and guide us like parents. We begin the day with the morning assembly, where we pray and sing the national anthem. Besides studies, we take part in games, debates and Naat competitions. My school has taught me discipline, honesty and respect for others. I am proud of my school and I hope to bring honour to it by working hard.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: My Best Friend. Model essay.

Adeel is my best friend. We have studied together since class six and sit in the same class. He is soft-spoken, honest and hardworking, and he always helps me in difficult subjects, especially English and Mathematics. He is a good player of badminton and takes part in school games with great spirit. His teachers praise him because he is regular, punctual and respectful to everyone. Whenever I feel sad or worried, he comforts me and gives me courage. A true friend, as the saying goes, is a friend in need, and Adeel has proved this many times. I pray that our friendship lasts forever.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: A Visit to an Industrial Fair. Model essay.

Last year, I visited an industrial fair held in our city with my father.

There were hundreds of stalls showing textiles, machinery, furniture, handicrafts and electrical goods. I was amazed to see how machines work and how raw cotton becomes fine cloth. The stall of agricultural tools interested me most, because our farmers use them daily. There were also food stalls and a children's corner, which made the visit enjoyable. The fair showed me the progress of our country's industry and the hard work of our workers and engineers. I returned home with new knowledge and a desire to learn more about industry and technology.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: Our National Poet. Model essay.

Allama Muhammad Iqbal is our national poet. He was born in Sialkot in 1877 and received his early education there. Later, he studied in Lahore, England and Germany, where he earned great fame as a philosopher and poet. His poetry, in Urdu and Persian, awakened the Muslims of the subcontinent and gave them the idea of a separate homeland. His famous works include Bang-e-Dara, Bal-e-Jibril and Asrar-e-Khudi. He taught self-respect, hard work and faith in oneself through his concept of Khudi. He died in 1938, but his message still guides the nation. We honour him as the Poet of the East and the thinker of Pakistan.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: How to Make Tea?. Model essay.

Making tea is simple, but a good cup needs care. First, boil fresh water in a kettle. Put one teaspoon of tea leaves for each cup into a teapot, and pour the boiling water over them. Let the tea brew for three to four minutes so that it becomes strong and fragrant. Meanwhile, warm the cups with a little hot water and empty them.

Strain the tea into the cups and add milk and sugar according to taste. Stir well and serve hot with biscuits or cake. A well-made cup of tea refreshes the mind and is a symbol of hospitality in our homes. Guests are always welcomed with a cup of tea.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: Physical Fitness.

Model essay.

Physical fitness means a healthy body and an active mind. A fit person can work, study and play without getting tired quickly. We can keep fit by taking regular exercise, walking, running and playing games like cricket, hockey and football. Good food is equally important: we should eat fresh vegetables, fruit, milk and pulses, and avoid junk food and soft drinks. Enough sleep and cleanliness also keep us healthy. A famous saying tells us that a healthy mind lives in a healthy body. Students who are physically fit learn better and enjoy life more. We should all make exercise a daily habit.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: Picnic Spots.

Model essay.

Pakistan is blessed with many beautiful picnic spots. In Lahore, people enjoy the Jallo Park, the Shalimar Garden and the banks of the Ravi. Murree, Swat and the northern areas attract visitors with their cool climate, green valleys and snow-capped peaks. Sea View in Karachi is a favourite spot for the people of the city. A picnic gives us rest from daily routine and brings families and friends together. We should keep these spots clean, avoid littering and protect trees and flowers, so that others may also enjoy their beauty. A picnic in nature refreshes both body and mind.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: Street Crimes.

Model essay.

Street crime is a serious problem in our cities today. Snatching of mobile phones, purses and motorcycles, and theft at gunpoint, have made people afraid to walk alone, especially at night. The main causes are unemployment, poverty, drug addiction and the lack of moral training. To control street crime, the police must patrol streets regularly and punish criminals quickly. Citizens should also be careful: they should avoid lonely streets at night and not display costly things openly. Parents and teachers must guide the youth towards honest work and good character. Only joint effort by the government and the people can make our streets safe again.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: What I want to become when I grow up. Model essay.

When I grow up, I want to become a doctor. I have seen sick people suffer, especially poor patients in villages who cannot afford treatment, and I want to serve them. A doctor's profession is noble because it saves lives and removes pain. To achieve my aim, I must work hard in science subjects, especially Biology and Chemistry, and secure admission to a good medical college. I will also develop patience, kindness and honesty, which a good doctor needs. I pray to Allah to help me fulfil this dream so that I may serve my country and humanity.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: Understanding the Holy Quran with Translation. Model essay.

The Holy Quran is the last and complete book of Allah, revealed to the Holy Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him). It is a guide for all mankind, teaching us faith, worship, honesty, justice and kindness. Merely reciting the Quran is a blessing, but understanding it with translation is far more rewarding, because then we know what Allah commands us to do. Translation helps us apply its teachings in daily life: we learn to pray, to respect parents, to help the poor and to avoid evil. Every Muslim should read the Quran daily with translation and act upon its message.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: A Railway Journey. Model essay.

Last summer, I travelled by train from Lahore to Karachi with my family. The train left the station in the morning and we got comfortable seats near the window. As the train moved, I enjoyed the changing scenes: green fields, villages, rivers and towns passing by. Vendors sold tea, snacks and newspapers at stations. Fellow passengers talked and shared food, which made the journey pleasant. At night, we slept in our berths and woke up near Karachi. The journey was long but comfortable and cheap. A railway journey is a wonderful way to see the country and meet its people.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: Prayer and its Meanings. Model essay.

Prayer, or Namaz, is the most important pillar of Islam after faith. A Muslim offers five prayers daily: Fajr, Zuhr, Asr, Maghrib and Isha. Prayer keeps us close to Allah and saves us from evil deeds. When we pray with understanding, every word becomes meaningful: in Surah Fatiha we praise Allah, seek His help and ask for the straight path; in Ruku and Sajda we show humility before our Creator. Prayer also teaches punctuality, cleanliness and unity, as Muslims stand together in rows. A person who prays regularly finds peace of mind and strength in difficulties.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: Junk Food. Model essay.

Junk food means food that is tasty but unhealthy, such as burgers, pizzas, chips, cold drinks and fried snacks. It contains too much fat, salt and sugar but very little nutrition. Eating junk food daily causes obesity, stomach problems, weak teeth and even heart disease. Children are its main victims because advertisements attract them. We should avoid junk food and eat home-made food instead: fresh vegetables, fruit, milk, eggs and whole grains give us energy and keep us healthy. Parents and schools should discourage junk food and teach children the value of a balanced diet.

Final EXERCISE (book p. 194) — Write an essay on: Importance of Dictionary. Model essay.

A dictionary is a very useful book for every student. It tells us the meanings, spellings, pronunciations and uses of words. When we read a difficult word in a lesson, the dictionary helps us understand it at once. It also improves our vocabulary and our skill in writing and speaking English. A good student keeps a dictionary on his study table and uses it daily. In modern times, online dictionaries are also available, but a printed dictionary needs no internet and is always ready. Regular use of a dictionary is the key to mastering a language.