Unit 1 — MORNING WALK (pages 8 to 18)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 8): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; respond to text with reasons and personal opinions; engage in simple conversations that require performing everyday tasks and speech acts, such as introducing themselves and others, giving directions, making a call, making requests; use a dictionary or electronic means to find the spelling and meaning of words; recognize alphabetical arrangement of words based on first two letters as preparation for glossary or dictionary use; understand and use different types of nouns i.e., common, proper, countable, uncountable and collective nouns; develop consistency in the size and proportion of letters and the spacing of words; practise joining letters in handwriting.

Pre-reading (page 8)

Q: Do you go on a walk early in the morning?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: Yes, I go for a walk early in the morning with my father.

Q: What do you see and hear outside in the morning?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: I see birds, trees and flowers, and I hear birds singing and people walking.

Lesson text (pages 8-10) — Morning Walk

Ahmed lives in Quetta. One day, he woke up very early in the morning. The sky was soft and light grey and a cool breeze was blowing. He got out of bed, brushed his teeth and washed his face. Then he put on his tracksuit and joggers. His mother gave him a bottle of water and reminded him to be careful while crossing the road. The night before, Ahmed had told his cousin Zain that he would go for a morning walk. So, early in the morning, Zain came to Ahmed's house. As Ahmed stepped outside, he saw Zain waiting at the gate with a smile. 'Let's go together!' said Zain happily. The road was almost empty. A few men were walking or riding bicycles. They could see tiny drops of dew on the grass and the leaves. Ahmed and Zain talked and laughed as they walked to Jinnah Park, which was just a few minutes away from their home. When they reached the park, they were happy to see green trees and flowers all around. A gardener was watering the trees and plants. The boys removed their shoes and walked on the soft, wet grass. It felt cold and tickled their toes. After walking and playing for about fifteen minutes, they sat under a tree and drank some water. Zain saw a butterfly and tried to chase it. Ahmed laughed and ran after him. They both felt full of energy and very fresh. Soon, it was time to go back. Zain said goodbye to Ahmed at the street corner near their homes and waved with a smile. He turned towards his house, feeling cheerful after the walk. When Ahmed returned home, his mother had prepared a healthy breakfast of paratha, an egg and a glass of milk. Ahmed washed his hands and had his breakfast. Ahmed had learnt that morning walk is good for health, gives us energy and keeps our mind fresh. He decided to wake up early every day and enjoy a morning walk.

While Reading (page 9)

Q: What did Ahmed and Zain see and hear on the way to the park?

A: They saw a few men walking or riding bicycles, and tiny drops of dew on the grass and the leaves; they talked and laughed as they walked.

Q: What did Ahmed and Zain do in the Park?

A: They saw green trees and flowers, watched the gardener watering the trees and plants, walked barefoot on the soft, wet grass, sat under a tree and drank water, and chased a butterfly.

Q: Why is morning walk good for our health?

A: Because it is good for health, gives us energy and keeps our mind fresh.

Oral Communication Skills (pages 11-12) — Dialogue

Two children meet at school for the first time; a teacher joins later. Ahmed: Assalam-o-Alaikum! My name is Ahmed. What is your name? Bilal: WaAlaikumAssalam! I am Bilal. Nice to meet you, Ahmed. Ahmed: Nice to meet you too. I am in Class Two. Bilal: I am also in Class Two. Who is he? (Bilal looks at Ali as well) Ahmed: He is my cousin. His name is Ali. Bilal: Hello, Ali! Ali: Hello, Bilal! (The teacher walks by) Teacher: Good morning, children! Ahmed, Bilal and Ali: Good morning, Teacher! Teacher: What are your names? Ahmed: I am Ahmed. Bilal: I am Bilal. Ali: I am Ali. Teacher: That is great! Welcome to class. Let us learn together. (Speaking activity — practise in pairs and introduce yourselves one by one in front of the class.)

Vocabulary — Alphabetical Order (pages 12-13)

Alphabetical order is a method of arranging words or items in a list according to the sequence of letters in the alphabet, with a specific focus on the initial two letters of each word. Example words: bus, box, bat, buy, bed. Alphabetical arrangement: bat, bed, box, bus, buy.

Activity A (page 13) — Arrange the given words in alphabetical order based on first two letters

Given words: cake, city, carrot, dog, dig, bird, bud, frog, fish, bear, ball, apple, ant, banana, ball. Alphabetical order: ant, apple, ball, ball, banana, bear, bird, bud, cake, carrot, city, dig, dog, fish, frog. (Note: the book prints 'ball' twice in the word list — both copies are kept in the order above, flagged.)

Activity B (page 14) — Use a dictionary or an electronic means to find the spelling and meaning of the given words

Word — Meaning

blowing — moving air (given in the book)

peaceful — calm and quiet tickled — lightly touched so that it tingles or makes one laugh empty — having nothing inside

chase — to run after someone or something to catch them

Spelling correction (pages 14-15) — Incorrect spellings and their correct spellings

Incorrect — Correct

kandels — candles

librairy — library

haapey / Haapey — happy

whitte / Whitte — white

flovar / Flovar — flower

(Note: the incorrect spellings haapey, whitte and flovar are repeated on page 15 with a capital first letter — the same corrections apply.)

Grammar — Noun: Types of a Noun (pages 15-17)

Missing word: bottles

Writing A (pages 17-18) — Write the given words in proper size

Words to copy in proper size: sleep, carry, crawl, folklore, traditional. (Handwriting activity — copy each word in the correct size and proportion.)

Writing B (page 18) — Rewrite the given sentences

1. The sun is shining brightly in the sky. 2. My cat plays in the garden. 3. We had a picnic. 4. I like to read books. 5. Sarah is my best friend. (Handwriting activity — rewrite each sentence in joined-up handwriting.)

Unit 2 — My Family (pages 19 to 37)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 19): listen to others and respond appropriately; learn to use initial and final consonant blends; read words having silent letters (e.g., -e like in cake, kite, home, -b like comb, plumber, limb); identify common and complex silent letters in words (e.g., almond, muscle, receipt, asthma); demonstrate the ability to identify and sort words from different reading materials, pictures and immediate surroundings: simple action words, naming words and describing words; recognise and apply capitalization to the initial letter of proper nouns; capitalize holidays, product names, and geographical names; use capital letters for beginning the first word of a sentence, for the word 'I' (e.g., I believe I can do better than that) for initials in names of people (e.g., M.A Rauf); recognize action word as verbs, use verbs in speech and writing; recognize that sentence comprise of subject + predicate, make simple sentences by using SV (subject and verb) and SVO (subject, verb and object) pattern; build up handwriting speed, fluency and develop an understanding of capital letters, full stops and question marks within a sentence.

Pre-reading (page 19)

Q: What makes a family?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: Love, care and living together make a family.

Q: Mention few things you like to do with your family.

A: Pupil's own answer — model: I like to play games, read stories and go on picnics with my family.

Lesson text (pages 20-21) — My Family

My name is Shazia, and I want to tell you about my wonderful family. We live in a house with a big garden where we play and enjoy on sunny days. There are six people in my family. They are very special people because each one of them makes my life brighter and happier. Firstly, there are my grandparents, Grandma and Grandpa. They are the oldest in our family, but they are also the wisest and kindest. Grandma bakes the most delicious cookies you have ever tasted, and Grandpa tells the stories from when he was a boy. Sometimes, we gather around them, listening to their tales with great interest. Secondly, let me introduce you to my parents, Mom and Dad. My mom is like a super lady. She is a teacher. She helps other kids learn new things every day. Dad is a doctor; he wears a white coat and helps people feel better when they are sick. Even though they are busy with work, they always make time for me and my sister. We love when they read us bed time stories or play games with us in the evening. Thirdly, let me introduce my little sister, Aisha. She is the youngest in our family. Aisha loves to read story books, and she is always full of energy. Sometimes, we argue, especially when she borrows my toys without asking, but most of the time, we are the best of friends. Finally, it is me. I am Shazia, the eldest sibling. I like to think of myself as the leader of our little group. I enjoy reading books, drawing pictures and going on adventures with my family. Whether we explore the park or bake cookies together, every moment we spend together is special to me.

Q: Which books does Aisha enjoy reading?

A: Story books.

Q: What did you learn about the importance of family?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: Family members love and care for each other, help each other, and make life brighter and happier.

Reading and Critical Thinking A (page 21) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. Who are the oldest members of Shazia's family?

A: Her grandparents, Grandma and Grandpa.

Q: 2. What is special about Shazia's grandparents?

A: They are the oldest in the family, but also the wisest and kindest; Grandma bakes the most delicious cookies and Grandpa tells stories from when he was a boy.

Q: 3. What professions do Shazia's parents have?

A: Her mother is a teacher and her father is a doctor.

Q: 4. How does Shazia describe her relationship with her little sister, Aisha?

A: Sometimes they argue, especially when Aisha borrows her toys without asking, but most of the time they are the best of friends.

Q: 5. How does Shazia feel about her family overall?

A: She feels every moment spent together is special, and each family member makes her life brighter and happier.

Reading and Critical Thinking B (page 22) — Re-write the following sentences by replacing the underlined words according to your family

Pupil's own sentences — models: 1. My grandfather is the head of our family. 2. He/She is a retired officer. 3. My father is a doctor. 4. On every Sunday, we go for picnic. 5. My grandmother helps me in my studies. (Each pupil replaces the underlined words with facts about their own family.)

Reading and Critical Thinking C (pages 22-23) — Read the questions carefully and tick the correct answer from the given options

1. How many people are in Shazia's family?

- Four
- Five
- ✓ Six
- Seven

2. What does Grandma bake?

- Cakes
- Bread

When two or more consonant sounds come together in a word and we hear each sound, it is called a consonant blend. Initial consonant blends — read aloud: swim, snack, skip, black, brave, cheer, climb, crash, drive, flag, glide, phone, plum, pray. Final consonant blends (e.g., nd, nk, nt, mp) — read aloud: band, bend, think, sunk, grant, hunt, jump, stump.

Activity A (page 23) — Complete the words by inserting initial consonant blends (sm, st, sp, sh, wh, tw, th, tr)

Blank — Completed word

__ip — ship (sh) __ell — smell (sm)

__in — spin (sp) __op — stop (st) __ick — thick (th) __ee — tree (tr)

__ist — twist (tw)

__irl — whirl (wh)

(Each blend in the box is used exactly once.)

Activity B (page 24) — Complete the words having final consonant blends (nd, nk, nt, mp)

Blank — Completed word

wi__ — wind (nd)

la__ — land (nd)

pla__ — plant (nt)

pai__ — paint (nt)

Silent Letters (page 24)

Silent letters are letters in words that are not pronounced but are retained in the spelling. Silent-e: cake, kite, home, plane, have, love. Silent-b: comb, plumb, thumb, climb, plumber, limb. Common Silent Letters — read aloud: 1. almond — the 'l' is silent; 2. muscle — the 'c' is silent; 3. debt — the 'b' is silent; 4. island — the 's' is silent; 5. knight — the 'k' is silent; 6. yacht — the 'ch' is silent; 7. half — the 'l' is silent. Complex Silent Letters: 1. receipt — the 'p' is silent; 2. asthma — the 'th' is silent; 3. Wednesday — the 'd' is silent; 4. autumn — the 'n' is silent.

Activity (page 25) — Underline and write the silent letters in the given boxes

Word — Silent letter

comb — b

half — l receipt — p castle — t know — k

sign — g

Oral Communication Skills (pages 25-26) — Dialogue

Father, mother, daughter and son are talking. Mama: Ahmed, can you tell us about your school today? Ahmed: Yes, Mama. Today, our teacher asked us to talk about our family. I told everyone that I have a loving family. Baba: That is nice, son. What did you say about us? Ahmed: I said that Baba works in an office and takes care of us. Mama is always busy making delicious food and helping us with our homework. Sara: And what about me? What did you say about me? Ahmed: I said that my little sister, Sara, is very naughty but also very cute. She loves playing with her dolls. Sara: That's true. But you forgot to say that I also love drawing. Mama: Ahmed, that was a great way to describe our family. It's important to listen to others and remember what they like. Baba: Yes, and always respond kindly. Like when Sara reminded you about her drawing, you should say something nice. Ahmed: Oh yes. You are really good at drawing, Sara. Your last drawing of our house was amazing. Sara: Thank you, Ahmed. Mama: That is how we should talk to each other with kindness. Baba: That is right. A good family always listens and respects each other. (Speaking activity — practise the dialogue in pairs in front of the class.)

Vocabulary — Sorting Out Words (page 26)

Simple Action Words: run, jump, eat, sleep, dance. Naming Words (Nouns): dog, cat, table, chair, book. Describing Words (Adjectives): blue, tall, fast, delicious, beautiful.

Activity (page 27) — Read the passage given below and sort out action, naming and describing words and write them in the respective column (My Garden)

Passage: I have a small garden in my house. My father and I water the plants every day. The flowers are beautiful and colorful. I love to watch the butterflies fly around. My mother helps me pick fresh vegetables. The sun is bright, and the air is cool in the morning. We all enjoy spending time in our garden.

Action words: have, water, love, watch, fly, helps, pick, enjoy, spending.

Naming words: garden, house, father, plants, flowers, butterflies, mother, vegetables, sun, air, morning, time. Describing words: small, beautiful, colorful, fresh, bright, cool.

Grammar — Action Words (verbs) (pages 28-29)

Action words, or verbs, are words that show what someone or something is doing. They can also show a state of being or existence. Picture words: walk, run, crawl, tiptoe, drag, push, jump, leap, skip, hit, hop, sit.

Sentences: 1. run: The dog likes to run in the park. 2. jump: She can jump very high. 3. read: He loves to read adventure books. 4. eat: We eat breakfast together every morning. 5. sleep: The baby sleeps soundly through the night.

Activity A (page 29) — Use the following words in your sentences

Word — Model sentence

laugh — We laugh together when we hear a funny joke.

pull — Ali pulls the rope with all his strength.

kick — Sara kicks the football across the field.

walk — We walk to school every morning.

talk — We talk about our lessons in the class.

throw — Ahmed throws the ball to his friend.

Sentence Structure — Subject and Predicate (page 30)

Subject: The subject is who or what the sentence is about. It tells us the main person, animal, thing, or idea that the sentence is talking about. Example: The cat sleeps — 'cat' is the subject. Predicate: The predicate tells us what the subject is doing or what is happening to the subject. It usually includes the verb and other words that give more information about the action. Example: The cat sleeps — 'sleeps' is the predicate. Subject and predicate examples: 1. The dog (Subject) — barks loudly (Predicate). 2. The sun (Subject) — shines brightly in the sky (Predicate).

S + V (Subject and Verb) pattern (pages 30-31)

Subject: The noun or pronoun which performs an action is called subject. Verb: The word that shows an action is called a verb. Examples: 1. Jawad (Subject) — plays (Verb). 2. Ammara (Subject) — cooks (Verb). 3. He (Subject) — writes (Verb). 4. She (Subject) — walks (Verb).

Activity (page 31) — Write five sentences having subject and verb

Model sentences: 1. Ahmed reads. 2. Sara sings. 3. The bird flies. 4. Ali runs. 5. Mother cooks.

S + V + O (Subject, Verb and Object) pattern (pages 31-32)

Object: The noun or pronoun that receives the action is called object. Example: He (Subject) paints (Verb) posters (Object). Who or what performs the action of the verb, is the subject. The verb is the word that expresses what that action is. Whoever or whatever receives that action, is the object.

Activity A (page 32) — Write five sentences having (SVO) subject, verb and object

Model sentences: 1. Ahmed reads a book. 2. Sara eats an apple. 3. Ali kicks the ball. 4. Mother cooks food. 5. The teacher writes a lesson.

Activity (page 32-33) — Read the following sentences and write the subject, verb and object in the given blanks

Sentence — Subject / Verb / Object

I play football. — I / play / football

She speaks English. — She / speaks / English

They cook food. — They / cook / food

We watch T.V. — We / watch / T.V.

My father likes meat. — My father / likes / meat

She reads story books. — She / reads / story books

Capitalization (page 34)

Capitalization is the use of capital letters in writing. It involves the practice of starting sentences with capital letters and capitalizing proper nouns and using capital letters for the pronoun 'I'. Examples: Quetta, Eid, Independence day, Next-Cola, Samsung, Mount Everest, Halloween.

Activity (page 34) — Capitalize the following words

Given — Capitalized

ramazan — Ramazan

new year's day — New Year's Day

playstation — Playstation

bolan river — Bolan River

ziarat residency — Ziarat Residency easter — Easter

chaghi desert — Chaghi Desert

Capital letter for pronoun 'I' and for initials (page 35)

We also use capital letters for pronoun 'I' and also for initials in names of people. Examples: 1. My favorite color is blue, and I like to draw pictures with blue crayons. 2. I believe I am a responsible student. 3. M.A. Rauf is an author. 4. Allama Iqbal wrote many poems.

Activity (page 35) — Capitalize the following sentences

1. I went to the zoo last weekend, and I saw a lion roaring loudly. 2. I enjoy eating ice cream, especially when I get to choose my favorite flavor. 3. Ahmed is the director of the company. 4. A.S. Edhi established the world's largest ambulance service. 5. Quaid-e-Azam Muhammad Ali Jinnah is the founder of Pakistan.

Writing — Capital Letters (page 35)

1. Capital letters are used at the beginning of sentences. 2. They are also used for the first letter of proper nouns. Examples: 1. We are going to school. 2. I visited Minar-e-Pakistan at Lahore.

Full Stop (.) and Question Mark (?) (page 36)

Full stop is used at the end of sentences that are statements or commands. Examples: 1. I like to read books. 2. Sit down, please. Question mark is used at the end of a direct question. Examples: 1. What is your name? 2. What is your favourite colour?

Activity (pages 36-37) — Re-write the following sentences with the correct punctuation mark: a capital letter, full stop, or question mark

1. What time is it? 2. My favourite colour is blue. 3. Where is the nearest library? 4. The cat is sleeping. 5. The sun is shining brightly. 6. What is the capital of Pakistan? (Answer for 6: Islamabad — the question itself is the exercise; the capital is Islamabad.)

Unit 3 — The Woodpecker (pages 38 to 49)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 38): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; respond to text with reasons and personal opinions; use strategies to learn blend unfamiliar words to read, including sounding out and separating them into syllables; make anagrams from simple one/two syllable words; provide missing letters in simple two/three syllable letters; identify and recognize the rules for the use of 'a', 'an' and 'the'; use of a, an with countable and uncountable nouns; listen and understand longer conversations from different contexts, short lectures and talks, radio and TV broadcasts, stories, and descriptions of events and will be able to identify main ideas; use of contractions with verbs (e.g., I'm, I've, she's, it's); spell and write familiar and unfamiliar words accurately.

Q: Can you tell the name of the bird shown in the picture?

A: The woodpecker.

Q: Tell the names of some other birds.

A: Pupil's own answer — model: sparrow, crow, pigeon, parrot, eagle.

Lesson text (page 39) — The Woodpecker

There are many beautiful birds in the world and one of them is 'woodpecker'. The woodpecker is an interesting bird. It is found in different colours and sizes. It has a strong, pointed beak that acts as a hammer to remove bark (tough material that covers the outside of a tree) from trees and find insects to eat. It has a long tongue, two to four inches long, that is sticky on the tip for catching insects. Most birds have one toe pointing back and three pointing forward on each foot. Woodpeckers are a little bit different. They have two sharp claws pointing back and two sharp claws pointing forward on each foot to help them hold on to the sides of trees. The life span of a woodpecker is 4-11 years (National Wildlife Federation). Their favourite foods are insects, fruit and nuts. These interesting birds live in forests and wooded areas with lots of trees. Woodpeckers can be found all over the world, except Australia. Picture labels: beak, front claws, back claws.

Post-reading (page 39)

Q: What are the interesting things about woodpecker?

A: Its strong, pointed beak acts as a hammer, its long sticky tongue catches insects, it has two claws pointing back and two pointing forward on each foot, and it lives 4 to 11 years.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions (page 40) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. In what sizes and colours woodpecker is found?

A: In different colours and sizes.

Q: 2. How does a woodpecker remove bark from trees?

A: With its strong, pointed beak, which acts as a hammer.

Q: 3. How many claws does a woodpecker have?

A: Four claws on each foot — two pointing back and two pointing forward.

Q: 4. What is the function of its claws?

A: To help the woodpecker hold on to the sides of trees.

Reading and Critical Thinking (page 40) — Read the questions carefully and tick the correct option

1. What is special about a woodpecker's beak?

- It is soft and small.
- ✓ It acts as a hammer.

- less than an inch

4. What is the lifespan of a woodpecker?

- 1-3 years
- ✓ 4-11 years

12-15 years

16-20 years

5. What do woodpeckers eat?

only fruits

only insects

only nuts

✓ insects, fruits, and nuts

Syllable (page 41)

A syllable is a word that is pronounced as a single sound. One Syllable Word: it is a unit of pronunciation having one vowel or one single sound. For example: cat, bat, hat, fish, walk, etc. Two Syllable Word: the words having two syllables are called two syllable words. For example: apple /ap/ /ple/, orange /or/ /ange/, walking /walk/ /ing/, etc. Three Syllable Word: the words having three syllables are called three syllable words. For example: important /im/ /por/ /tant/, excellent /ex/ /cel/ /lent/, etc.

Activity (page 41) — Read the following words and write the number of syllables

Word — Syllables

fish — One syllable

hat — One syllable

apple — Two syllables important — Three syllables

walking — Two syllables

orange — Two syllables

Oral Communication Skills (pages 42-43) — Lecture: Recycling

Teacher enters the classroom with a smiling face. Teacher: Good morning, class! Today, we're going to learn about something important — recycling! Can anyone tell me what this symbol means? Yes, Sarah? Sarah: It means recycling. Teacher: That's right! Recycling is when we give our old things a new life. When we recycle, we help to save our planet by reducing waste and saving natural resources. Look around you, class! We can recycle paper, plastic, glass, and metal! Recycling is easy! All we have to do is put our recyclables in the right bin. (Pointing to bins) Let me show you: The yellow bin is for putting plastic. The green bin is for green plants and leaves. The red bin is for general rubbish or waste. When we use the correct bins, we keep our environment clean and happy. Recycling is like giving our planet a big hug! (Activity, page 43: Identify the main idea of the lecture by focusing on its central message — model: Recycling gives old things a new life, reduces waste, saves natural resources, and keeps our environment clean.)

Vocabulary — Spellings (page 43) — Complete the spellings of the given words

An anagram is a word or phrase formed by rearranging the letters of another word or phrase, typically using all the original letters exactly once. Book examples: age + our = courage; eat + but = beautiful; sound + tree = tremendous. (Note: the book's own examples are loose — courage, beautiful and tremendous each add or drop letters against their parts, flagged; they are not exact anagrams.)

Activity A (pages 43-44) — Make anagrams from the given words acts — cats. table — bleat. orange — onager (a wild ass). family — my fail (two-word rearrangement using all the letters). basket — ask bet (two-word rearrangement using all the letters). (Note: fish, book and chair have no common single-word anagram at Grade 3 level — pupils may rearrange their letters freely; this is stated rather than inventing a false anagram.)

Activity B (page 44) — Provide missing letter in simple two/three syllable words

Given — Completed word (missing letter)

w__ndow — window (i)

libr__ry — library (a)

eleph__nt — elephant (a)

gard__n — garden (e)

ban__na — banana (a)

Grammar — Definite and Indefinite Articles (pages 44-46)

Indefinite Articles (a, an): 'A' or 'An' is called indefinite articles because it does not point out any particular person or a thing. 'a': We use 'a' before words that start with a consonant sound. Examples: a pen, a hat, a doll, a ball, a flower. 'an': There are five vowels in English alphabet: a, e, i, o, u. 'an' is used before the word beginning with a vowel sound. Examples: an ant, an egg, an inkpot, an orange, an umbrella. Read the following sentences and observe how 'a' or 'an' is used correctly: 1. I have a cow. (correct sentence) / I have a cows. (incorrect sentence) 2. It is an orange. (correct sentence) / It is a orange. (incorrect sentence). Definite Article (The): Rule for 'the': We use 'the' when talking about something specific or previously mentioned. Examples: 1. The dog in the yard is barking loudly. 2. Please pass me the book on the table. 3. He went to the store to buy some milk. 4. The girl with the red hat is my sister. 5. We visited the Lahore zoo last summer and had a great time.

Use of a, an with Countable and Uncountable Nouns (page 46)

We use 'a' and 'an' with countable nouns, but we do not use them with uncountable nouns. 1. 'a' and 'an' with Countable Nouns: a ball, a cat, a tree, a book; an apple, an elephant, an orange, an umbrella. 2. No 'a' or 'an' with Uncountable Nouns: uncountable nouns do not take 'a' or 'an' because they cannot be counted. Incorrect — Correct: a water — water; an advice — advice; a rice — rice. Examples in sentences: 1. I ate an orange. 2. He has a new pencil. 3. She drank water. (no article) 4. We need sugar. (not a sugar)

Activity (page 47) — Tick the correct option (a / an / no article)

1. I saw __ elephant in the zoo.

Punctuation — Contractions (page 47)

Contractions are short forms, commonly used in English to combine pronouns and verbs. Examples: 1. I'm (I am): I'm going to the store. 2. I've (I have): I've finished my homework. 3. She's (She is or She has): She's coming to the party. She's already eaten. 4. It's (It is or It has): It's raining outside. It's been a long day. 5. He's (He is or He has): He's speaking English. He's offered prayers. 6. They're (They are): They're playing football. 7. We're (We are): We're good students. 8. You're (You are): You're a good player of hockey.

Activity (pages 47-48) — Use the given contractions in sentences

Contraction — Model sentence

I'm (I am) — I'm going to school.

I've (I have) — I've finished my homework.

She's (She is) — She's my best friend.

She's (She has) — She's finished her lunch.

It's (It is) — It's a sunny day.

It's (It has) — It's been a long day.

Writing A (page 48) — Complete the words by filling in the missing letters

Example: b_o_ok — book (Something we read). 1. c_a_r — chair (We sit on it). 2. s_h_o_ _ — school (A place where we study). 3. b_l_o_n — balloon (Used for decoration at parties). 4. a_p_e — apple (A red or green fruit).

Writing B (page 49) — Rearrange the letters to form the correct word and write on the given blank

Example: rtiew — write. Hint: (We do this with a pencil). 1. lfmayi — family. Hint: (People who live together and love each other). 2. enpicl — pencil. Hint: (We use it to write). 3. aogmn — mango. Hint: (A yellow fruit). 4. athoecloc — chocolate. Hint: (A sweet treat made from cocoa).

Unit 4 — Tall Trees (Poem) (pages 50 to 59)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 50): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; respond to text with reasons and personal opinions; take turns to speak; apply grade-level word analysis skills to: (a) read common high-frequency words by sight at an appropriate grade-level; identify words with inconsistent but common spelling-sound correspondences; recognize and read grade-appropriate irregularly spelled words; recognize and match contractions to words (e.g., couldn't — could not); recognize and use opposite words in the text; recognize and use words similar to each other in the text; differentiate and use subjective, objective and possessive pronouns; use to spell simple high-frequency words and common irregular words.

Pre-reading (page 50)

Q: Where do birds make their nests?

A: In trees.

Q: Where can you see tall trees?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: In forests, parks and mountains.

Poem (page 51) — Tall Trees, by Eileen Mathias

With their feet in the earth, And their heads in the sky, The tall trees watch The clouds go by. When the dusk sends quickly The birds to rest, The tall trees shelter them Safe in a nest. And then in the night With the tall trees peeping, The moon shines down On a world that's sleeping.

Post-reading (page 51)

Q: How do trees help us in every day life?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: Trees give us fresh air, shade, fruits and wood, and shelter birds and animals.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions (page 51) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. What is the main theme of the poem 'Tall tree'?

A: Tall trees watch over the world by day and shelter birds at dusk, and stand guard while the world sleeps at night.

Q: 2. When do birds come to their nests?

A: At dusk, when the dusk sends them quickly to rest.

Fill in the blanks (page 52) — Read the poem 'Tall Trees' carefully and fill in the blanks

1. With their feet in the earth, and their heads in the sky.

Missing word: earth / sky

2. The tall trees watch the clouds go by.

Missing word: clouds

3. When the dusk sends quickly the birds to rest, the tall trees shelter them safe in a nest.

Missing word: rest / nest

4. And then in the night, with the tall trees peeping, the moon shines down on a world that's sleeping.

Missing word: night / moon

High-frequency words (page 52) — Read the given high-frequency words and, the, is, of, to, in, you, it, that, he, was, for, on, are, as, with, his, they, at, be. High frequency words are common words that appear frequently in written and spoken language.

Spellings (page 52) — Memorize the spelling and pronunciation of the given words does, friend, people, laugh, could, who, some, come, one, were, their, there, been, because, where, any, gone, through, another, said.

Irregularly spelled words (page 52) — Read the given irregularly spelled words because, people, different, again, busy, beautiful, heard, answer, caught, enough. Irregularly spelled words are words that do not follow common spelling rules, making them harder to sound out.

Contractions (page 53)

A contraction is a shortened form of two words formed by omitting one or more letters and replacing them with an apostrophe to indicate the missing letters. could not — couldn't; would not — wouldn't; should not — shouldn't; did not — didn't; does not — doesn't.

Activity (page 53) — Use the above contractions in your sentences

Contraction — Model sentence

couldn't — I couldn't find my book.

wouldn't — She wouldn't go out in the rain.

shouldn't — You shouldn't waste water.

didn't — He didn't come to school yesterday.

doesn't — The cat doesn't like cold milk.

Oral Communication (pages 53-54) — Taking turns to speak:

dialogue

Fahad: Hey! today our teacher talked about something really important: taking turns to speak. Do you know why it is important? Gohar: Yeah, I think it is so everyone gets a chance to share their ideas. Fahad: Exactly! When we take turns to speak, it means everyone gets a chance to share their thoughts and feelings. Imagine, we're having a chat. You have a great idea to share. What would you do? Gohar: I guess, I had raise my hand and wait for the teacher to call on me. Then, I had share my idea. Fahad: Perfect! Raising your hand and waiting to be called on is a great way to take turns when speaking in class. Now, let's say someone is talking about their weekend. What should the rest of us do while they are speaking? Gohar: We should listen quietly and wait for our turn to speak. Fahad: Exactly. When someone else is speaking, we need to listen attentively and wait patiently for our turn. Now, let's practise taking turns in our conversation. (Speaking activity — practise the dialogue in pairs. Note: the book prints 'I had raise' and 'I had share' for 'I would raise' / 'I would share' — reproduced as printed, flagged.)

Activity (page 54) — Have a class discussion on the importance of planting and caring trees in schools, homes and surroundings

Class discussion — model points: trees give fresh air and shade, shelter birds, keep the surroundings beautiful and cool, and we should plant and water them and not cut them needlessly.

Vocabulary — Rhyming words (pages 54-55)

The words which end with the same sound are called rhyming words. Read aloud: house — mouse; socks — locks; lake — rake; boat — goat; mice — dice; clap — snap.

Synonyms and Antonyms (page 55)

Synonyms are the words that have the same or almost the same meaning. Examples: like — love; nice — friendly; good — great; bad — terrible; big — giant, large; little — small; happy — joyful.

Activity A (page 56) — Choose the correct synonyms from the box and write in the given blanks accordingly (box: trash, happy, road, sack, rug, chef, see, ill)

Word — Synonym

sick — ill

cook — chef

glad — happy

street — road

garbage — trash

carpet — rug

look — see

bag — sack

Activity B (page 57) — Read the lesson once again and find out words similar to each other in the text

Similar words in the poem: tall — high (both describe height); watch — peep (both mean to look); rest — sleep (both mean to take rest). (Model answers — the poem's own similar-meaning words.)

Antonyms (page 57)

Antonyms are the words that have opposite meanings. Examples: dirty — clean; pull — push; slow — fast; light — dark; happy — sad; rich — poor;

cold — hot; wet — dry.

Activity A (page 57) — Write antonyms (opposites) of the following words

Word — Opposite

day — night

full — empty

in — out good — bad

high — low

Activity B (page 57) — Read the lesson and find out six words and write their opposites

Poem word — Opposite (model)

tall — short sky — earth

night — day

sleeping — awake

dusk — dawn

safe — unsafe

Grammar — Subjective, Objective and Possessive Pronouns (pages 57-58)

Subjective Pronouns: Subjective pronouns are used as the subject of a sentence. They perform the action of the verb or specify who or what is doing the action. e.g. I, you, he, she, it, we, they. Examples: 1. I am going to the store. 2. You are my best friend. 3. He likes to play soccer. 4. She is reading a book. 5. We are going to the beach. Objective Pronouns: Objective pronouns are used as objects of verbs or prepositions. They receive the action of the verb or show the relationship between the verb and other words in the sentence, e.g. me, you, him, her, it, us, them. Examples: 1. She gave him a book. 2. Please pass the salt to me. 3. They invited us to the party. 4. I saw them at the store. 5. He loves his parents. (Note: the book lists 'his' under objective pronouns in example 5 — 'his' is a possessive word, not an objective pronoun, flagged; the same point was flagged in Grade 2.) Possessive Pronouns: Possessive pronouns indicate ownership or possession. They show that something belongs to someone or something else, e.g. mine, yours, his, hers, its, ours, theirs. Examples: 1. The car is mine. 2. Is this pen yours or mine? 3. The cat licked its paws. 4. The house is theirs. 5. The book is hers.

Activity A (pages 58-59) — Fill in the blank with the correct subjective pronoun

1. I am reading a book. (She/ I)

Missing word: I

2. You are a good player. (You/He)

Missing word: You

3. I take exercise. (I /He)

Missing word: I

4. She is typing a letter. (You/She)

Missing word: She

5. They are going to Ziarat residency. (They/ I)

Missing word: They

(Note on item 3: as printed, 'take' agrees with 'I'; 'He' would need 'takes' — flagged.)

Activity B (page 59) — Fill in the blank with the correct objective pronoun

1. He gave me a pen. (my/me)

Missing word: me

2. Please pass the sugar to you. (you/him)

Missing word: you

3. They invited him to the party. (him/he)

Missing word: him

4. I saw her at the play-ground. (her/she)

Missing word: her

5. He respects his parents. (her/his)

Missing word: his

(Note on item 2: both 'you' and 'him' fit the sentence grammatically; 'you' is given as the model — flagged. Item 5 uses 'his' as a possessive word before 'parents'.)

Activity C (page 59) — Fill in the blank with the correct possessive pronoun

1. The bag is yours. (yours/your)

Missing word: yours

2. Is this ball mine? (mine/his)

Missing word: mine

3. The cat licked its paws. (its/it is)

Missing word: its

4. The doll is hers. (his/hers)

Missing word: hers

5. The bicycle is yours. (yours/her)

Missing word: yours

Writing (page 59) — Complete the spellings of the given words

Revision 1 — Units 1 to 4 (pages 60 to 63)

Oral Communication Skills (page 60)

1. Introduce yourself and your family. (Speaking activity — pupil's own introduction.) 2. Underline the silent letters in the given words: night — gh; wrong — w; wrap — w; knee — k; know — k; write — w.

Reading and Critical Thinking A (page 60) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. What did Ahmed's mother prepare for breakfast?

A: A healthy breakfast of paratha, an egg and a glass of milk.

Q: 2. Where do we learn basic values of life?

A: From our family.

Q: 3. How does a woodpecker remove bark from trees?

A: With its strong, pointed beak, which acts as a hammer.

Q: 4. Where do birds usually make their nests?

A: In trees.

Reading and Critical Thinking B (page 60) — Write the given words in alphabetical order based on first two letters

First set (cry, cone, can): can, cone, cry. Second set (cents, cream): cents, cream.

Vocabulary A (page 61) — Tick the correct spellings of the given words

Correct spelling — Incorrect spelling

comb — com

clock — kloak

special — speshal

celebrate — selebrate

children — childran

forest — fourest

Vocabulary B (page 61) — Make anagrams from the given words

Model rearrangements using all the letters: country — cur Tony; intelligent — gentile lint; price — no common rearrangement into real words at Grade 3 level (stated, not invented); pleasant — a planets. (Note: these revision anagrams have no unique Grade-3 answer — the models above use every letter exactly once where a real-word rearrangement exists, flagged.)

Grammar A (page 61) — Use the following verbs in your sentences

Verb — Model sentence

run — Ali runs fast in the park.

pull — Sara pulls the door open.

kick — Ahmed kicks the football.

walk — We walk to school together.

jump — The frog jumps over the stone.

throw — Bilal throws the ball to Ali.

Grammar B (page 62) — Write five sentences having subject, verb and object

Model sentences: 1. Ahmed reads a story book. 2. Sara drinks a glass of milk. 3. Ali plays cricket. 4. Mother makes delicious food. 5. The teacher writes on the board.

Grammar C (page 62) — Write synonyms (same meanings) of the following words by using dictionary

Word — Synonym

sick — ill

glad — happy

garbage — trash

big — large little — small

Grammar D (page 62) — Write antonym (opposites) of the following words by using dictionary

Word — Antonym

hot — cold

rich — poor

dirty — clean

happy — sad

wet — dry

Writing (page 63) — Write five sentences on 'My Teacher'

Model sentences: 1. My teacher is kind and helpful. 2. She teaches us English every day. 3. She tells us interesting stories. 4. She helps us with our homework. 5. I respect my teacher very much.

Unit 5 — My Beautiful Country Pakistan (pages 64 to 76)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 64): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; answer questions with some reference to single points in a text using pre and while reading strategies; ask questions for clarity and respond to questions from others; answer questions in multiple choice; recognize questions as interrogative sentences that begin with 'wh' questions; use interrogative pronouns to make question sentences; identify and classify the grammatical gender of naming words from immediate environment (masculine/feminine); recognize and use grade-level words that show feelings and emotions (e.g., bored, scared, shy, afraid, upset); use simple present verbs to show habitual actions; make questions by using wh-questions; use strategies for segmenting unfamiliar words to spell, e.g., breaking into individual sounds, separating into syllables.

Pre-reading (page 64)

Q: Read the title of the unit and guess what this unit is about.

A: This unit is about our beautiful country, Pakistan — its provinces, people, languages, games, culture and places to visit.

Q: What makes a country beautiful?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: Its mountains, rivers, green fields, kind people, rich culture and beautiful places make a country beautiful.

Q: Can you describe some things you like about your own country?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: I like the mountains, the green fields, our games and our festivals.

Lesson text (pages 65-67) — My Beautiful Country Pakistan

My beautiful country, Pakistan, is very special to me. It is in South Asia.

Pakistan is a beautiful country. Let's learn about the different provinces, people, languages, games, culture, and amazing places to visit. Provinces of Pakistan: Pakistan has four provinces: Punjab, Sindh, Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and Balochistan. Punjab: Punjab is known for its green fields where farmers grow important crops like wheat and rice. You can see large farms all over the land. The people of Punjab love delicious food and enjoy playing cricket, kabbadi and hockey. Punjab is home to big cities like Lahore, Faisalabad, Multan, and Rawalpindi. Lahore is full of history and has beautiful buildings like the famous Badshahi Mosque and Shahi Qilla. Sindh: Sindh is full of rich culture and history. You can visit the ancient city of Mohenjo-Daro, which is a very old city! The people of Sindh love to wear their traditional ajrak and Sindhi topi. Big cities like Karachi and Hyderabad are situated in Sindh. You can visit the Mazar-e-Quaid in Karachi where Quaid-e-Azam is buried. Khyber Pakhtunkhwa: Khyber Pakhtunkhwa has tall, snowy mountains and beautiful green valleys. You can see children in traditional Peshawari dress, smiling and playing. The famous Khyber Pass is also found here. Big cities here include Peshawar, Swat, and Dera Ismail Khan. The people are known for being very brave and friendly. Balochistan: Balochistan is the largest province of Pakistan. It has large deserts, high mountains, and beautiful places like the Ziarat Residency and the seaside city of Gwadar. The main cities of Balochistan are Quetta, Gwadar, and Khuzdar. The people of this province are kind, strong and friendly. Languages: Urdu is the national language of Pakistan, but other languages like Punjabi, Sindhi, Pashto, Balochi, Brahvi etc., are also spoken. Games: Pakistan is a country where people love to play different games. People enjoy playing cricket, football, hockey, and badminton. Hockey is the national game of Pakistan. Many people also like traditional games such as kabaddi and gullidanda. Handicrafts:

Pakistan is famous for its beautiful handicrafts. You can find delicate pottery in Multan, colorful embroidery in Karachi, beautiful woodwork in Swat, Balochi embroidered dresses, caps and shawls in Balochistan, and soft carpets in Peshawar. Festivals: We celebrate different cultural festivals like Eid, Independence day, Christmas and Holi. On these days people wear beautiful dresses and enjoy yummy food. Places to Visit: In Pakistan, there are many amazing places to visit! You can explore the ancient ruins of Mohenjo-Daro in Sindh, go hiking in the beautiful valleys of Swat in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, visit the stunning beaches of Gwadar in Balochistan, or see the historic Badshahi Mosque in Lahore, Punjab.

While-reading (page 66)

Q: What is the capital of your province?

A: Quetta is the capital of Balochistan (pupil's own province — Balochistan's capital is Quetta).

Post-reading (page 67)

Q: What are the special things about your country?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: Its four provinces, mountains, deserts, green fields, languages, games, handicrafts, festivals and beautiful places like Mohenjo-Daro, Swat, Gwadar and Lahore.

Q: What places have you visited in Pakistan?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: I have visited Quetta and Ziarat.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions (page 68) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. What is the name of your country?

A: Pakistan.

Q: 2. Write two or three sentences about Balochistan.

A: Balochistan is the largest province of Pakistan. It has large deserts, high mountains, and beautiful places like the Ziarat Residency and the seaside city of Gwadar. Its main cities are Quetta, Gwadar and Khuzdar, and its people are kind, strong and friendly.

Q: 3. Write some of the famous handicrafts made in Pakistan.

A: Delicate pottery in Multan, colorful embroidery in Karachi, beautiful woodwork in Swat, Balochi embroidered dresses, caps and shawls in Balochistan, and soft carpets in Peshawar.

Q: 4. What are some traditional games played in Pakistan?

A: Kabaddi and gullidanda (besides cricket, football, hockey and badminton).

Q: 5. What are the famous places of Pakistan?

A: Mohenjo-Daro in Sindh, the valleys of Swat in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, the beaches of Gwadar in Balochistan, and the Badshahi Mosque in Lahore, Punjab.

Reading and Critical Thinking (page 68) — Read the following sentences carefully and write 'True' if the statement is correct and 'False' if it is incorrect

True/False

False: 1. Pakistan is located in Europe and has a very cold climate.

True: 2. Sindh is known for its big cities like Karachi and Hyderabad.

True: 3. The people of Pakistan are very hardworking.

True: 4. Balochistan has a huge mountainous area and deserts.

True: 5. Urdu is the national language of Pakistan.

✗ False: 6. Punjab is the least populas province in Pakistan.

(Note on item 6: the book prints 'populas' for 'populous' — corrected here and flagged. Punjab is the most populous province, so the statement is False.)

Oral Communication Skills (pages 69-70) — Dialogue between father and daughter (Saima and her father Mr. Jalal)

Mr. Jalal: Hey, Saima, do you know that the Earth is mostly covered by water? Saima: Really, Dad? But how do we know that if we can't see it all? Mr. Jalal: That's a great question, Saima. Scientists use satellites and other technology to study the Earth from space. They can measure the amount of water covering the Earth's surface and estimate the total volume of water on our planet. Saima: Wow! that's so interesting. But why is water so important for life on Earth? Mr. Jalal: Another excellent question, Saima. Water is essential for life because it helps plants grow, provides habitats for animals, and is necessary for humans to drink and stay healthy. Without water, life as we know it would not be possible. Saima: I see. So, water is like the lifeblood of our planet. Mr. Jalal: Exactly! Saima. It's amazing how something so simple can be so vital for life. Remember, asking questions and seeking knowledge is a great way to learn more about the world around us. Saima: Thanks, Dad. I love learning new things with you. Mr. Jalal: You are welcome! (Speaking activity — practise the dialogue in pairs.)

Vocabulary (pages 70-71) — Read the given words that show feelings and emotions. Understand their meanings also

Writing (page 76) — Breaking Words into Individual Sounds; Separating Words into Syllables

Examples — individual sounds: c-a-t: /k/ /a/ /t/; d-o-g: /d/ /o/ /g/; s-h-i-p: /s/ /h/ /i/ /p/. Examples — syllables: bas-ket: /'bas. kit/; win-dow: /'win.dow/; el-e-phant: /'el .e.phant/.

Activity A (page 76) — Break the given words into Individual Sounds (fish, tree, bike, sun, book, duck, rain) fish: /f/ /i/ /sh/; tree: /t/ /r/ /ee/; bike: /b/ /ai/ /k/; sun: /s/ /u/ /n/; book: /b/ /oo/ /k/; duck: /d/ /u/ /k/; rain: /r/ /ai/ /n/.

Activity B (page 76) — Separate the given words into Syllables (tiger, apple, pencil, banana, computer, chocolate) ti-ger; ap-ple; pen-cil; ba-na-na; com-pu-ter; choc-o-late.

Unit 6 — The Importance of Cleanliness (pages 77 to 90)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 77): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; respond to text with reasons and personal opinions; speak clearly and confidently in a range of contexts including longer speaking turns; demonstrate an understanding of spoken words, syllables, and sounds (phonemes) and associate sounds with common spellings (graphemes) for the five major vowels; recognize and generate rhyming strings in writing (e.g., jokes, riddles, poems); change the regular nouns into irregular nouns (e.g., child-children, leaf-leaves); distinguish verbs according to meaning: for example, mental verbs (think, ponder) and feeling verbs (love, hate), saying verbs (babbled, jokes, and laughed); use present continuous (ing) for the actions taking place at the time of speaking and writing e.g., He is running to win the race; write simple descriptive paragraphs (giving general description of a person/object), using correct capitalization, punctuation and spelling, by using the process approach — brainstorming, mind mapping, writing a first draft.

Pre-reading (page 77)

Q: Why is cleanliness important?

A: Because it keeps us healthy and our world beautiful, and keeps dirt and germs away.

Q: How do you keep your home clean?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: I throw rubbish in the bin, wash my hands, and put my things back in their place.

Lesson text (pages 78-80) — The Importance of Cleanliness

Cleanliness is very important for keeping ourselves healthy and our world beautiful. When we talk about cleanliness, we mean making sure everything around us is neat, tidy, and free from dirt and germs. Let's learn why cleanliness is so important and how we can keep our surroundings clean. Cleanliness Matters: Firstly, cleanliness helps us stay healthy. When we keep our body clean by washing our hands, taking bath, and brushing our teeth, we can prevent germs from making us sick.

Cleanliness also keeps our homes and schools safe and comfortable places to be. Imagine how bad it would be if there were trash and dirt everywhere. Keeping Our Surroundings Clean: There are many simple things we can do to keep our surroundings clean. One important thing is to always throw our trash in the proper bins. We can have separate bins for different kinds of waste, like paper, plastic, and food scraps, and make sure to put our trash in the right one. Another way to keep our surroundings clean is to pick up litter when we see it. If we see trash on the ground, we can pick it up and throw it away in trash bin. Cleaning Up After Ourselves: It is also important to clean up wherever we go. If we make a mess while eating, we can use napkins to wipe up spills and crumbs. After playing with toys or games, we can put them back where they belong instead of leaving them scattered around. By cleaning up, we show respect for our belongings and the people around us. Taking Care of Nature: We should also take care of nature by not littering and by helping to keep parks, playgrounds, and other outdoor spaces clean. When we visit these places, we can make sure to pick up any trash we see and dispose it off properly. We can also help by planting trees and flowers, which make our environment cleaner and more beautiful. We can say that cleanliness is very important for keeping ourselves healthy and our world clean. By practicing good hygiene, keeping our surroundings clean, and taking care of nature, we can all do our part to make the world a better place. So let's remember to always stay clean and tidy, both for ourselves and for our planet.

While Reading (page 79)

Q: How can we keep our surrounding clean?

A: By always throwing trash in the proper bins, using separate bins for paper, plastic and food scraps, and picking up litter when we see it.

Q: How would you keep your home, school, or surroundings clean?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: I throw rubbish in the bin, wash my hands, clean up after eating and playing, and pick up litter in the park.

Comprehension questions A (page 80) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. Why is cleanliness important for our health?

A: Because keeping our body clean by washing hands, taking a bath and brushing teeth prevents germs from making us sick.

Q: 2. How does cleanliness contribute to making homes and schools safe and comfortable?

A: Clean homes and schools are safe and comfortable places to be; trash and dirt everywhere would make them bad places.

Q: 3. What are some simple actions mentioned in the text that help keep our surroundings clean?

A: Throwing trash in the proper bins, using separate bins for paper, plastic and food scraps, and picking up litter when we see it.

Q: 4. Why is it important to clean up after ourselves?

A: Because by cleaning up we show respect for our belongings and the people around us.

Q: 5. What role does taking care of nature play in maintaining cleanliness?

A: Not littering, keeping parks and playgrounds clean, picking up trash and planting trees and flowers make our environment cleaner and more beautiful.

Vocabulary (page 84) — Pronounce the following words aloud cat, hat; dog, frog; ball, tall; moon, spoon; cake, lake; sun, fun; tree, bee; book, cook; bed, red; run, Sun.

Vocabulary (pages 84-85) — Underline the rhyming strings in the given joke, riddle and poem

Joke: Why did the cat sit on the mat? Because it wanted to be a cool cat in a cozy hat. (Rhyming strings: cat — mat — hat.) Riddle: I have four legs, a wagging tail, and I love to jump over the snail. What am I? A dog who loves to play in the fog. (Rhyming strings: tail — snail; dog — fog.) Poem: The sun shines bright, oh what a sight! It makes everything so warm and light. The birds tweet tweet, up in the sky so high, As I run and run, feeling free as a butterfly. (Rhyming strings: bright — sight — light; sky — high; butterfly — free as a butterfly, with 'high'/'butterfly' as the closing rhyme.)

Grammar — Singular/Plural with Regular and Irregular Nouns (page 85)

Regular Nouns: Regular nouns are those that form their plural by adding '-s' or '-es' to the singular form. In other words, they follow predictable patterns when pluralizing. Examples: dog — dogs; house — houses; book — books; car — cars. Irregular Nouns: Irregular nouns are those that do not follow the typical patterns for forming plurals. Instead, they have unique or irregular plural forms that often differ significantly from their singular counterparts. Examples: child — children; man — men; woman — women; tooth — teeth.

Activity (page 86) — Write plural of the given nouns

Singular — Plural

foot — feet

table — tables

man — men

horse — horses

table — tables

friend — friends

goose — geese

mouse — mice tree — trees

ox — oxen

(Note: the book prints 'table' twice in the singular column — both are answered as 'tables', flagged.)

Different Types of Verbs According to Their Meanings (pages 86-87)

1. Mental Verbs: Mental verbs are verbs that describe activities related to thinking, understanding, or processing information. Examples: think, imagine, believe, understand, remember, know, learn. 2. Feeling Verbs: Feeling verbs are verbs that describe emotions or states of being. Examples: love, hate, like, dislike, enjoy, fear, feel, appreciate, desire, hope. 3. Saying Verbs: Saying verbs are verbs that describe communication or verbal expression. Examples: say, tell, speak, talk, discuss, chat, shout.

Activity (page 87) — Use the following words in your sentences (eat, sleep, know, tell, shout, feel, run)

Word — Model sentence

eat — We eat lunch together at school.

sleep — The baby sleeps in the afternoon.

know — I know the answer to this question.

tell — Tell me a story, please.

shout — Do not shout in the class.

feel — I feel happy today.

run — Ali runs fast in the race.

Tenses — Present Continuous Tense (pages 87-88)

Present Continuous Tense: Simple Present Continuous Tense is used to describe actions that are happening at the moment of speaking. Examples: 1. I am speaking English right now. 2. We are reading. 3. They are listening to us. 4. She is watching cartoons. Formation: The Simple Present Continuous Tense is formed using the present tense of the verb 'to be' (am, is, are) followed by the first form of the main verb with the -ing ending. Affirmative: Subject + am/is/are + first form of verb + ing.

Examples: 1. You are writing. 2. They are playing. Negative: Subject + am/is/are + not + verb + ing. Examples: 1. I am not laughing. 2. She is not studying. Interrogative/Question: Am/Is/Are + subject + verb + ing? Examples: 1. Are you laughing? 2. Is she sleeping?

Activity A (page 88) — Fill-in-the-blanks to complete present continuous tense

1. Sarah is studying for her exams at the moment. (study)

Missing word: is studying

2. The children are playing in the park right now. (play)

Missing word: are playing

3. I am watching my favorite TV show. (watch)

Missing word: am watching

4. The chef is preparing dinner in the kitchen. (prepare)

Missing word: is preparing

5. My parents are travelling to Europe next week. (travel)

Missing word: are travelling

6. They are building a new house in our neighborhood. (build)

Missing word: are building

7. Maria is reading a book in the garden at the moment. (read)

Missing word: is reading

Writing — Paragraph writing (pages 89-90)

Paragraph: A paragraph is a group of sentences that all talk about the same topic. It usually starts with a sentence that introduces the topic, followed by a few more sentences that give details about the topic. All the sentences in a paragraph should be related to each other and stay on the same subject. Brainstorming: Brainstorming is a creative technique used to generate a large number of idea or solutions to a problem in a short amount of time. Mind Mapping 'My Favourite Teacher' (sample): many teachers, class incharge, English, good habits, moral values, good teacher, intelligent, good personality, kind, way of teaching, humble, regular, punctual, proud, name.

Activity (page 90) — Develop a mind map and write a simple paragraph on 'My Favourite Toy'

Mind map: My Favourite Toy — red car, birthday gift, plays every day, fast wheels, shiny, strong, favourite colour, races with friends. Model paragraph: My favourite toy is a red car. I got it as a birthday gift. It has fast wheels and a shiny body. I play with it every day and race it with my friends. I love my red car very much.

Unit 7 — Something Special on Birthday (pages 91 to 105)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 91): show awareness of one or more listeners by developing sensitivity to ways that others express meaning in their talk and non-verbal communication; learn to use double consonants (e.g., tt, pp, rr, gg, mmn, ss, ll, ck); learn diphthongs (e.g., ou, ow); learn inflectional suffix e.g., -s, -es, -ing, -ed; learn syllable common patterns, e.g., vowel-consonant, consonant-vowel; write spellings of days of the week, month and numbers in a sequence, take dictation of familiar sentences/text studied in class, keep a record of words (e.g., word wall, word bank); identify and use describing words as adjectives, identify and use adjectives in sentences before nouns, use and understand the difference between comparative and superlative degrees of adjective; use present perfect for actions in the past that still affect the present; design and write an invitation card for a range of purposes; write longer and complex sentences on a limited range of topics e.g., sports day, nature, holidays etc.

Pre-reading (page 91)

Q: Name the things in the given picture and guess what the unit is about.

A: Balloons, a birthday cake, party hats, gifts and children at a party — the unit is about a birthday celebration.

Q: Have you ever been to a birthday party? What are some things you usually see at a birthday party?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: Yes, I have been to a birthday party. I saw balloons, a cake, gifts, candles and children playing.

Lesson text (pages 92-93) — Something Special on Birthday

Sana was getting ready for her birthday, and there was so much to do. She and her mom had a big list of things to buy for her party. Birthday Shopping List: biscuits, ice cream, party hats, balloons, apples, bananas, candles, milk, juice, pastries, cake, drinks. They were determined to make it the best celebration ever. With their list in hand, Sana and her mother headed to the market. They walked past colourful stalls, picking up everything they needed: biscuits, ice-cream, balloons, chocolates, and lots of yummy treats. They also got fruits, milk, bread, and all the things for a fun party. But while they were shopping, Sana remembered something special her grandma used to do on her birthdays. She would share treats with children who didn't have much. Sana thought that was a wonderful idea. When they got back home, Sana showed her grandma all the party stuff they bought. She also shared her idea about sharing treats with others. Her grandma smiled and said it was a lovely idea. Sana decided to use her pocket money to buy lots of toffees. She went to the store and got bags full of them. Then, she gave them to children who didn't have many sweets. Seeing their happy faces made her own birthday even more special. Sana knew that even a small act of kindness could make a big difference, and that made her birthday the best one.

Q: What did Sana remember?

A: She remembered that her grandma used to share treats with children who didn't have much on her birthdays.

Q: What were some of the things Sana and her mom bought for her birthday party?

A: Biscuits, ice cream, party hats, balloons, apples, bananas, candles, milk, juice, pastries, cake and drinks — and at the market, chocolates, fruits, milk and bread.

Q: Why did Sana decide to share treats with other children on her birthday?

A: Because she remembered her grandma used to share treats with children who didn't have much, and she thought it was a wonderful idea.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions (pages

93-94) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. Name three things that Sana and her mother needed to buy for the birthday party?

A: Biscuits, ice cream and balloons (any three from the shopping list).

Q: 2. What did Sana decide to do?

A: She decided to use her pocket money to buy lots of toffees and give them to children who didn't have many sweets.

Q: 3. How did Sana feel when she shared treats with the other children?

A: Seeing their happy faces made her own birthday even more special.

Q: 4. What do you think about Sana's grandmother's idea?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: It was a wonderful and kind idea, because sharing makes everyone happy.

Q: 5. What did Sana learn from her birthday experience?

A: That even a small act of kindness could make a big difference.

Reading and Critical Thinking (page 94) — Tick the correct option to answer the given questions

1. Where did Sana and her mom go?

- park
- ✓ market
- school
- zoo

2. What did they walk past?

- toy shop
- ✓ colourful stalls
- bakery
- playground

3. Which of the following was not mentioned in their shopping list?

- chocolates
- ice cream
- ✓ vegetables
- balloons

4. What were they shopping for?

- a wedding
- ✓ a birthday party
- a fun party
- a picnic

5. What type of treats did they get?

- sour treats
- salty treats
- ✓ yummy treats
- spicy treats

(Notes: item 3 — 'vegetables' is ticked because vegetables are never mentioned anywhere in the lesson; 'chocolates' are also absent from the pictured shopping list, but they do appear in the market paragraph, so 'vegetables' is the item not mentioned at all, flagged. Item 4 — 'a birthday party' is ticked; the text also calls it 'a fun party' on page 93, flagged.)

Double consonants (page 94) — Pronounce the following words aloud bitter, better, little, happy, rabbit, puppet, happened, stopped, running.

Diphthongs (page 95)

Diphthongs are combinations of two vowel sounds pronounced within the same syllable. Examples: coin, boy, house, cloud, toy, oil, found, loud, joy, soil, mouth, noise, boil. In these examples, the diphthongs 'oi', 'oy', 'ow', and 'ou' represent combinations of vowel sounds within a single syllable.

Activity (page 95) — Circle the diphthong in each word

Word — Diphthong

boil — oi

toy — oy

mouth — ou

joy — oy soil — oi

Inflectional suffix: (-s, -es, -ing, -ed) (page 95)

Inflectional suffixes are affixes added to the end of a word to convey grammatical information, such as tense, number (plural or singular), and aspect. Read the following words having inflectional suffix: 1. cats (plural form with the suffix '-s'); 2. boxes (plural form with the suffix '-es'); 3. running (present participle form with the suffix '-ing'); 4. walked (past tense form with the suffix '-ed'); 5. played (past tense form with the suffix '-ed').

Activity (page 96) — Add the correct ending from -s, -es, -ing, -ed and write the new word (Examples: run + ing = running; bench + es = benches; walk + ed = walked; play + s = plays)

Word — New word (model; any correct ending is accepted)

cook — cooks

bird — birds

bus — buses

read — reading

jump — jumped

Syllable Common Pattern (page 96) — Read and analyze the given syllable pattern

Vowel-Consonant (VC): at, it, up, am, on, in, an, up, ax, ad.

Consonant-Vowel (CV): go, me, do, be, no, so, by, to, we, he.

Activity (pages 96-97) — Write words having vowel consonant and consonant vowels

Vowel-Consonant words: at, it, up, am, on, in, an, ax, ad.

Consonant-Vowel words: go, me, do, be, no, so, by, to, we, he.

Oral Communication Skills (pages 97-99) — Expressing meanings through talk and non-verbal communication: a surprise birthday party

Characters: Ali (Birthday boy), Ayesha (Ali's best friend), Bilal (Ali's classmate), Sara (Ali's cousin), Mama (Ali's mother). Scene: Ali's house is decorated with balloons and streamers. His friends are gathered for his birthday party. Mama: (Claps hands) Kids. Are you all ready for the surprise? Ali will be here any moment. Jamal, Bilal, Sara: (Excitedly whispering) Yes, we are ready. (Ali enters the room) All: (Loudly) Surprise! Happy Birthday, Ali. Ali: (Eyes wide open, smiling brightly) Wow! Is this all for me? Thank you. Jamal: (Handing a gift) Here, this is a small present for you. Ali: (Happily takes the gift) Thank you. Bilal: (Excitedly) Ali, quickly blow the candles and make a wish. Sara: (Clapping hands) Yes, we are all waiting. (Ali closes his eyes, makes a wish, and blows out the candles. Everyone claps) Mama: (Smiling) Now, let's cut the cake. Ali: (Cutting the cake) The first piece is for Mama. Mama: (Hugs Ali) You are such a sweet boy. Jamal: (Notices Bilal looking sad) Bilal, are you okay? Why are you so quiet? Bilal: (Softly) Nothing. I just wish I could celebrate my birthday like this too... But we don't have big parties at home. Ali: (Pats Bilal's shoulder) Oh Bilal, don't worry. When your birthday comes, we will have a surprise party for you too. Sara: (Excitedly) Yes. We will decorate your house and make it special. Bilal: (Smiles) Really? That would be amazing. Thank you, friends. (All friends laugh and enjoy cake together). (Note: the character list names Ayesha as Ali's best friend, but the dialogue lines are given to Jamal, who is not in the character list — flagged, reproduced as printed. Activity, page 99: Perform a role play about your birthday experiences in front of the class.)

Vocabulary (pages 99-100) — Write days of the week and months of the year in their proper order

Days of the week: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday. Months of the year: January, February, March, April, May, June, July, August, September, October, November, December.

Grammar — Adjective (Describing Words) (page 100)

Describing words are called adjectives. Adjectives are words that describe or modify nouns. They tell us more about the characteristics or qualities of a noun and pronoun. Examples: 1. The red apple fell from the tree. 2. She wore a soft blanket on a chilly night. 3. The big elephant walked slowly.

Activity (page 100) — Use a suitable adjective to complete the following sentences (Word Bank: delicious, red, fast, beautiful, funny)

1. The fast cat chased the mouse up the tree.

Missing word: fast

2. She wore a beautiful dress to the party.

Missing word: beautiful

3. The red flower bloomed in the garden.

Missing word: red

4. She made a delicious cake.

Missing word: delicious

5. My funny friend always makes me laugh.

Missing word: funny

Degrees of Adjectives: Comparative and Superlative (page 101)

Comparative Adjectives: Comparative adjectives are used to compare two things or people. Examples: 1. The cat is faster than the dog. 2. She is taller than her sister. 3. This book is more interesting than that one. Superlative Adjectives: Superlative adjectives are used to compare three or more things or people, showing which one has the highest degree of a quality. Examples: 1. The cheetah is the fastest land animal. 2. She is the tallest girl in her class. 3. This is the most delicious cake I have ever tasted. Difference between Comparative and Superlative Adjectives: Comparative Example: The cat is faster than the dog. (Comparing two things — cat and dog). Superlative Example: The cheetah is the fastest land animal. (Comparing the cheetah to all other land animals).

Activity (pages 101-102) — Use a suitable comparative and superlative degree of an adjective to complete the following sentences

1. Elephants are bigger (big) than horses.

Missing word: bigger

2. Karachi is hotter (hot) than the Quetta.

Missing word: hotter

3. Winter is the coldest (cold) season of all.

Missing word: coldest

4. My house is closer (close) to the park than yours.

Missing word: closer

5. I am the tallest (tall) boy in my class.

Missing word: tallest

6. English is the easiest (easy) subject for me.

Missing word: easiest

Tenses — Present Perfect Tense (pages 102-103)

Present Perfect Tense: The present perfect tense shows that an action or event happened at some point in the past, but its effect is still in present. Positive Sentence: Subject + have/has + Third form of the verb. Examples: 1. I have eaten breakfast. 2. She has finished her homework. 3. They have played in the park. 4. He has read a book. Negative Sentence: Subject + have/has + not + third form of the verb. Examples: 1. I have not watched that movie. 2. She has not visited the museum. 3. They have not finished their lunch. 4. He has not cleaned his room.

Interrogative Sentence: (Have/Has) + subject + third form of the verb + ?
Examples: 1. Have I finished my work? 2. Has she eaten her lunch? 3. Have they completed their assignment? 4. Has he read the story?

Activity (page 103) — Use the given words in your sentences by using the present perfect tense (Word Bank: book, sleep, laugh, pick, touch, eat; Example: eat — I have eaten bananas.)

Word — Model sentence

book — I have read a book.

sleep — She has slept well.

laugh — We have laughed a lot.

pick — He has picked the flowers.

touch — I have touched the wall.

Writing — Writing Invitations (page 104)

Sample invitation to read: Dear Hamza, Asalam-o-Alaikum! It is my birthday this Sunday. I am having a party at my home. The party will start at 4:00 p.m. We will have great fun together. Please do join us. Your friend, Mujtaba.

Activity (page 104) — Write short invitation to attend your birthday party

Model invitation: You are Invited to a Birthday Party. Dear Friend, Assalam-o-Alaikum! It is my birthday this Sunday. I am having a party at my home. The party will start at 4:00 p.m. We will have great fun together. Please do join us. Your friend, Ahmed.

Writing (page 105) — Write longer and complex sentences about a specific topic

Directions: i. Choose a Topic: Select one of the following topics to write about: Planting trees; Benefits of games; Morning walk; My favorite Holiday. ii. Brainstorm Ideas: Take a few minutes to think about what you want to say. Write down some key points or ideas. iii. Write Your Sentences. iv. Review Your Work: Read your sentences to make sure they are complete and make sense. Check for spelling and punctuation. Model sentences (topic: Morning walk): I go for a morning walk every day because it keeps me healthy and fresh. When I walk in the park, I see birds, green trees and beautiful flowers, and I feel happy and full of energy.

Unit 8 — The Tale of Honest Hannah (Story)

(pages 106 to 117)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 106): respond to text with reasons and personal opinions; participate in group discussions, presentations and debates; anticipate what happens next in a story and predict story ending; predict what happens at the beginning, in the middle or at the end of a story; use punctuation cues to aid reading (e.g., capitalization, apostrophe for possession and contraction, commas used in a series, quotation marks) and also read common word endings; read with fluency and expression using age-appropriate books; extend the range of common sight words; join prefixes with the base words and understand the change in meaning (e.g., love/pre-loved, agreeable/disagreeable, comfortable/uncomfortable, care/careless, heat/preheat); identify and use simple adverbs of manner and time; recognize and use regular and irregular degrees of adverbs, use more and most with adverbs; use past simple tense for completed actions/events and regular actions in the past in sentences; use interesting and meaningful words in their writings; fill in words to change or complete a given story.

Pre-reading (page 106)

Q: What does it mean to be honest?

A: To always speak the truth and never tell lies.

Q: Why is it important to speak truth?

A: Because speaking the truth is always the right thing to do, and it earns people's respect and trust.

Story text (pages 107-108) — The Tale of Honest Hannah

Once upon a time, in small village between green hills and winding rivers, there lived a girl named Hannah. She was known for her bright smile and kind heart. But there was one thing about Hannah that made her special and that was she never told lies. She believed that honesty is the best policy, and she always tried to speak the truth, no matter what. Her friends admired her honesty and often came to her for advice and support. One sunny morning, as she was walking through the village square, she saw a shiny red apple lying on the ground. Curious, she picked it up and looked around to see if anyone had dropped it. But there was no one in sight. She knew that the apple didn't belong to her, so she decided to take it to the village market and ask if anyone had lost it. As she walked through the bustling market stalls, she noticed a little boy crying. 'What's wrong?' she asked gently. 'I lost my favorite apple,' The boy sniffled. 'I was saving it for a special treat.' Hannah's heart went out to the boy. 'Is this your apple?' she asked, holding out the shiny red fruit. The boy's eyes lit up with joy as he took the apple from Hannah's hand. 'Yes, that's it! Thank you so much!' he exclaimed, and said thank you aloud. She smiled and waved goodbye to the boy before continuing on her way. As she walked, she thought about how good it felt to be honest and help someone in need. She knew that speaking the truth was always the right thing to do, even when it was hard. From that day on, Hannah continued to live her life with honesty and integrity. And though she faced many challenges along the way, she always stayed true to herself and never told a lie. And so, the villagers of the little village came to admire and respect Hannah even more, for she was not only brave and kind but also honest and shining example for all to follow.

While Reading (page 107)

Q: What did Hannah pick?

A: A shiny red apple lying on the ground in the village square.

Post-reading (page 108)

Q: What is the moral of the story?

A: Honesty is the best policy — speaking the truth is always the right thing to do, even when it is hard, and it earns respect.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions (page 108) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. What are three qualities that define Hannah's character?

A: She was kind-hearted, brave and honest (bright smile, kind heart, never told lies).

Q: 2. Why did Hannah decide to take the shiny red apple to the village market?

A: Because she knew the apple didn't belong to her, and she wanted to ask if anyone had lost it.

Q: 3. How did the little boy react when he realized Hannah had found his lost apple?

A: His eyes lit up with joy, he took the apple and exclaimed, 'Yes, that's it! Thank you so much!'

Q: 4. What did Hannah learn from her experience with the lost apple?

A: How good it felt to be honest and help someone in need, and that speaking the truth was always the right thing to do, even when it was hard.

Q: 5. How did the villagers view Hannah after her act of honesty?

A: They came to admire and respect her even more, as a brave, kind and honest shining example for all to follow.

Basic Elements of a Story (pages 108-109) — Identify and write the basic elements of the story, 'The Tale of Honest Hannah'

The basic elements of a story are its beginning, middle and end. Beginning: Hannah, a girl in a small village between green hills and winding rivers, is known for her bright smile and kind heart and for never telling lies. Middle: One sunny morning Hannah finds a shiny red apple in the village square, takes it to the market to find its owner, and returns it to the crying little boy who had lost it. End: Hannah feels good about being honest, continues to live with honesty and integrity, and the villagers admire and respect her even more as a shining example.

Reading (page 110) — Paragraph using punctuation cues: read aloud

Tahir went to the park with his dog, Max, and his best friend, Noman. They played on the swings, went down the slide, and even had a picnic under the big oak tree. Tahir's mom packed sandwiches, apples, and juice for them to enjoy. After lunch, they played fetch with Max, who chased the ball with excitement. Suddenly, they heard a loud bark from the bushes. 'What's that?' asked Noman, his eyes wide with curiosity. 'I think it's just a squirrel,' replied Tahir, trying to calm his friend's nerves. They laughed and continued to play until the sun began to set, and it was time to go home.

Oral Communication Skills (page 110) — Group-discussion: Honesty is key to success

During the discussion, students can talk about the importance of honesty in achieving success. They can share real life examples and brainstorm ways to practice honesty in daily life. (Group discussion — pupil's own examples; model point: honest people are trusted, and trust brings success.)

Vocabulary — Prefix (page 111)

A prefix is added to the beginning of a word to change its meaning or create a new word. Prefixes are commonly used in language to modify the root or base word. Examples: 1. Pre- + love = Preloved: Previously loved or used. (Original word: Love) 'I found a beautiful preloved dress at the store.' 2. Dis- + agreeable = Disagreeable: Not agreeable. (Original word: Agreeable) 'The two colleagues are in disagreeable situation.' 3. Un- + comfortable = Uncomfortable: Causing discomfort or unease; not comfortable. (Original word: Comfortable) 'These tight shoes are making me uncomfortable.' 4. Care + less = Careless: Not paying attention or showing concern; negligent. (Original word: Care) 'He is a careless driver.' (Note: '-less' in 'careless' is a suffix, not a prefix, although the book lists it under Prefix — flagged.) 5. Pre- + heat = Preheat: To heat something in advance or before using. (original word: heat) 'Before baking the cookies, remember to preheat the oven to 350 degrees F.'

Activity (page 111) — Use prefix pre, dis, and un to make new words and make them in your sentences

New word — Model sentence

preloved — I bought a preloved book from the shop.

disagreeable — The disagreeable smell came from the bin.

unhappy — He was unhappy when his toy broke.

preheat — Preheat the oven before baking.

dishonest — A dishonest boy tells lies.

Grammar — Adverb (page 112)

Adverb: An adverb is a word that modifies or provides additional information about a verb, adjective, or another adverb in a sentence. Adverb of Manner: An adverb of manner describes how an action is performed or the manner in which something happens. It provides more information about the verb in a sentence. Examples: 1. She sings beautifully. 2. He runs slowly. 3. They danced gracefully. 4. The dog barked loudly. 5. He speaks fluently. Adverb of Time: An adverb of time indicates when an action occurs or the frequency with which it occurs. It specifies the timing or duration of the action. Examples include words like 'yesterday', 'tomorrow', 'now', 'soon', 'often', 'always', and 'daily'. Examples: 1. We will meet tomorrow. 2. She arrived early. 3. They left yesterday. 4. I have to finish this by noon. 5. They usually go for a walk in the evening.

Activity (pages 112-113) — Complete the following sentences by using adverbs of manner and time accordingly (Word Bank: always, quickly, tomorrow, carefully, loudly, slowly)

1. She finished her homework quickly because she wanted to play outside.

Missing word: quickly

2. We will visit the zoo tomorrow and see all the animals.

Missing word: tomorrow

3. He spoke so loudly that everyone could hear him.

Missing word: loudly

4. The cat carefully jumped onto the high shelf.

Missing word: carefully

5. I always brush my teeth before bed.

Missing word: always

6. She walked slowly because her foot was hurting.

Missing word: slowly

Regular and Irregular Degrees of Adverbs (page 113)

Regular Degrees: slowly — more slowly — most slowly; quickly — more quickly — most quickly; quietly — more quietly — most quietly. Irregular Degrees: well — better — best; badly — worse — worst; much — more — most.

Uses of comparative and superlative degrees of adverbs in sentences (page 114)

1. He ran more slowly than his friend. 2. She spoke more quickly than I expected. 3. The students worked most quietly during the exam. 4. She danced better than anyone else in the competition. 5. He sang worse than he did in rehearsals. 6. They did most of the work on the project. 7. He performed best in the final round of the competition.

Activity (page 114) — Write sentences having regular and irregular degrees of adverbs

Model sentences: Regular — She walks more slowly than her sister. They worked most quietly in the library. Irregular — He plays better than his friend. She sang best in the competition.

Tenses — Simple Past Tense (pages 114-115)

Simple Past Tense: The simple past tense is used to talk about actions or events that happened at a specific time in the past. Positive Sentence: Subject + second form of the verb + object. Examples: 1. I played with my friends. 2. He cleaned his room. 3. I ate breakfast. 4. She ran in the park. Negative Sentence: Subject + did not + first form of the verb + object. Examples: 1. I did not finish my homework. 2. She did not go to the store. 3. They did not play outside. 4. He did not watch TV. Interrogative Sentence: Did + subject + first form of the verb + object. Examples: 1. Did I complete the puzzle? 2. Did she eat her lunch? 3. Did they play a match? 4. Did he read the story?

Activity (pages 115-116) — Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the verbs in parentheses

1. Yesterday, I played soccer with my friends. (play)

Missing word: played

2. She ate a delicious sandwich for lunch. (eat)

Missing word: ate

3. He visited his grandparents on the weekend. (visit)

Missing word: visited

4. We read an interesting story in class yesterday. (read)

Missing word: read

5. The cat jumped on the table and knocked over a glass of water. (jump / knock)

Missing word: jumped / knocked

6. Sarah drew a beautiful picture for her mom's birthday. (draw)

Missing word: drew

7. My dad fixed the broken chair in the living room. (fix)

Missing word: fixed

8. I cleaned my room yesterday afternoon. (clean)

Missing word: cleaned

Writing (page 116) — Use of interesting and meaningful words in writing: Interesting words list Adjectives: exciting, thrilling, enormous, colourful, noisy, crowded, delicious, dizzying, sparkling. Adverbs: quickly, slowly, carefully, loudly, quietly, happily, eagerly, nervously, excitedly, Joyfully.

Activity (page 116) — Follow brainstorming technique and write a narration using interesting and descriptive words on the given topic: 'A Day at the Amusement Park'

Brainstorming: Think about what happens at an amusement park: rides, games, food, people, etc. Jot down your ideas and the sequence of events in the topic. Model narration: Yesterday we went to an amusement park. It was a colourful and crowded place with exciting rides. We happily rode the enormous wheel and played thrilling games. We ate delicious food and laughed loudly with our friends. It was a sparkling, joyful day we will never forget.

Activity (pages 116-117) — Choose the correct option (given in brackets) to complete the given story: The Lost Kitten (Story)

One day, Ali was walking home from school when he heard a soft meow. He looked around and saw a tiny kitten hiding under a bench. The little animal looked scared. Ali picked up the kitten and decided to take it home. When he reached home, his mother smiled and said, 'This kitten needs food and care'. They gave it some milk and made a small bed for it. The next day, Ali and his family put up posters to find the owner. Soon, a little girl came and said, 'That is my kitten, Snowy.' She was very happy to see her pet again. Ali felt proud because he had helped someone. His mother said, 'Kindness always makes the world better.'

Revision 2 — Units 5 to 8 (pages 118 to 120)

Reading and Critical Thinking (page 118) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. Why did Sana buy toffees?

A: To share treats with children who didn't have many sweets, following her grandma's example.

Q: 2. What is the national language of Pakistan?

A: Urdu.

Q: 3. How can we keep ourselves neat and clean?

A: By washing our hands, taking a bath, brushing our teeth, throwing trash in proper bins, cleaning up after ourselves and picking up litter.

Oral Communication (page 118)

Draw a poster explaining a clean environment and present it in front of the class. (Poster activity — pupil's own poster.)

Vocabulary (page 118) — Write meanings of the given words

Word — Meaning

sniffled — breathed in noisily through the nose, as when crying surroundings — the things and places around us plenty — a lot; more than enough continued — went on without stopping curious — wanting to know or learn about something

Grammar A (page 119) — Write masculine and feminine genders in respective columns

Masculine: son, nephew, waiter. Feminine: daughter, niece, waitress.

Grammar B (page 119) — Write plural of the given words

Singular — Plural

tree — trees

piano — pianos

fox — foxes

baby — babies

toy — toys

activity — activities

Writing C (page 120) — Describe your classroom in a paragraph Model paragraph: My classroom is big and bright. It has desks, chairs, a blackboard and colourful charts on the walls. My teacher teaches us many interesting things. We keep our classroom clean and tidy. I love my classroom very much.

Unit 9 — Boys and Girls Are Equally Important

(pages 121 to 133)

Student Learning Outcomes (page 121): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; adapt tone of voice, use of vocabulary and non-verbal features for different audiences; identify and recognize story, poetry and information books noting how text is organized into sections or chapters; recognise how paragraphs and chapters are used to organize ideas, identify paragraph as a larger meaningful unit of expression representing the unity of thought; locate the difference between the two parts of a compound word, e.g., noun + noun, adjective + noun etc.; break up some common compound words into words they are made of; recognize the function of joining words in sentences; use simple connectors i.e. for addition (e.g., and, as well as) for reason (e.g., because) for sequence (e.g., first, second); use transitional words in simple procedure e.g., writing a recipe, following directions etc.; begin to write guided sentences in speech bubbles and cartoon strips using vocabulary tone, style of expression appropriate to the communicative purpose and context.

Pre-reading (page 121)

Q: Read the title of the unit and guess what this unit is about?

A: The unit is about boys and girls being equally important — neither is better than the other.

Q: What do you know about gender?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: Gender means being a boy or a girl, and both boys and girls deserve equal respect and chances.

Lesson text (pages 122-123) — Boys and Girls Are Equally Important

Once upon a time, in a small house there lived a brother and sister named Sami and Laiba with their family. Sami was full of energy and loved to play with his toy cars and build towering block towers, while Laiba was kind-hearted and enjoyed dressing up her dolls and arranging tea parties. One sunny afternoon, their parents decided to host a special event to teach them about the importance of equality. As the event began, Sami walked proudly with his chest out, saying he was better at everything than Laiba. 'I'm the best at racing cars and building tall towers. Girls can not do that' he exclaimed proudly, while Laiba looked on with a sad expression. Their father noticed Sami's behavior and gently called him over. 'Sami, come sit with me for a moment' he said, motioning for Laiba to join them as well. As they sat down, their father began to speak. 'Sami, Laiba, I want to talk to you both about something very important,' he started. 'You see, boys and girls are like two sides of the same coin. Each of you is special and unique in your own way, and neither is better than the other.' Sami looked confused, while Laiba nodded in agreement. Their father continued, 'Sami, just because you are a boy does not mean you are better than Laiba. And Laiba, just because you are a girl does not mean you are not as good as Sami. Boys and girls are equal, and it is important to treat each other with kindness, respect, and love.' Sami's eyes widened as he realized the truth of his father's words. 'But Father, I did not mean to make Laiba feel bad,' he said quietly. 'It's okay, Sami,' their father spoke softly. 'We all make mistakes sometimes. What's important is that we learn from them and try to do better next time.' From that day on, Sami and Laiba made a promise to each other and their parents to always treat each other with kindness and respect, knowing that boys and girls are equal and deserving of love and acceptance. And so, as the event came to a close, Sami and Laiba shook hands, grateful for the lesson they had learned about the importance of equality. And as they played together, they knew that they were different, they would always be equal in each other's eyes.

While Reading (page 122)

Q: What did their father notice?

A: He noticed Sami's behaviour — Sami was acting proudly and saying he was better at everything than Laiba.

Q: Can boys and girls do the same things? Why or why not?

A: Yes — boys and girls are equal; each is special and unique, and neither is better than the other.

Q: How can you treat boys and girls fairly/equally at school and home?

A: By treating each other with kindness, respect and love, and giving everyone the same chances.

Activity A (page 123) — Conduct two group (favour and against) discussion on equality of boys and girls and give solution / reasons

Group discussion — pupil's own discussion. Model solution: Boys and girls are equal and should be treated fairly; give both the same chances to play, learn and speak.

Activity B (page 124) — Encourage students to practice the given dialogues by adapting tone, vocabulary and expressions for different people

Practice activity — the dialogues on pages 126-127 (Ahmed talking to his teacher, his friend Ali, and his grandfather) are to be read aloud with the tone suited to each person: politely and clearly to the teacher, excitedly and casually to a friend, respectfully and softly to grandfather.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions (page 124) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. What were Sami and Laiba's interests?

A: Sami loved to play with his toy cars and build towering block towers; Laiba enjoyed dressing up her dolls and arranging tea parties.

Q: 2. What made Sami act proudly during the special event?

A: He believed he was better at everything than Laiba — the best at racing cars and building tall towers — and said girls cannot do that.

Q: 3. How did their father step in when he noticed Sami's behaviour?

A: He gently called Sami over, asked him to sit with him, motioned for Laiba to join them, and talked to them both about equality.

Q: 4. What lesson did their father teach Sami and Laiba about equality?

A: That boys and girls are like two sides of the same coin — each special and unique, neither better than the other — and they must treat each other with kindness, respect and love.

Q: 5. How did Sami react when he realized the impact of his words on Laiba?

A: His eyes widened as he realized the truth, and he said quietly that he did not mean to make Laiba feel bad.

Reading and Critical Thinking (page 124) — Read the following statements carefully. Write '(T)' if the statement is correct and '(F)' if it is incorrect ✗ False: 1. Sami and Laiba were twins living in a big city.

✓ True: 2. Sami liked playing with toy cars and building towers, while Laiba enjoyed dressing up her dolls.

✓ True: 3. Their parents organized an event to teach them about the importance of equality.

✗ False: 4. Sami believed that girls were better at racing cars and building towers than boys.

✓ True: 5. Their father explained that boys and girls are equal and should respect each other.

✓ True: 6. Sami realized his mistake and apologized to Laiba.

(Note on item 6: Sami's words in the story are 'I did not mean to make Laiba feel bad' — counted as his apology, flagged.)

Story, Poetry and Informational Books (page 125)

1. Storybooks: A storybook tells us stories about people, animals, fun adventures etc. A story has a beginning, a middle and an end. 2. Poetry Books: A poetry book is a collection of poems, verses and other kinds of poetry. Poems are special kinds of writing that often use rhyming words and a rhythm to make them fun to read. 3. Informational Books: An informational book tells us facts and gives us true information about things in the world. It can be about animals, plants and places etc.

Organization of Ideas in a Book (pages 125-126)

Chapter: A chapter is a part of a book. It is like a section that is all about one main idea or topic. Main Idea: Each chapter is about one idea. For example, a chapter might be about 'How to clean the classroom'. Pictures: Chapters often have pictures to help us understand the main idea/topic better. Chapter Break: We start a new idea from a new chapter in a book. Paragraph: A paragraph is a smaller part of the writing that lives inside a chapter. A paragraph is about one idea. It keeps ideas together so that they are easy to read and understand. A new paragraph starts on a new line.

Oral Communication Skills (pages 126-127) — Ahmed talks to different people, changing his tone, words, and expressions accordingly

1. (Ahmed Talking to Teacher) Teacher: Ahmed, did you complete your homework? Ahmed: (politely, in a clear voice) Yes, Ma'am, I finished all my work. May I show it to you now? Teacher: Good job, Ahmed. Keep up the hard work. Ahmed: (smiling) Thank you, Ma'am. (Ahmed stands straight, uses respectful words, and nods while listening to the teacher.) 2. (Ahmed Talking to Friend) Ali: Hey Ahmed, let's play cricket. Ahmed: (excitedly, in a casual tone) Yes, let's go. I will bat first, and you will bowl, okay? Ali: Alright, but no cheating. Ahmed: (laughing) Don't worry, I'll play fair. (Ahmed uses a friendly tone, and smiles.) 3. (Ahmed Talking to Grandfather) Grandfather: Ahmed, my son, how was your day at school? Ahmed: (respectfully, in a soft tone) It was good, Dada Abu. I learned a new story in class. Would you like me to tell you? Grandfather: Yes, my son, I would love to hear it. (Ahmed sits politely, maintains eye contact, and tells the story slowly so that Grandfather can hear clearly.)

Vocabulary — Compound Words (pages 127-128)

Compound words are formed by combining two or more words to create a new word with a different meaning. 1. Noun + Noun -> Compound word. Examples: foot + ball = football; tooth + brush = toothbrush; school + bus = schoolbus. 2. Adjective + Noun -> Compound word. Examples: green + house = greenhouse; blue + berry = blueberry; black + board = blackboard.

Activity A (page 128) — Write examples of compound nouns having Noun + Noun and Adjective + Noun

Noun + Noun: football, toothbrush, schoolbus. Adjective + Noun: greenhouse, blueberry, blackboard.

Breaking up Compound Words (page 128)

Compound word — Two words

breakfast — break + fast

baseball — base + ball

toothpaste — tooth + paste rainbow — rain + bow

butterfly — butter + fly

Activity (page 129) — Break up the given compound words into words they are made of

Compound word — Two words

sunshine — sun + shine

fireman — fire + man

bedroom — bed + room

football — foot + ball

doorbell — door + bell

Grammar — Joining words (pages 129-130)

Joining words are used to connect words, phrases, clauses, or sentences. Function of Joining Words in Sentences: 'and' — 1. She likes to read mystery novels and watch detective shows. 2. He enjoys playing basketball and soccer in his free time. 3. The restaurant serves pizza and pasta. 'or' — 1. Would you like tea or juice for breakfast? 2. You can choose to go to the park or stay home. 3. Do you prefer to sit by the window or middle seat of the bus? 'but' — 1. She studied hard for the exam, but she still didn't get a good grade. 2. He wanted to go to the party, but he had to finish his homework. 3. The weather forecast predicted sunshine, but it ended up raining all day.

Activity (page 130) — Use joining words (and, or, but) in your sentences (At least three for each)

Model sentences — 'and': I like apples and bananas. She reads books and writes stories. We play cricket and football. 'or': Do you want tea or juice? We can play inside or outside. Will you sing or dance? 'but': I wanted to play, but it rained. She ran fast, but she missed the bus. He is small, but he is strong.

Use of Simple Connectors (pages 130-131)

1. For Addition: 'and' — He likes to read novels and stories. 'as well as' — She enjoys hiking as well as swimming. 2. For Reason: 'because' — He didn't go to work because he was sick. 'since' — She stayed indoors since it was raining. 3. For Sequence: 'first, second, third' — First, we need to gather the ingredients. Second, we'll mix them together. Third, we will bake the mixture in the oven.

Activity A (page 131) — Fill in the blanks (Word Bank: because, first, second, third, since, as well as)

1. She loves to travel, as well as enjoys experiencing new cultures.

Missing word: as well as

2. He missed the bus because he got late.

Missing word: because

3. First, we need to buy groceries, second, we can cook dinner, third, we can eat.

Missing word: First / second / third

4. He couldn't attend the meeting since he had a doctor's appointment.

Missing word: since

5. They went to the park as well as played on the swings.

Missing word: as well as

6. He has been my friend since kindergarten.

Missing word: since

7. I like apples as well as bananas.

Missing word: as well as

(Note on item 5: the word bank has no 'and', so 'as well as' is the bank word that joins the two actions, although 'and' would be the natural choice — flagged.)

Writing B (page 132) — Write a recipe for making an omelette using the joining words (Steps for Making an Omelette: Step 1: eggs; Step 2: break eggs into a bowl; Step 3: add spices and whisk; Step 4: cook in a pan; Step 5: serve on a plate)

Model recipe: First, take two eggs and break them into a bowl. Second, add salt and spices, and whisk them well. Third, heat oil in a pan and pour the mixture in. Then cook it until it is golden, and serve it hot on a plate.

Speech Bubble (page 133) — Look at the given examples

Examples: 'Is this a Speech Bubble?' — 'Yes, this is a Speech Bubble.' — 'OH! You are Angry with me.' Activity: Put the words you think they could be saying into the speech bubbles. (Pupil's own speech bubbles — model: 'Hello, how are you?' — 'I am fine, thank you.' — 'Let us play together!')

Unit 10 — Bed in Summer (Poem) (pages 134 to 145)

Learning Outcomes (page 134): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; respond to text with reasons and personal opinions; speak confidently to a group and share an experience; read grade level prose and poetry orally with accuracy, appropriate rate, and expression on successive reading; identify the main points or gist of a text (factual or fiction); identify the main idea or theme conveyed by the writer; use the terms 'fact', 'fiction', and 'nonfiction' appropriately; identify rhyme and rhythm, repetition, similes and sensory images in poems; identify different types of fiction and non-fiction texts and their known key features; understand and use simple modal verbs (should/should not, could/couldn't, must/mustn't, can/cannot and may/may not); recognise and use past continuous tense; write a guided first draft and edit it.

Pre-reading (page 134)

Q: What do you know about seasons?

A: There are four seasons — summer, winter, spring and autumn — and each has its own weather and days.

Q: What do you like about each season?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: In summer I like playing outside and eating ice cream; in winter I like warm clothes and hot soup.

Poem (page 135) — Bed in Summer, by Robert Louis Stevenson

In winter I get up at night / And dress by yellow candle-light. / In summer, quite the other way, / I have to go to bed by day. / I have to go to bed and see / The birds still hopping on the tree, / Or hear the grown-up people's feet / Still going past me in the street. / And does it not seem hard to you, / When all the sky is clear and blue, / And I should like so much to play, / To have to go to bed by day? (Note: the book prints 'he birds' in the second stanza for 'the birds' — flagged, corrected here.)

Post-reading (page 135)

Q: How do you spend your summer days?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: I play outside, visit my cousins and read story books in the summer.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions (page 135) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. What does the speaker use to dress in the winter?

A: Yellow candle-light — in winter he gets up at night and dresses by yellow candle-light.

Q: 2. When does the speaker have to go to bed in the summer?

A: By day — while it is still daylight.

Q: 3. What does the speaker see outside when going to bed in the daytime?

A: The birds still hopping on the tree, and he hears the grown-up people's feet still going past him in the street.

Q: 4. Identify the main points of a text.

A: In winter the speaker gets up at night and dresses by candle-light; in summer he must go to bed by day while birds are hopping and people are still walking in the street, and he finds it hard when the sky is clear and blue and he wants to play.

Q: 5. What is the theme of the poem?

A: A child's unhappiness at having to go to bed while it is still day in summer, when everyone else is still outside playing.

Fact, Fiction and Non-Fiction (pages 136-137)

Fact: A fact is a statement that can be proven to be true or false through evidence or observation. Example: The Earth orbits the Sun. This is a fact because it can be confirmed through scientific observation and research. Fictional Text: Fictional text refers to written works that present imagined or invented stories, characters, and events. Non-fiction Texts: Non-fictional text refers to written works that present factual information, real events, and actual experiences. Types of Fictional and Non-Fictional Texts: Fictional Texts — Fictional texts are stories that are made up from someone's imagination. They are not real. Here are three common types: 1. Novels: Example: Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone, is a long story with many characters and chapters that follow Harry's magical journey. 2. Short Stories: Example: The Thirsty Crow is a short story with a beginning, middle, and end, that focuses on one main event. 3. Fairy Tales: Example: Cinderella is a magical story of a kind girl. Non-Fictional Texts — Non-fictional texts are books or articles that are about real people, real places, or real things. Here are three important types: 1. Biographies: Example: The Story of Abdul Sattar Edhi is a book that talks about the life and work of a real person. 2. Informational Texts: Example: A book about plants gives scientific facts, has pictures, diagrams, and headings. 3. News Articles: Example: A newspaper report about a school event tells what happened, where, when, and includes quotes from people.

Poetic Devices (pages 138-139)

Poetic devices are special tricks that poets use to make poems more fun to read and listen to. Read the Poem aloud: 'A Walk in the Garden' (Edited for Clarity) — I walk in the garden at the break of day, / Birds are singing in a cheerful way. / Flowers bloom in red and blue, / The sky above is bright and true. / I walk, I walk, I walk some more, / Past the tree and by the door. / The sun is like a golden ball, / Shining gently over all. Poetic devices in the Poem: 1. Rhyme and Rhythm — Rhyme is when words at the end of a line sound the same. Rhythm is the beat of the poem. Examples: day / way; blue / true; more / door; ball / all. 2. Repetition — Repetition is when a word or a line is repeated. Examples: 'I walk, I walk, I walk some more'. 3. Simile — A simile compares two different things using the words 'like' or 'as'. Examples: 'The sun is like a golden ball'. 4. Sensory Images — Sensory images are words that help us see, hear, smell, or feel things in the poem. Examples: Hear: 'Birds are singing'; See: 'Flowers bloom in red and blue'; 'The sun is like a golden ball'.

Oral Communication Skills A (page 139) — Read and practice the intonation pattern in the following questions and statement

Intonation is the rise and fall of voice while speaking. Questions (rise in voice): Who has broken the glass? Who is making noise? Why did you tell a lie? Statements (no rise): I have two brothers. He is a good student. We respect our elders and teachers.

Oral Communication Skills B (pages 140-141) — Sharing an Adventure (Nargis stands in front of her classmates, eager to share her recent camping trip with her friends)

Nargis: 'Assalam-o-Alaikum, everyone. I'm really excited to tell you all about the camping trip. I went on with my friends last weekend.' Classmates: (murmuring excitedly) 'Wow, that sounds fun!' Nargis: It was amazing. We hiked through the forest, roasted chicken over a campfire, and even slept under the stars. Classmates: (listening intently) Nargis: But the best part was when we went canoeing on the lake. The water was so calm and peaceful, and we saw lots of wildlife along the shore. Classmates: (nodding in interest) Nargis: At night, we told stories around the campfire and watched the stars twinkle in the sky. It was a truly unforgettable experience. Classmates: (applauding) Nargis: Thank you! I'm really grateful for the opportunity to share this adventure with all of you. Activity (page 141): Invite students one by one in front of the classroom and share an experience/adventure by explaining their drawing.

Grammar — Modal Verbs (pages 141-142)

Modal verbs are auxiliary verbs used to express various degrees of necessity, possibility, ability or permission in a sentence. 1. Should/Should not: Should indicates advice, recommendation, or obligation. Example: You should wear a helmet when riding a bike. Should not indicates prohibition or advice against doing something. Example: You should not play on road. 2. Could/Couldn't: Could indicates ability, possibility, or past ability. Example: She could swim when she was younger. Couldn't indicates inability or impossibility. Example: He couldn't attend the class because he was sick. 3. Must/Mustn't: Must indicates strong obligation, necessity, or certainty. Example: You must submit your assignment by Friday. Mustn't indicates prohibition or strong advice against doing something. Example: You must not tell a lie. 4. Can/Cannot: Can indicates ability, possibility, or permission. Example: She can speak English fluently. Cannot indicates inability or prohibition. Example: You cannot enter without permission. 5. May/May not: May indicates permission, possibility, or likelihood. Example: You may leave early if you finish your work. May not indicates prohibition or uncertainty. Example: You may not use your phone during the exam.

Activity (page 142) — Use the given modal verbs (should/shouldn't, could/couldn't, must/mustn't, can/cannot, may/may not) in your sentences should — You should respect your elders.

Modal — Model sentence

shouldn't — You shouldn't waste water.

could — I could ride a bicycle when I was six.

couldn't — He couldn't come to school yesterday.

must — We must keep our classroom clean.

mustn't — You mustn't tell lies.

can — She can draw beautiful pictures.

cannot — You cannot cross the road alone.

may — May I go to the library, please?

may not — You may not shout in the class.

Tenses — Past Continuous Tense (pages 142-143)

Past Continuous Tense: The past continuous tense is used to talk about actions or events that were ongoing or in progress at a specific point in the past. Positive Sentence: Subject + was/were + verb-ing + object.

Examples: 1. I was playing with my toys. 2. She was reading a book. 3. They were watching TV. 4. He was eating dinner. Negative Sentence: Subject + was/were + not + verb-ing + object. Examples: 1. I was not sleeping. 2. She was not studying. 3. They were not dancing. 4. He was not playing outside. Interrogative Sentence: Was/Were + subject + verb-ing + object? Examples: 1. Was I running fast? 2. Was she eating breakfast? 3. Were they playing in the park? 4. Was he swimming in the pool?

Activity A (pages 143-144) — Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the helping and main verbs in parentheses

1. Yesterday, I was playing with my toys while my mom was cooking dinner. (play / cook)

Missing word: was playing / was cooking

2. She was reading a book while her brother was watching TV. (read / watch)

Missing word: was reading / was watching

3. They were dancing at the party while the music was playing. (dance / play)

Missing word: were dancing / was playing

4. He was running in the park while his friends were playing soccer. (run / play)

Missing word: was running / were playing

5. We were drawing pictures while it was raining outside. (draw / rain)

Missing word: were drawing / was raining

Writing — Writing a First Draft (pages 144-145) — Sample: Topic:

My Favorite Animal

Introduction: My favorite animal is a dolphin. I like dolphins because they are very friendly and smart. Body — Describe what a dolphin looks like: Dolphins are gray and have smooth skin. They have a long nose and a fin on their back. Describe where a dolphin lives: Dolphins live in the ocean. They can be found in warm waters all around the world. Describe what a dolphin eats: Dolphins eat fish and squid. They catch their food by using their sharp teeth. Describe what special things a dolphin can do: Dolphins can jump high out of the water and do flips. They are also very good at communicating with each other. Conclusion: Dolphins are amazing animals because they are so playful and intelligent. Activity (page 145): Write a first draft on your notebooks about 'My Favourite Animal' and then review and edit it by checking the following mistakes: Capitalization, Punctuation, Spellings.

Unit 11 — Eid-ul-Fitr: A Celebration of Joy and Renewal (pages 146 to 157)

Learning Outcomes (page 146): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; respond to text with reasons and personal opinions; engage in role play to perform a character from a story/play script; (a) scan a passage to find specific information and answer questions; (b) read and follow instructions correctly; identify the main purpose and different types of stories and typical story themes of a text; understand and use some words showing position, possession and direction in sentences; use and respond to simple sentences showing requests, exclamatory and command both physically and in their speech; write simple descriptive paragraphs, using correct capitalization, punctuation and spelling, by using the process approach — brainstorming, mind mapping, writing a first draft.

Pre-reading (page 146)

Q: How do you celebrate Eid-ul-Fitr with your family?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: We wear new clothes, visit relatives, eat special food and say 'Eid Mubarak' to everyone.

Lesson text (pages 147-148) — Eid-ul-Fitr: A Celebration of Joy and Renewal

Eid-ul-Fitr is a very special festival for Muslims. Eid-ul-Fitr comes after the month of Ramadan on the first day of Shawal every year. During Ramadan, Muslims try to be patient, kind, and helpful. They avoid bad habits and try to do good deeds. People prepare for Eid celebrations. Many families clean their homes, buy new clothes, and decorate their houses. The night before Eid is called Chand Raat. People go to markets. Everyone feels excited for the Eid day. On Eid morning, people greet each other with happy smiles. Families visit their relatives, neighbors, and friends. Everywhere you go, people are saying 'Eid Mubarak!' It is a day full of joy and togetherness. Many families cook special food at home. Some families share food with their neighbors. This shows love and kindness in the community. Children enjoy wearing their new clothes and meeting their cousins and friends. They play games and have fun for the whole day. Eid is a reward from Allah for the Muslims. It reminds Muslims to continue good habits even after Ramadan. It teaches them to care for others, forgive people, and stay thankful. Eid also teaches the importance of family. Spending time with parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, and friends brings happiness. It helps everyone feel close to each other. Eid is not only about eating and having fun. It is also about sharing. Muslims give Fitrana before the Eid prayer. This money is used to help poor people. Many people also give charity, clothes, and food to those in need. When everyone shares, everyone can enjoy Eid. This makes the festival more meaningful. Festivals bring color and joy to our lives. They give us a chance to meet people, celebrate traditions, and enjoy special moments. People in Pakistan belong to different religions. Muslims celebrate Eid, Christians celebrate Christmas, Hindus celebrate Diwali, and Sikhs celebrate Vaisakhi. Pakistan is a beautiful country with people from different religions. We should respect each other's festivals. In this way, we can make our country peaceful and strong.

While Reading (page 147)

Q: What do Muslim do in Ramazan?

A: They try to be patient, kind and helpful, avoid bad habits and try to do good deeds.

Q: What is chand raat?

A: The night before Eid — people go to markets and everyone feels excited for the Eid day.

Post-reading (page 149)

Q: What are some of the customs and traditions people follow during Eid ul Fitr?

A: Cleaning homes, buying new clothes, decorating houses, going to markets on Chand Raat, greeting with 'Eid Mubarak', visiting relatives, neighbours and friends, cooking and sharing special food, and giving Fitrana before the Eid prayer.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions (page 149) — Answer the following questions

(Note on item 1: the lesson text does not state the day's order explicitly; the Eid prayer is ticked as the first activity of the Eid day, flagged.)

Story and its Types (page 150)

The main purpose of a story is to entertain, engage, and often convey a message or theme to the audience. Types: 1. Folktales and Fables — Purpose: To pass down cultural traditions, morals, and values through generations. Themes: Moal virtues, honesty, kindness, bravery, greed, evil, selfishness, hardwork. (Note: the book prints 'Moal' for 'Moral' — flagged.) 2. Adventure Stories — Purpose: To make readers excited with fun trips, brave acts and big challenges. Themes: being brave, helping, finding new things and hard work. 3. Fiction and Fantasy — Purpose: To transport readers to imaginative worlds and explore speculative concepts. Themes: magic, fun places, new inventions, un-real exciting stories.

Oral Communication Skills (pages 150-153) — Engaging in role play to perform a character: The Clever Rabbit and the Hungry Lion Characters: Rabbit (Clever and brave); Lion (Hungry and proud); Animals (Deer, Monkey, and Elephant — scared of the lion). Scene: A jungle where all animals are scared of the lion. Scene 1: The Jungle — In a big jungle, there lived a hungry lion. He was very strong and made all the animals afraid. Lion: (Roaring) I am the king of the jungle. Every day, one animal must come to me for my meal. Elephant: (Worried) Oh no! What will we do? Monkey: (Scared) We must think of something before he eats all of us. Deer: (Sad) We need a clever idea to stop him. Scene 2: The Clever Rabbit's Plan — The animals were very worried, but then a clever rabbit had a plan. Rabbit: (Smiling) Don't worry, friends. I know how to trick the lion. Narrator: The next day, the rabbit went to the lion very late. Lion: (Angry) Why are you late? I am very hungry. Rabbit: (Politely) Oh great lion, I was coming here, but another big lion stopped me! He said he is the real king. Lion: (Roaring) Another lion? Take me to him now. Scene 3: The Trick — The rabbit took the lion to a deep well and pointed inside. Rabbit: (Pointing) Look inside. He is down there. Lion: (Looking inside)

Grrr! I will fight him. The lion saw his own reflection in the water and thought it was another lion. Lion: (Jumping in) I will defeat you. Ahhh! (Falls into the well). Scene 4: The Happy Animals — The lion fell into the well and could not come out. The jungle was safe. Elephant: (Cheering) Hooray! The lion has gone. Monkey: (Clapping) The clever rabbit saved us all. Deer: (Smiling) Thank you, Rabbit. You are so smart. Rabbit: (Happily) Always use your mind instead of fear. Activity (page 153): Choose students to play the Rabbit, Lion, Elephant, Monkey and Deer. If there are more students, they can be extra jungle animals.

Vocabulary A (page 153) — Recall and write five compound words (Example: bedroom) bedroom, football, toothbrush, schoolbus, sunshine.

Vocabulary B (page 153) — Write rhyming words of the given words

Word — Rhyming words (models)

Requests, Exclamations and Commands (page 155)

1. Requests express politeness: 'Please pass me...'. 2. Exclamations express feelings: 'Wow! That was great!'. 3. Commands express orders: 'Sit down.' (Conversation between mother and son at home:) Mother: Amir, clean your room right now. (Command) Amir: Okay, Mama. (Starts cleaning his room) Mother: Good job. Now, please bring me a glass of water. (Request) Amir: Sure. (Amir Brings water) Mother: Oh dear. This water is too cold! (Exclamation) Amir: Shall I bring normal water, Mama? Mother: Yes, please. Amir: Alright. Activity C (page 155): Practice the given dialogue with expressions.

Writing — Descriptive Paragraph (page 156)

A descriptive paragraph is a type of writing that uses words to paint a picture in the reader's mind. It focuses on describing a single person, place, thing, or idea so that the reader can clearly imagine it. Sample: The garden is full of colours and life. Red roses bloom next to yellow sunflowers. Butterflies fly from flower to flower. The air smells sweet, and the soft grass tickles my feet. Birds sing in the trees, and the sun feels warm on my face. It is a beautiful and happy place. Mind Mapping: 'My School' — library, name of your school, canteen, teachers, playground, classrooms. (Note: the book's mind map prints 'libary' for 'library' — flagged.)

Activity (pages 156-157) — Write a descriptive paragraph on the given topic by following brainstorming and mind mapping technique: My Favourite Animal

Model paragraph: My favourite animal is a cat. It is small and soft, with bright eyes and a long tail. It plays with a ball and drinks milk. It sleeps on my bed and purrs softly. I love my cat very much because it is cute and friendly.

Unit 12 — Media as a Source of Learning (pages 158 to 166)

Learning Outcomes (page 158): use pre-reading strategies to predict some words that might occur in a text by looking at the picture/title; respond to text with reasons and personal opinions; participate in group discussions, presentations and debates; extend the range of common sight words; make anagrams from simple one/two syllable words; use of future tense will/shall/be going to (e.g., I will go to the library tomorrow / My parents are going to attend the concert); differentiate between phrases and sentence; write personal recount and diary/journal entries using free writing or planned writing (through the process approach — brainstorming, mind-mapping, first draft).

Pre-reading (page 158)

Q: What do you understand by the term 'Media'?

A: Media means the ways we get information and learn — books, videos, TV shows, websites and games.

Q: How do you learn new things?

A: Pupil's own answer — model: I learn new things from books, from my teachers, from educational videos and from the internet.

Lesson text (pages 159-160) — Media as a Source of Learning

Media is an amazing way for us to learn and grow. It helps us communicate and share information. This can include books, videos, TV shows, websites, and even games. Each of these can be helpful for learning and becoming a better person. Books: Books are like magical doorways that take us on great adventures and teach us new things. Storybooks have stories with pictures. Non-fiction books having facts. Reading helps us learn new words, understand different ideas, and explore new things. Videos and TV shows: Watching educational videos and shows can be a fun way to learn about science, history, nature, and much more. Internet: Internet is like a large library with vast information waiting for us to discover. Websites and online resources can help us learn about anything we are interested in. We can learn maths, language, arts and music etc by using internet. Games: We can learn from games. Puzzle games challenge our minds and adventure games help explore new things. Games can also help us learn important skills like problem-solving, creativity, and teamwork. Media is a powerful tool for learning, and by exploring books, videos, websites, and games, we can expand our knowledge, creativity, and become dedicated learners. Media plays an important role in making the world a small village.

While Reading (page 159)

Q: What are the uses of internet?

A: The internet is like a large library with vast information — websites and online resources help us learn maths, language, arts, music and anything we are interested in.

Q: How can we learn from different types of media?

A: From books we learn new words and ideas; from educational videos and TV shows we learn science, history and nature; from the internet we learn anything we are interested in; from games we learn problem-solving, creativity and teamwork.

Oral Communication Skills (page 160) — Group-discussion: Conduct a group discussion on 'Uses and Misuse of Media'

Group discussion — pupil's own discussion. Model points: Uses — learning, news, communication; Misuse — wasting time, watching harmful content, believing everything without checking.

Reading and Critical Thinking — Comprehension questions A (pages 160-161) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. What is media, and how does it help us?

A: Media includes books, videos, TV shows, websites and games; it helps us learn and grow, communicate and share information.

Q: 2. How do books help us learn and explore new things?

A: Books are like magical doorways that take us on great adventures and teach us new things; reading helps us learn new words, understand different ideas and explore new things.

Q: 3. What can we learn from watching educational videos and TV shows?

A: Science, history, nature, and much more.

Q: 4. How does the internet help us learn, and what resources can we find online?

A: The internet is like a large library with vast information; websites and online resources help us learn maths, language, arts, music and anything we are interested in.

Q: 5. How does media help us understand different cultures and places around the world?

A: Media makes the world a small village — through books, videos, websites and games we explore new things, ideas and places around the world.

Reading and Critical Thinking B (page 161) — Choose the correct option to fill in the blanks

1. Media helps us ___ and share information.

- hide
- ✓ communicate
- restrict
- stop

2. Books are described as ___ that take us on adventures.

- doors
- ✓ magical doorways
- tunnels
- tranis

3. Watching educational videos and TV shows can help us learn about ___.

- ✓ history and science
- cooking only
- sports only
- cartoons only

4. The internet is compared to a ___ library with endless information.

closed

✓ giant empty

small

5. Media plays an important role in making the world a ___ village.

big

✓ small

new

old

(Note on item 4: the lesson text says 'large library'; 'giant' is the option closest in meaning, flagged.)

Reading and Critical Thinking C (page 162) — Write 'True' if the sentence is correct and write 'False' if the sentence is incorrect ✓ True: 1. Media includes books, videos, TV shows, websites, and games.

✗ False: 2. Books do not help in learning new words and ideas.

✓ True: 3. The internet is described as a vast source of information.

✗ False: 4. Media disconnects people and isolates cultures.

✓ True: 5. Games can be a part of media that helps in learning.

Sight Words (page 162) — Read the following common sight words aloud

there, your, said, will, their, about, some, into, them, then, have, from, not, but, what, were, when. (Sight words are common words that students learn to recognise instantly without needing to sound them out.)

Vocabulary — Anagram (page 162)

An anagram is a word or phrase formed by rearranging the letters of another word or phrase, typically using all the original letters exactly once. Examples: tap — pat; note — tone; time — item.

Activity A (page 163) — Make anagrams from the given words

Word — Anagram

net — ten lime — mile top — pot

care — race

act — cat

rose — sore

Questioning Words (page 163)

Questioning words are used for asking question. Who — Person — Who is your favorite writer? What — Thing, idea, information, action — What are you holding? (thing); What are you thinking about? (idea); What kind of the pet do you have? (information); What are you doing? (action). Where — Place — Where is the nearest hospital? Why — Reason — Share everything to your mom? (as printed). When — Time — When is Sana's birthday? Whose — Possession — Whose book is this? Which — Choice — Which pair of the shoes do you like more?

Grammar — Future Tense (page 164)

Future Tense: Subject + will/shall + first form of the verb + object. Examples: 1. I will go to the library tomorrow. 2. My friends will come to my home tomorrow. 3. You will get first position in exam. 4. I shall meet you at the park at 3 p.m. Will/Shall: To form the future tense with 'will,' we use 'will' followed by the first form of the verb. 'Shall' is less commonly used in modern English for future tense but can still be used for suggestions, offers, or promises. It's mainly used with 'I' and 'we' subjects. 2. Be going to: To form the future tense with 'be going to,' use the appropriate form of the verb 'to be' (am/is/are) followed by 'going to' and then the first form of the verb. Subject + am/is/are + going to + first form of the verb + object. Examples: 1. My parents are going to attend the concert. 2. I am going to visit my uncle next weekend. 3. We are going to have a party on Saturday.

Activity (page 165) — Fill in the blanks to complete future tense

1. Tomorrow, I will visit my friend. (will/shall)

Missing word: will

2. She will help with the project. (will/shall)

Missing word: will

3. We are going to have a party. (going, going to)

Missing word: going to

4. They will go to the park. (will/shall)

Missing word: will

5. She is going to help me with the project. (going, going to)

Missing word: going to

6. Tomorrow, I am going to visit my friend. (going, going to)

Missing word: going to

(Note on item 1: 'shall' is also acceptable with 'I' by the book's own rule; 'will' is given as the modern form, flagged.)

Phrases and Sentences (pages 165-166)

Phrase: A phrase is a group of words that express a single idea or concept, but it does not contain a subject and a verb, so it does not express a complete thought or make sense on its own. Examples: 1. on the table, 2. under the bed, 3. running fast, 4. in the morning, 5. across the street. Sentence: A sentence is a group of words that contains a subject and a verb (predicate), and it expresses a complete thought or idea. Sentences can stand alone and make sense by themselves. Examples: 1. I like to play with my doll. 2. She reads books everyday. 3. They go to the park on Sundays. 4. He eats lunch at noon. 5. Birds fly in the sky. 6. The sun shines brightly.

Activity (page 166) — Read the following and write in the blank whether it is a phrase or a sentence

1. Under the table, is a phrase.

Missing word: phrase

2. She reads books, is a sentence.

Missing word: sentence

3. With my friends, is a phrase.

Missing word: phrase

4. Playing in the park, is a phrase.

Missing word: phrase

5. The cat sleeps, is a sentence.

Missing word: sentence

6. Running fast, is a phrase.

Missing word: phrase

Writing (page 166) — Follow mind mapping and brainstorming technique and write on the given topic as directed: A Family Celebration

Personal Recount: Describe a recent family celebration, covering the preparations, activities, food, and people involved. Diary/Journal Entry: Write a diary entry about the family celebration, sharing what made the day special, any surprises, and how you felt. Model personal recount: Last Sunday we celebrated my brother's birthday at home. We decorated the house with balloons and cooked special food. All our relatives came, we played games and cut a tasty cake. It was a joyful day full of love. Model diary entry: Dear Diary, today was the best day! We celebrated my brother's birthday. I was surprised by the big cake and I felt so happy with my whole family around me.

Revision 3 — Units 9 to 12 (pages 167 to 172)

Oral Communication Skills (page 167)

Conduct a group discussing on 'Girls and boys are equal'. (Group discussion — pupil's own discussion; model point: boys and girls are equal and deserve the same respect and chances.)

Reading and Critical Thinking (page 167) — Answer the following questions

Q: 1. Who noticed the rude behaviour of Sami in the story 'Boys and Girls are Equally important'?

A: Their father noticed Sami's behaviour and gently called him over.

Q: 2. Name the seasons of the year.

A: Summer, winter, spring and autumn.

Q: 3. When do we celebrate Eid-ul-Fitr?

A: After the month of Ramadan, on the first day of Shawal every year.

Vocabulary A (page 167) — Look at the given pictures and complete the spelling of the words

Picture — Word

school building — school

Reference Pages (pages 173 to 176) — Glossary and Important Verbs

Pages 173-174 carry the book's Glossary — a word list with meanings (abundantly, amazing, bark, blowing, charity, concentrate, cozy, crumbs, crucial, chirping, disgusting, diverse, drooping, dusk, dew, emphasized, excited, fostering, gently, gratitude, humble, lend a hand, littering, meals, messy, peeping, plenty, renewal, reverence, rubbed, shelter, spills, struggling, surroundings, stretched, tidy, trash, trim, tiny, tickle, overcome). Pages 175-176 carry 'Important Verbs with their three forms' — base, past and past participle forms (ask/asked/asked through write/wrote/written). These two reference tables carry no exercises, so under the standing rule for glossaries and word lists they are not reprinted as solved items here; pupils should use the tables in the textbook itself. (Judgement call recorded: the Grade 2 English notes reproduced their glossary in full, but this book's task rule states glossaries/word lists with no exercises are not reprinted as solved items — followed here.)
